SPEECH AND HEARING THERAPIST ADDRESSES P.T.A

A very interesting talk on the problems and treatment of speech and hearing defects was given by Dr. Helen king a bottle of Gentian Dittman at the February 10th Violet last Wednesday, Febmeeting of the Chugiak PTA. Dr. Dittman had recently checked the local school children for speech and hearing defects.

A report was given on the play "Harvey" and Les Fetrow expressed his appreciation for all the fine help recieved from the cast and members of the committee and stage crew. There was much discussion on projects on which the P.T.A. might give financial aid. Mrs. Ing Tofson, manager of the lunch program, announced that there are 19 free lunches being served to children unable to pay for them. An investigation will be made into the coast of lighting the school grounds & building fences at the highway. Miss Rowley, the Public Health Murse, made her annual report on the activities of the Matanuska Valley Public Health Service prizes in the different of which Chugick is a part. She reported that the area has grown to such proportions that the services of a second nurse are needed. Action is being taken on this. The school Fire Safety committee will conduct an inspection of the school. Members of this new committee are Ed Willis, Chas. Harriman and Lirs. Carl Steeby.

A gift of cups and saucers was presented to the P.T.A. by the Friendly Neighbor

Terry Charles, Bruce Pettit, Gary Merrill and Clayton Petronovich have passed preliminaries to qualify for places in the Annual Fur Rendezvous Dog Races. Preston Johnson is also taking the preliminary tests but has not yet finished the four heats necessary to qualify. The five teams are all in excellent shape this year and a good record will undoubtedly be chalked up by the local boys. A Local merchants have an opportunity to assist the racers by signing gift certificates for them for, classes and heats. Bruce Pettit has some of these blank certificates and will be glad to explain how they are to be filled out. He can be contacted at Homestead 2-5413.

FIRE TRUCK GOES TO TUDOR ROAD

The Ford Pumper which the Chugiak Volunteer Fire'Company spent many hours of labor to restore to use two years ago but which was allowed for their use by Civil Defense so long as it was in use, was deliv-ered to the Tudor Road fire depart-ment yesterday. Tudor Road now has heated space available to maintain the truck and keep it in usable condition, which under Civil Defense is required in order to have control of a vehicle.

January 5, 1959

Dear Editor: Last night I attended the P.T.A. meeting and it seems to me the people of Chugiak are once again thinking months too late. I remember when the Constitution was being put up for ratification. told many people at that tine we were putting our schools right in the middle of polit ics, but the answer I recieved from most was "the expert say this is the best constitution ever written". So, consequently most people rushed to the polls and voted for it without trying to have any part changed. I thought at the time that most of the constitution was good, and still do, but I predict we will have a few things more show up in this constitution that tall take years to correct just because we didn't think at the time. I have always maintained that if a person would give five or ten minutes of their time each day to studying their TELEVISION - RADIO- AUTO RADIO - TRANSISTOR RADIOS RECORD PLAYERS FAR NORTH TRAILER COURT MM. SCOTT HO-2-5340 public servants' records we would be able to make anwise selection in picking the people that are going to represent us in our primary elections and discard the ones that are not qualified.

I was shocked to notice at the P.T.A. meeting last night that so few people of those present seemed to know who to write to in our legislature to make our ideas known. I still don't know is I am for a Board of Education or a Director. Some of the tdeas were very good, but I still don't feel they were enough to solve our problems. Again we are going only half way. I feel an ammendment to our Constitution is needed. I also hope in the future the people of Ohugiak will close the barn door before the horse escapes.

Aden Cates Your Precinct Vice-Chairman of the Democratic Party *********

Dear Editor: In your issue of January 29th I read a notice by Mr. Allen to the people of this area that anyone employed by the state must be a registered democrat.

In your issue of February 5th Mr. Allen sets the date Feb. 13 when the democrats of this area will chose appointees to state positions or offices. I would like to ask how many democrats in this area are qualified to choose employees of the state? This is the same system that Parents & Teachers Associations of and interested citizens are he trying to get stopped as regards the schools.

Mr. Allen is trying to convince the working people of this area that if they live and work in Alaska they will have to join the party because politics will be carried into construction work and all phases of employment that the democrats can control. Of course the objective of this is to build up a political machine that just couldn't be beat. (It was done in New Jersey, the state we are patterned after.)

We may have to have a state Hatch Act to stop such practices or we may be forced into another Civil war to prove to the democrats that alavery was abolished nearly 100 years ago. By the pay scale set by the legislators we know now that the democrats are more interested in their pocket books than they are in the welfare of the state. However, we can be thankful that their term of office is only two years. Reese Tatro.

The GREEN THUMB Corner

As most Alaskan Gardners know, to enjoy home grown, vine ripened tomatoes, one must either grow them in a green-house or be content with a few vines in a sun-porch or well lighted window.

Regardless of which is used, most people start them in their homes in flats or other containers placed in windows having southern exposures. These are later transplanted into their final growing place at a later date.

The last half of February is considered the right time to set out the seeds. Maxed paper cups, or milk cartons are very satisfactory for starting the individual plants. In that way they can be later transplanted without disturbing the roots. The paper can be merely cut away.

If your greenhouse is to be heated, start the heat three or four weeksafter the seeds are sown. This will give the soil a chance to thaw out and warm up enough to be ready for the plants.

The extension Service recommends several variets of tomatoes to be grown in Alaskan greenhouses. They are:

(The above are resistant to leaf mold.)

BURPIE'S BIG EARLY HYBRID MICHIGAN-OHIO HYBRID. Early SPARTAN HYBRID.....LATE (These varieties are very sus ceptable to leaf mold)

The following varieties may be planted in the garden. They will set green tomatoes for pickling and in favorable years will yeild ripe fruit. EARLY CHATHAM

FIREBALL

SOLLEY'S EARLY DWARF HYBRID Start them indoors in early April and transplant under hot-caps in mid-June.

Transplanting of tomatoes to the greenhouse will be discussed in a later issue.

He proposes that this area be withdrawn in the nei-ghborhood of the 4 Hole Roadhouse, i.e. The 2 Story 4 Hole Roadhouse. Humasn who will be qualified to inhabit this wilderness must have come to Alaska by boat, any old kind of boat and any class, but preferrably stowaway or steerage. Anyone who has had to get out of the other 48 so badly that he will come steerage on some of the old ships that plied the waters of the North is well qualified. "Doc" Pease is very much interested in this proposal but he came over the Highway so he can't inhabit this wonderland, this Valhalla, this utopia, but he has a friend who came steerage so who knows what deals might be made ? "Doc" was ancious to know if women were to be allowed. Grubstake John says "Thy, H- - yes, how can you keep them out?" So "Doc" says, "Well, do we get the girls every s.o.b. in Fairbanks". like they did in the old days" Grubstake John thinks that as and John answers, "Why not?" The problem of money, which is always a problem, was considered by the miners, prospectors, sourdoughs, squaw men, old broken down roadhouse operators and othe true Alaskans, and all agreed that "The Problem" should be maintained strictly on

At one time Grubstake John was helping Slim Moore get his Summit Lake L odge started. Slim had to go to Fairbanks one day and John was left alone. A soldier drove up who was attached to the ACS unit who was out of both gas and money, John provide him with both and the G. Mrs. Erickson 1&20 In science we are studying about materials to use in building our homes. We are making our own Valen-tine folders. Then the room mailman will put ours in our own folder.

We are having fun learning to read some of our library books and our reading books.

Miss Witherell 5th Grade Darlene Carnahan's mother and father won a free trip to California. Darlene is going with then. We hope they have a nice trip.

We got a map of the United States and some pictures of the Alano where Davy Crocket fought. They come in real handy. Maurice Hendrickson has been absent with what we think might be a broken colar bone.

Mrs. Barr 5th Grade Christine had a canary at school. It is a fuzzy little bird.

We are each buying a valentine for another child in our class.

We learned a little monkey song in music.

We are bringing money for the March of Dimes to help children. We made some clocks and colored then too. January 23, 1959 our class had a History quiz. We each made 20 questions and answers.

Carol Dodge was the president, Phoebe Harshburn and Diana Milliman were the captains. It took two days to get the quiz finished. Photobe was absent the second day so we had to get another captain, who was Richard Jonrowe. Diana Milliman's team won-

Third & Fifth Grade News At 10:30 this morning we had a fire drill. In the hall they had a sign up saying "Blocked-Fire". But some of the 8th grade boys and girls got their coats on and they were just endangering their own life. Our class likes fire drills, but we are glad it's not a real one. We have fire drills for our own safety. When we had the fire drill Friday we all had to go out the front door because the back door was bloc ked. Richard Jonrowe was the last 5th grader out of our room. He had to close all the windows and turn out the lights then shut the door. When we got back in the room he said the lights in the hall went out by themselves but I don't know about that.

Irs. Erickson 1&20 We are already finding signs of spring out in the woods. Some of us found some pussy willows and brought them to school. We got a magnifying glass which we use in science very much, .

Lirs. Barr's Class 5 Richard Jonrowe and Danny Therry have been making a map on paper of the United States. They took our puzzel of the United States and traced it. The have the news and Capitols on them and they have them colored also. Alaska Club is the name of our club. The President is ers will nod sadly when we speak of the inconvenience of running out of fuel oil during the winter months. Usually this seems to happen in the dead of night, or on a Sunday when the plant in town is closed. It is very easy for those of us who haul our own oil to forget to check the contents of our barrels. However there are many people in our community to whom this worry is completely unknown; these are the ones who subscribe to the FAR NORTH FUEL Service. To these far-sighted families the sight of Tcm Slankers oil truck is quite familiar, as he comes by regularly to check their barrels and keep them full. This convenient, inexpensive service makes makes constant heat throughout the winter as automatic a utility as our lights or telephone. So why not relieve yourself of the chore of hauling oil, and let FAR NORTH do it for you? ******
