Mayor

Nominations for Mayor of Chugiak are beginning to pour in, Chairman of the committee Tom Slanker announced today. Ballot boxes have been located at strategic points in the community and ballots have been provided. Nominations will close on Friday, April 3rd, at which time the CBA board will collect the ballots and determine who the candidates will be

The whole election is to be conducted with a "tongue-incheek" attitude and is solely for the purpose of providing sublicity for the Spring Car-

Howeverythe man (or possibly lady) elected Mayor will have very definite and important duties, as he will be the offic ial representative of the Chugiak Spring Carnival. A suitable costume will be provided and the Mayor will be expected to make many TV appear ances and to meet the press, and most important to greet and personally conduct to Chugiak the big name personality that CBA is planning to engage to headline the big stage show. The identity of this star has not yet been released, as definite arrangements are yet to be made. However, we are assured that it will be a nationally known figure.

Mr. Slanker wishes to stress the fact that comedy will be the keynote of the entire campaign with dirty politics encouraged, and mud-slinging essential. The present Mayor of Chugiak is Vern Haik, who was elected at a Carnival several years ago and who has never been unseated. The word is that Mr. Haik has abused the privelages of his office, failed to live up to his campaign promises and in every way behaved in a most dastardly manner. He will run again and attempt to keep his job, and CBA is very anxious to have some Crusadeing individual run for Mayor and drive the crooked politician (Cont. page 3 col. 3)

FROM MODSE HORN

The Chugiek Public Library is moving this week from Moose Horn to Swanee Slopes. Mrs. Earl Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kirk and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Mickey packed and moved the books since there is no longer a space for them at Moose Horn where they have been for the past two years. Lumber for shelves at the new location has been donated by Wesley Blanchard and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lake have offered paint and labor. The library will be closed for about a week while it is being rearranged. Volunteers will be needed to care for the books, to provide heat and to otherwise help to keep the library open. Mrs. Earl Ray and Mrs. Wes Mickey are in charge of the project and any volunteers should contact them. Any books now out should be returned to Moose Horn this week. There is a fairly long list of overdue books out; the return of which will be appreciated. It is expected that the project will be in order by National Library Week which is April 12th through 18th.

TAX EXEMPTIONS

In our opinion there is no valid reason why co-operatives should be tax exempt any more than any other business enterprise.

The co-operatives may be nonprofit organizations but in expanding they are increasing Capital Gain and in anyone's language that is PROFIT. The R.E.A. is doing all in it's power to keep the power it now wields. Some move has been made by the Federal Government to reduce their functions and eventually allow the rural areas (not allow - but force) to become self supporting and do away with theis Federal Agency (we have too many of them now and perhaps others also.

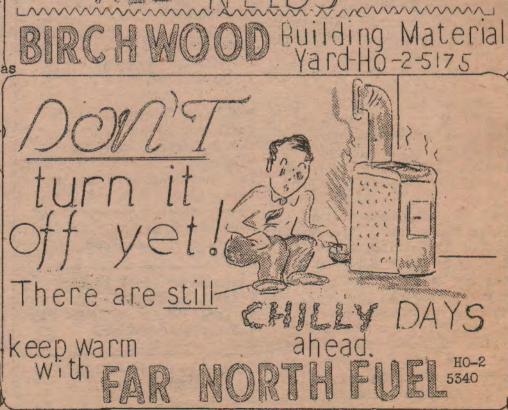

Marie & Jim McDowell, Editor There is nothing like cutting down a few Government Gravy Trains in order to reduce and balance the budget and reduce the tax burden which is growing be leaps and has been growing like a many-tentacled octupus ever since the Alphabet Days of the 1930's. While the R.E.A. works to increase it's functions for which the taxpayer must provide the co-operatives (borrowing from R.E.A.) ask for tax exemptions so that the poor taxpayer has to carry both loads of tax, the good health and long life.

one for the co-op for the R.E. A. In the steam room rocks are to keep the co-op and the R.E. A heated to a very high temperboth going. It's pretty complicated and pretty much of a pyramiding thing. The Egyptians had their slaves building the pyramids; we just have us taxpayers keeping up the alphabet era of government bureaus. It is time we wised up and let President Eisenhower balance our Nation's budget.

AND ANOTHER THING -The Valley Cooperator said we had a lobbyist in Juneau, a very capable lady, so how come we pay to send Two more people to Juneau (not one - but TWO) to do some more lobbying ? Well, yes, I'm just jealous. I'd like to see Juneau again but I still prefer it at my own expense - not YOURS.

we have been running an and for the Chugiak Wash-eteria, we have been frequently questions as the meaning & the word "SAUNA". Of course this word (pronounced saw-una) is no mystery to anyone of Finish ancestry, as the Sauna is national institution to the Finns, and their recipe for good health and long life. ature, and then water is released on them producing great clouds of steam. The cleansing power of this steam by far exceeds that of any other form of bathing, and frequent patrons of the Sauna are hunters anxious to be relieved of the grime and fatigue of days in the bush. Also the steam is an excellent method of removing wastes and poisons from the body, making suffers of colds or "overindulgence"frequent patrons also. It is the custom of the Finns to wind . up a session in the steam room by running out and rolling in the snow to close the pores. However, showers are provided at the Washeteria, making this last step unnecessary. The SAUNA is open to both men & women, and frequently whole familys will take advantage-of this unusual service.

Buds begin to appear and in When Harry Mackey of Peters Creek became temporarly stalled in Pt. Huron Mich. because of a broken trailer hitch, he and his family found their way into the Assocated press news releases. The Mackays were returning to

Cook of The M

There are many families in our community whose presence we owe to their being in the military: This is true of our Cook for April, JEANETTE WOTHERSPOON. Although originally from Alabama Jeanette and her husband Boo did not call any particular place "home" until they came to Alaska Then like so many of us they fil ed on a homesite and built a home with their own hands. As this almost invariably does, the pride of building and owning a part of this new State, has made them Alaskans by choice, and they have extended their tour of duty to themaximum allowed, and when the are finally compelled to rotate, they plan to return to their Birchwood home as soon as the Army will allow.

Everyone is glad when it is her had a lawn planted in front of turn to be hostess of the FRIEND their new home long before it LY NEIGHBOR CLUB, of which she is past secretary and current treasurer. The chore of serving refreshments for this group is one in which she takes great delight, and her able is always spread with a great variety of assorted cakes, cookies and un-usual pastries from which one has the greatest difficulty in choosing. In fact it is preparing for a party that Jeanette loves the best, and she has a wealth of unusual ecopies from which to draw on. The Wotherspoons have lived in Alaska for three years, all but the first four months of which have been in Chugiak. Bob is the NCO in charge of the carpenter shop at Ft. Richardson, and his trade as a carpenter is reflected in the construction of their new home.

The Wotherspoonshave three children, the youngest, James who is two was born in Alaska. Ramona, who is five was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., while Bobby, 4 was born in South Carolina. The Wotherspoons are very proud We were very happy when Jeanette of their Scotch ancestry, and ee Slopes, entertained her s concented to be our cook; for her Jeanette has some excellent reter from Minnesota this week. cipies for Scotch pastries. In addition to her cooking, she enjoys gardening, and it was a joke of long standing that she was eady for occupancy. Also sewing for her family is one of Jeanettes talents, and her children seldom are seen in garments that are not the produet of their mothers skillful fingers.

So once again we introduce to her neighbors one of the excellent cooks and homemakers of our community, and hope that share with us, will be welcome additions to your kitchens.

For her first recipe, Jeanette suggests this unusual way to fix a meat loaf. She claims that this will never be dry, and the vegetables that are added give it a distintive flavor.

be ready to set out when the proper time arrives.

Temperatures inside greenhouses will be as high as 800 during the day, but will go down to freezing and below at night, so some heat must be planned on. It is wise to heat the greenhouse for several nights before any planting is attempted, to make sure that the soil is sufficiently warmed. many years, but serious trouble may result with improper use of fertilizer. Too much fertilizer usually causes more difficulty than too little. Fertilization of greenhouse soil can be ccomplished by using concentrated fertilizer such as 8-24-12,8-24-8 or 10-20-10. These numbers refer to the ammount of nitrogen, & phosporus. Before planting mix 1 pints or pounds into each 100 sq. feet of ground bed or bench soil. If the soil was heavily fertilized the previous year, or a lot of manure is used, apply one half (3/4 pints the above amount. If you will be transplanting, water seedlings with a good starter solution. The soil next to the sides of the benches dries out more apidly than the center. Also, although the surface looks damp, an inch or two down it may be powder dry. So dig down frequently and keep thoroughly watered. Remember - as plants grow they use more water and have to be watered more often. If you are raising plants from Greenhouse soil can be used for seed, remember that germanating seeds are often damaged by fertilizer. No fertilizer should be added to the soil or other media in which seed is sown. Until the first true leaves are fromed the seed itself furnishes all the food the plant needs The growing media needs to furmish only moisture and support for the plants.

Transplanting of seedlings to the garden or to permanent greenhouse beds will be discussed at length in a future *HENERBERSH
