Mrs. Sterling (Delores)

the car in which she was accident on Eagle River

Hill last Friday.

According to Mr. Maley, who was driving, he was proceeding down the hill on his way to work early Friday morning, when he swung out to pass a pick-up which was moving very slowly down the hill ahead of him.

whaley said that just as he was about to pass the pick-up, it pulled in front of him as though to make a U-turn, although the driver had made no signal.

Chugiak By Pass Killed

The controversial "Chugiak By-Pass", the road would have paraleled the present Glenn Highway and thus by-passing the main part of Chugiak is no longer a threat to local property owners.

Mr. George Allen, Democratic chairman of the Chugiak precinct reported on a meeting which he attended with Governor Egan and Mr. Richard Downing, Supervisor for the Department of Public Works, at which the latter stated that the By-Pass had been killed and the proposed road would not be constructed at this time, or at any time in the foreseeable future.

Mr. Downing made this statement to Allen in the Governor's presence, and further stated that anyone desiring additional information or confirmation might obtain this from the off fice of Lee Hubbard, of the Division of Highways in Anchorage.

This proposed mond was recently discussed at an open meeting in Chugiak, with officials of the Division of Highways, and the public made their objections to the construction known in no uncertain terms.

Mr. Allen feels that this information will be very welcome to the residents of Chugiak, particularly those who have been awaiting the outcome of this issue before making property or business improvements.

Mr. Allen stated that although there is no guarantee that the issue may not be brought up again in ten or fifteen years, he assured the public that there is no danger of it being ressurected at any time during the presend administration. THE KNIK ARM COURIER

FISH STORY

Many words have been written about the Alaskan salmon, and their spawning habits, but never have we seen any reference to their being a traffic hazard.

None the less, every year about Fair time, the activities of these remarkable fish create many dangerous situations and several accidents on the Glenn H'way.

The location of this unusual circumstance is at appfoximately mile 42 where Bodenburg Creek runs along side the highway which happens to be the spawning ground of one particular run of salmon.

Every year hundreds of these bright red fish catch the eyes of passing motorists who stop, most not even bothering to pull off the pavement to observe the phenomena.

Since the highway is usually choked with cars going to or returning from the Palmer Fair, these sightseers usually cause considerable confusion and frequent dented front and rear ends, as a long line of cars tries to frantically come to a because someone up ahead has decided to stop and look at the fish.

Driving to Palmer we observ-(next col) (fish story)

ed many sets of skid marks which told their own story quite well; and on the return trip saw the state troopers investigating two cars that had obviously been involved in a mishap such as discribed earlier.

Since the fish can in no was be persuaded to desist from their facinating activities, it remains a problem as to how to keep the motorists from parking along side the road. In fact in many cases, they are not content to merely watch the fish, but will shoot at them, throw rocks at them or in other ways molest the poor creatures.

This has been creating a problem for the police for a number of years, but apparently the salmon don't seem to mind too much, as they always return every year to put on their show.

That Birchwood residents be reminded of the fact that upon changing of their mailing address, all pacakges, insured mail and registered mail will be held at the Anchorage Post Office and will be delivere ed to them only upon special instruction to their carrier.

Winter is almost upon us, and customers of Allen's Grocery and Dry Goods store at mile 23 will be happy to see the new line of parkas, warm jackets and coats.

A new shipment has arrived, ranging from light weight jackets for these frosty mornings to warm hodded parkas for those cold winter days to come.

Allens has a very full line of winter garments and some very attractive fall suits for that high school miss.

For those of you who have not completed your shopping for those school clothes, be sure to stop in and look the selection over.

CORRECTION

Mrs. Ralph Long, president of the Chugiak Health Council has requested that we print a correction to the notice in last weeks Courier.

BERRY PICKERS WARNED

JUNEAU: Berry pickers are being cautioned by the Alaska Department of Health and Welfare sanitarians againse picking wild fruit along highways or other rightor-ways which have been sprayed with herbicides for weed control.

Wild berries, like the weeds, whuld be suseptivle to poisoning by herbicides used by maintenance crews, according to information from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration office in Seattle.

While dead plants would be a warning to berry pickers if the spraying had taken place long enough prevously to kill the foliage, sanitarians said, there is a time lag between applications of the herbicide and visible results.

Effects of recent spraying might not be noticeable, yet berries in the area would be unsafe to eat they warned.

The sanitarians added that hervicides are also used to destroy growth along power lines in some areas.

The Cook of the Month

Fast cookery is the note around the kitchen of our cook for September.

As wife of the Methodist minister, Esther Hull has found that meal time is mighty uncertain around her home and sometimes may include an unexpected guest or two.

In spite of her obligations to the church and as a substitute teacher at the Chugiak school, Esther enjoys cooking, and is constantly looking for new fast easy recipies to make meal planning easier and more interesting.

Esther met her husband in their home state of Kansas where they were both going to college he studying for the ministry and she to be a teacher.

They were married while at that college, and that said Esther smiling was at that time very unusual, being during World War II, and before married couples at college had become common.

The Hulls came to Alaska a little over four years ago, to be assigned to Kenai, where they built the present church and parsonage.

Last fall they arrived in Chugiak, and made their home at the lovely log building in Eagle River that is the parsonage of the Chugiak Methodist Church.

The Tulls and their two sons Steve who is 11 and Danny 8, lost no time in becoming a part of our community.

Esther as we said earlier is fulfilling her teaching training as a substitute at the Chugiak school. (next col.)

In local organizations, she has had not had time for too many other then the PTA, and the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church of which she is the Secretary of Spiritual Life for the local group, and Secretary for Promotion on the State level.

Esther enjoys reading and creative writing and modestly admits that she has had several pieces that she has written published.

We know that you will enjoy sharing some of Esther's recipies, and her fast cookery will be a boon to many other hurried housewifes.

WELCOME TEA PLANNED

A welcome tea for 'all the teachers at the Chugiak School is planned in conjunction with the first PTA meeting of the year.

Patterned after the one held last year, this should provide a very pleasant way to introduce the teachers, both new and old to the parents of their pupils.

PTA activities for the coming year will be discussed and chairmen chosen for the farious committees, as well as appointment of the room mothers.

All parents are urged to attend, and get the Chugiak Parent Teachers Association off to a flying start.

The meeting will take place on Tuesday, September 13th at the Multi Purpose room in the primary building at 8 pm.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Kirk have returned to Moose Pass after spending the summer in Chugiak. Andy is the principal of the Moose Pass School.

Mr. and Mrs. Mm. Graves and their two children have returned to their home in Phoenix Arizona. The Graves have been visiting with Mrs. Graves parents Mr. and Mrs. Allen Davis of Eagle River.

Leon Hartman came up from Cordova where he is working to spend the Labor Day weekend with his family at mile 22.

Rev. Wayne Hull of the Chugials Methodist Church is spending his vacation enjoying the hunting season. He has recently returned from a week up on the Denali Highway with a Caribou and is planning to go down on the Kanai peninsular after a moose and perhaps a goat. DELINQUENT LIGHT BILLS
SUBJECT TO PENALTY

Fallure of many NEA subscriber to pay their light bill by the 10th of each month may result in the levying of a two dollar penalty.

This would be in addition to the established field call collection and to reconnection fee.

There has been a widespread belief that bills need not be paid befor the 15th of the month, fostered no doubt by the present system under which five days are allowed before a list of delinquents is sent out for disconnect.

The result of this misunderstanding has been to upset the schedule in billing and accounting and has concentrated a higher than normal work boad during the final days of the billing period.

Mason LaZelle, manager of the Coop stated that should the experience during the August billing and collection period (payments to be made in September) does not indicate a substantial reversal of this trend, the $2 penalty will be put into effect.

This will apply to September usage (payable by the 10th of October.)

Self red accounts are not considered paid in full unless the reading accompanies the remittance.

Members of the Matanuska Valley Sportsmen enjoyed a movie on King Crap fishery, following the process from the ocean bottom to the dinner table.

The group, which is planning their annual game dinner received many helpful suggestions on serving this Alaskan delicacy.

The Sportsman this year had decided against holding their popular exhibit of Alaskan game trophy's at the State Fair, due to the lack of a suitable building.

" Will the menus of the school hot lunch program be publishes this year? " (Next col.)

(question box)

Undecided as yet. Mrs. Lorene Tofson, manager of the school lunch room stated that the advantages of publisbing the menu are not too clear.

She feels that in some cases knowing in advance what foods are to be served may tend to predjudice some youngsters against the meal.

However, she feels that if the majority of the parents prefer(next col)

This question will be brought up at the next Parent Teachers Association meeting, and should the parents decide that they would like to have the menus published, then they will appear in subsequent issues of the Courier.

FLOODING DANGER

Some time ago we promised to print some of the causes of flodding in all fired heaters, one of the chief causes of fires.

With many of us turning on heaters which have stood idle all summer, these are some of the things to be on the lookout for (next col) (Flooding)

1. When stove or heater is first started, the carbureter is opened too mch.

2. When the carburetor setting is changed from a lower to a higher setting. Heater should be observed carefully for some time after such a change is made to assure that flooding is not occurring.

3. When stack soots up there will not be enough draft for proper hurning in the fire pot andflooding will occur.

4. Putting too large a carburetor on a smaller type heater.

5. Putting kerosene or gasoline in the oil tank. This should never be done.

6. The correct amount of oil in the fire pot is just enough to vover the bottom of the fire pot. As the fire pot becomes hotter, after starting more oil can be burned as it will vaporize faster.

7. Where fuel oil is stored outside of buildings, outside temperatures will affect the rate of flow. In cold weather the oil will blow slower than in hot weather.

This means that the carburetor setting will be higher for the same amount of heat during cold weather than in not weather.

8. Children playing with carburetors have unwittingly (cont page 9 col 1)

The moose, which were flown to Juneau last. June and cared for by the children and counselors of Minfield Home since that time, have been successfully transported to Berner's Bay and released, it was reported by James W. Brooks, Alaska Dept. of Fish and Game.

Brooks, Chief of the Division of Game, said that six animals, the surviving members of eleven which were brought from Anchorage aboard an Alaska Air National Guand cargo plane, made the trip last week.

They were walked aboard a small scow at Lean Point in front of the Minfield home by Wm. usentiz, Sam Nickel and Hugh Hughely, counselors who had become expert moose handlers this summer.

The Division of Protection's motor vessel Teal towed the scow to the release area, where outboards pushed the scow ashore.

The animals were enticed off the barge by Busenitz, and immediately began feeding in their new home, enjoying their freedom.

Gil Eide of the Territorial Sportsman, Inc. provided assistance in the move. The Territorial Sportsmen contributed a share of the funds for raising the moose during the summer, as well as providing much of the labor involved in repairing the enclosure at Minfield Home, which they built two years ago for a similar project by the U.S. Fish and Mildlife Service.

The present transplant was designed to boost the rate of increase of the previous stocking.

The six new animals will join at least three claves horn this spring at Berner's Bay.
