MOVE TO INCORPORATE ALL CHUGIAK

CHUGIAK: The OCCHS Committee is investigating a contract executed between the State Board of Education and the Anchorage Independent School District.

This fact was brought to light at a meeting of the Executive Committee at the home of publicity Chairman Bill Lowe, on Monday evening on August 21, 1961.

The contract allegedly commits all funds claimed for out-of-district students under Public Law 815.

The committee has sent an official inquiry to Dr. Theo Norby, Commissioner of Education,

IN THE FOREGROUND IS THE LARGE 50# EXTRACTOR. TO THE RIGHT MAY BE SEEN TWO OF THE FIFTEEN AUTOMATIC WASHING MACHINES WHICH ARE AVAILABLE AT THIS NEW COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC COIN OPERATED SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY.

CHUGIAK: The advisability of incorporating the Chugiak Area into either a 3rd or 4th class city will be the subject to be discussed at a public meeting to be held on Wednesday, August 30th at the Chugiak VFW Hall at 8pm.

This move is in keeping with the trend of small communities throughout the state which have been incorporating into cities in order to maintain representation under the cominc borough system.

George Allen, of Peters Creek has arranged for speakers who are informed on the legal aspect of this undertaking to be on hand

RE-APPORTIONMENT UNLIKELY TO AFFECT CHUGIAK

ANCHORAGE: George Allen of Chugiak, who attended a public hearing of Gov. Egans Reapportionment Advisory Board at the Loussac Library, Monday, stated that it was unlikely that the Chugiak area would be affected by any re-districting.

Allen told the group that he did not feel that the residents of the Chugiak area had been sufficiently advised on the subject, and felt that he as an individual was not in any position to speak for the community.

Since the final report is not to be submitted to Gov. Egan before the 19th of September, Allen felt that the

SHOPPING IN CHUGIAK

Working mothers who are shopping in Chugiak for competent child care, can if they hurry find this at the soon to be re-opened Happy Time Nursery.

Operated by Mrs. Mildred of Eagle River, the Happy Time Nursery offers a planned program of Child Care, as opposed to the usual "baby-sitting".

Mrs. Lloyd is trained in this work, and schedules a day carefully balanced with a kindergarden type program in the morning, with "cookie breaks", rest periods and a hot lunch all included in the modest weekly rate.

In order to keep her group down to a size to which she can easily devote her full attention, Mrs. Lloyd is limiting the number she will enroll to six, so anyone interested will have to hurry, or she may be "full up!"

Mrs. Lloyd does not operate the nursery in her home, but in a lovely log building which she rents specially for this purpose.

The Happy Time Nursery is located in the rear log house on the Meadow Creek, just one quarter of a mile down the Eagle River Homestead Road.

Mrs. Lloyd will be there daily to accept enrollment from now until the nursery will open on the September 5th.

This is a wonderful opportunity, and there will be many takers, so if you are interested, you'd better hurry!

FORGIVE US OUR TRESPASSES!

Each year as hunting season comes, Alaskans are discovering changes that have come over some of their favorite hunting areas.

What last year may have been trackless wilderness, may this year have suddenly become part of a homestead and be bristling with "No Trespassing" signs.

Many hunters resent this being excluded from what they have considered their own private hunting grounds, and go after their moose anyway, regardless of the signs.

Here comes the unpleasantness. The homesteader has every right to post his land and keep hunters away. Any moose that happen to be on his land he regards as his moose, and in some cases unhappy hunters have discovered that a determined homesteader can legally lay claim to a moose shot on their land and have actually confiscated the meat.

Therefore, inconvenient as it may be, hunters must begin going farther and farther away from local areas to find unposted hunting grounds.

Many of the local farmers and homesteaders here and in the Matanuska Valley have indicated that this year they will be playing for keeps, and intend to prosecute all trespassers to the full extent of the law.

It therefore behoves all hunters to remember this when they are tempted to ignore those "No Hunting" signs.

It is very likely that the owner of the property will not "Forgive us our Trespasses!"

VOLKSWAGON TOTAL WRECK

EAGLE RIVER: A black VW Sedan, belonging to Bob French of Moosehorn was a total wreck, after leaving the road out of control and rolling over five times at mile 15 last week.

The car was being driven at the time by Tom Welch, who also works at Moosehorn.

Welch claimed that he had to swing wide to avoid a car towing a boat trailer which had come over the line into his lane. His wheels got into the soft gravel on the road shoulder and he lost control of the car.

COOK FOR AUGUST
SUE AUBREY

This recipe is for the housewife who would like to treat her family to fragrant homemade bread, but dislikes the task of kneading the dough.

This high, crusty, even-textured loaf is extra moist, and does not require even a hint of kneading.

STREAMLINED WHITE BREAD

- 1 1/2 cups warm (not hot) water
- 1 pkg dry yeast
- 2 tbs salt
- 2 tbs soft shortening
- 2 tbs sugar
- 3 cups sifted flour

DISSOLVE yeast and water in mixing bowl

ADD shortening, salt, sugar and half of flour

BEAT for 2 minutes at medium mixer speed, or 300 strokes by hand

SCRAPE sides and bottom of bowl frequently

ADD remainder of flour

BLEND with spoon until smooth

SCRAPE batter from sides of bowl

COVER with cloth

LET rise in warm place (85°) for about 30 minutes

BEAT batter about 25 strokes and spread in greased loaf pan

SMOOTH top and pat into shape with floured hand

ALLOW to rise until batter reaches 1/4 inch from top of pan (about 40 minutes)

BAKE 375° oven for 45 to 50 min

REMOVE from pan

PLACE on rack

BRUSH top with melted butter or shortening (yield 1 loaf)

DIDN'T YOU GET A PHONE BOOK?

CHUGIAK: Numerous subscribers in the Chugiak area have been complaining that they have not received their copy of the July 1961 edition of the Matanuska Telephone Association Directory.

According to the MTA these directories were mailed to all subscribers around the first of August.

Anyone who has not received their copy is requested to notify the MTA of this fact and their copy will be mailed to them.

FOLDER ON ALASKAN TRAVEL AVAILABLE

JUNEAU: A small folder listing all of Alaska's airlines, cruise ship companies, bus services, railroads, riverboats and sightseeing carriers is available from the Alaska Division of Tourism, Juneau.

Name of the folder is Alaska Travelers List of Carriers and Transportation Companies.

There is no charge for the folder.

They received their lucky copy complimentary from the COURIER as part of the "Welcome Aboard!" policy which the Courier extends to all new residents of Chugiak.

There is a free subscription to the Courier awarded each week. The lucky coupon is enclosed in only one copy of the paper. Have you checked to see if this is the one?

TEEN-AGERS TO SUPPORT ACCA

EAGLE RIVER: All the teenagers in the Chugiak area are invited to a meeting to be held at the home of Dave Burns, on Coronado Rd. at mile 14 1/2 on Wednesday August 23rd, (today).

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss plans for assisting in the fund raising campaign for the Alaska Crippled Children's Association.

This campaign is being carried on throughout the Anchorage area by other groups of young people.

Following the meeting there will be a dance.

KIDS TO HAVE DAY AT FAIR

PALMER: All youngsters in the valley are invited to register for the events to be held on "Kids Day", Friday September 1, the opening day of the Alaska State Fair Inc. 1961.

"Kids Day" will feature a variety of races and events for all children aged five to 12 years, according to Al Metz Program Chairman.

LOCAL HUNTERS ASSIST IN SEARCH

Two Chugiak moose hunters Bruce Robinson and Ed Bellringer, both of Peters Creek, assisted in the air search for the plane John Cox of Anchorage which was reported missing last Saturday.

Both men had flown over to area in which Cox's plane had disappeared for the purpose of moose hunting. When they learned of the missing aircraft, they abandoned their hunt in favor of participating in the search.

Although they were not the first to sight the plane in which Cox died, they did locate it.

Cox, who was the father of eleven adopted children, was known to a number of the residents of Chugiak, having worked in the area in his capacity as a well driller. Cox had most recently been engaged in (next col.)

drilling a well at the Methodist Birchwood Camp.

He had temporarily suspended his work on that well to leave on the fatal hunt.

TEX EXEMPTION FOR NATIONAL GUARD EMPLOYEES

WASHINGTON DC: Representative Ralph J. Rivers (D-Alaska) has introduced a bill to amend the internal Revenue Code of 1954 to exempt from taxation cost of living allowances received by caretakers and clerks employed by the National Guard outside of the continental United States or in Alaska.

The Legislation is designed to correct a situation which developed with statehood for Alaska whereby National Guard employees were not granted the tax exemption on their cost of living allowance as were other federal civilian employees.

NO CHANGE IN COMPLETION DATE OF NEW SCHOOL

EAGLE RIVER: Superintendent E.C. Smith, of Chugiak Schools (next col.)

(school date)

stated that October 1st is still the date at which the Eagle River School is scheduled to be completed.

When in service the new school will employ ten teachers, as well as a full time principal.

STEVE HULL RECEIVES ORDER OF THE ARROW

CAMP GORSUCH: Twelve year old Steve Hull, son of Rev. and Mrs. Wayne Hull of the Chugiak Methodist Church, passed his initiation and awarded the Order of the Arrow, last Friday at Camp Gorsuch on Mirror Lake.

Steve was the youngest of a group of initiates which included scouts from the Anchorage, Palmer and Kodiak Areas, some of who were adults.

The Order of the Arrow is one of the highest degrees in scouting, and the initiation is based on the ordeals which young indian braves had to undergo.

To be eligible a boy must be a first class scout and indicate an interest before he is allowed to try to qualify and then be nominated by his troop.

Re-opening - Sept. 5th.

Tell it to Martha!

By: MARTHA COUNCIL

Dear Martha,

I have a very delicate problem. A lady I know is on the same party line as I am. If she should decide that she wants to call me, and happens to hear my voice on the line when she picks up the phone, she will just butt right in to the conversation without even waiting to find out who I am talking to. Most of the time it is a mutual acquaintance, so it's all right, but several times it has been when I have had a business call, and it has been very embarrassing.

I don't want to hurt her feelings, but I wish I could get her to stop this. Sometimes when she cuts in on a conversation with someone she knows, she just takes over and I finally hang up and let her have it.

Can you suggest anything for me to do?

.....Sad Sue

Dear Sue,

If everyone followed the same system that your friend uses, we would have chaos on our party line for sure.

The phone company states that interference with subscribers on the party line can end up with having the guilty one's phone removed.

You might try to tactfully call her back after one of her interruptions, and say that you enjoy talking to her, but would prefer to speak to her privately, not when a third party is on the line.

If she still persists, the only thing left for you to do is either decide to put up with it if you wish to keep her friendship, or call the phone company and register a complaint and let them handle it.

Sincerely,

MARTHA COUNCIL

Elliot's car plowed into the rear of a 54 Ford Ranch Wagon driven by George E. Moore of Eagle River, as the latter was making a left hand turn into the Chugiak Goat farm at mile 18.

With Moore was his wife and two small children.

With the exception of minor bruises and being shaken up the Moore family was uninjured. A passing motorist took the injured Elliot to the office of Dr. Marshall Simpson in Eagle River, where stitches were taken in his head.

He was later released.

banks. Most folks take pictures of their cars parked near a sign there proclaiming "End O'the Road".(next col.)

Most, too, stay long enough to see genuine Indian Fish Wheels literally scooping fish from the Yukon into boxes.

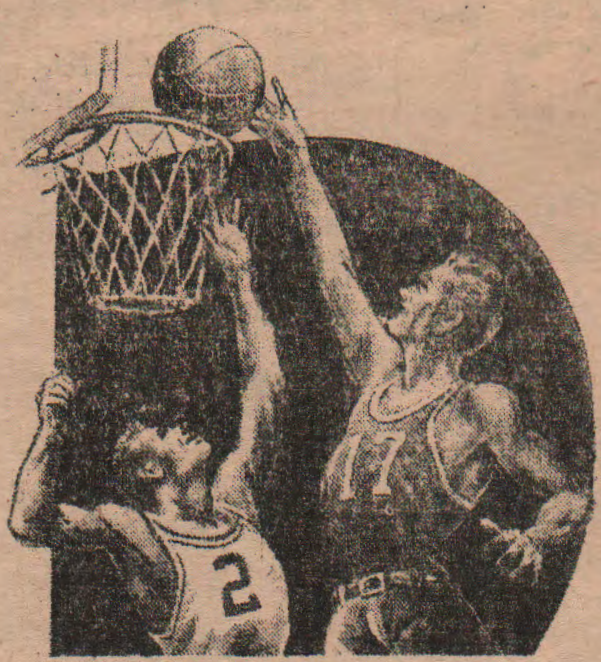

And almost all visitors take time to walk thru the log cabin village to chat with the hospitable residents and view dozens of husky dog teams.

A cleared area provides ample space for campers, trailers and tents beside the Yukon, two miles wide in the main channel at this point.

En route the Steese Highway travels some of the most breathtaking scenery in the 49th State, including 3,880 foot high Eagle Summit.

En route too the traveller can stop for a day or the month at a hot springs resort where two mineral pools--one outside and one inside--provide warmed healthful swimming; where a large modern hotel and several log cabins provide pleasant comfortable accommodations; and where visitors can hit in the woods, pan for gold like sourdoughs, or just relax in the 24 hours a day Arctic summer sun.

There's good fishing along Alaska's Steese Highway, unexcelled camera opportunities, and friendly courteous Alaskans and just plain Northern hospitality. *****

Where 'performance' counts...

Matanuska Electric Association

Rural Electrics were organized to bring electric service to people and to areas unable to get this service any other way. Through cooperation and a lot of hard work, the lines were built to bring in this much-needed electricity--at rates the member-consumers could afford to pay!

By careful management and a conscientious dedication to the job, the Rural Electrics were able to bring service to their members at a fraction of the costs which had been estimated -- serving thinly populated areas, with few customers to the mile . . . providing a sort of "yardstick" for the measurement of electric power distribution costs everywhere . . .

Rural Electrics are the source of dependable, low-cost electric power for rural areas . . . where rural power performance is required--you can count on the Rural Electrics! . . .

personal necessities for the refugees, currently fleeing at the rate of nearly 2,000 a day.

Total aid in the first six months of 1961 was $329,994 and the rate has risen sharply since July 1. Especially in need, according to Johnson, are the babies and small children.

He described the Marienfields refugee center in West Berlin as crowded with young parents with babies in their arms, reflecting the large number of refugees in their twenties and thirties. "Most had to flee," he said, "with very few belongings and are sorely in need of food and clothing for their babies."

CARE Executive Director Richard W. Reuter said contributions from the public would be welcomed to cover the cost of relief distributions. They should be marked "Berlin refugees."

In the Northwest area, contributions can be sent to the CARE Office, Frederick & Nelson, Seattle.

In Alaska, the Northern Commercial Co. in Anchorage is the local CARE outlet.
