Civil Defense Team Being Recruited

EAGLE RIVER: Ray Henriches, Civil Defense Director for the Chugiak Area, has asked for volunteers to head up a team of Civil Defense workers for this area.

At a meeting held last Thursday night, Ray and a number of other interested citizens outlined a program for setting up a Civil Defense organization for Chugiak.

"President Kennedy has recently asked congress for a large spending program for the building up of the Civil Defense", said Henriches, "It is very important that each community organize and prepare itself for any emergency that may arise.

LET'S FACE IT! This area is totally untrained and unprepared for any emergency CHUGIAK: E.C. Smith, Superintendent of Chugiak Schools, announced today double shifts would be held this fall until the completion of the school at Eagle River.

Smith said that the shifts would be divided according to the residence of the students, with the children from Eagle River attending the afternoon session and those from the rest of Chugiak attending in the morning.

Smith explained that this would cause the least amount of disruption when the Eagle River children were transferred upon the completion of that school. It would also be the most satisfactory arrangement with respect to bus transportation.

The exact division of the two areas has not yet been determined, Smith said, however the township line at mile 15 would be considered arbitrarily, but the actual balance of population would be the final deciding factor.

In order to obtain information which would determine which students would be assigned to either group; a pre-registration would be held late in August, at a date to be announced.

Smith stated that students would attend the school in their own area, and there would be no shifting of students from one area to the other to balance out classes as was at one time considered.

Smith regretted the necessity for the double shifts,

SCHOOL IMPACT FUNDS
EXPIRED

WASHINGTON DC: Congressman
Ralph J. Rivers (D Alaska) has introduced a bill to extend for three years the temporary provisions of the Federally impacted school area laws. These laws, commonly referred to as P.L. 815 and P.L.
874, embody a long-standing program of federal contributions to public schools
but which expired on July 1st of this year.

Members of congress have looked to the General Federal Aid to Education bill now before congress to extend impacted area funds provisions. It is now apparent that unless there is a breaking of the existing deadlock in regard to the general bill separate legislation must be enacted at this session to accomplish that purpose.

In commenting upon his bill, Rivers stated, "with many children from the military bases and other Federal installations receiving public schooling in Alaska, the State and its impacted school districts have been recipients of such Federal contributions for an aggregate of over $7 million per year.

The same is true in a greater or less degree of 318 of the (next col.)

nations 437 congressional districts.

With impacted schools throughout the country having already budgeted for the coming school year in reliance upon the extension of P. 815 and P. 847, a critical situation is impending.

Lest the deadlock on the main bill not be broken and the bill enacted, I have introduced a simple measure to extend PL 815 and PL 874.

Several of my colleagues have done likewise. With the impact money at stake, pressures are building up which result in one solution or the other, and my bill is designed to add to the pressure."

SHOPPING IN CHUGIAK

A visit to the Eagle

will convince you that Ray Henriches has a rainbow by the tail.

In fact the 350 shades of Kem-Tone Paint alone rival the rainbow many times over.

Ray has carried Sherman and Williams products in the past in a more or less limited amount, but now he has installed a new paint department which will carry all of paints, stains and related products manufactured by that company.

No matter what decorating
project one may be planning inside, outside, masonry, .
wood or metal; Sherman and Williams makes a paint specially designed for it and the Eagle River Hardware carries it.

Anyone who has not yet tried any of the new miracle quick drying long lasting paints that are now available, owes it to himself to go down to the Eagle River Hardware and check them before tackling any painting project. And while you are down there, ask Ray for a

Around her throat was a tear drop pearl necklace, a gift from her mother. Her something old was a handmade lace handkerchief which had been carried by both her great grandmother and her grand mother. White gloves and white satin slippers completed her outfit. For her bridal boquet, she carried white carnations with lavender sweet peas, backed by lavender lace.

Miss Tofson wore lavender nylon organza over taf-feta, with matching hat and white gloves and carried a pink and lavender boquet.

GOVERNOR PROTESTS

CHANGE IN POTATO SPECS.

JUNEAU: Governor William A. Egan today protested a recent change in military specifications for Alaska potato procurement and asked that it be reconsidered.

In a telegram to J.J. Weiss, of the Military Subsistence Agency's Purchasing Division in Chicago, the Governor said the change in specifications "will increase cost to the military and work an unnecc- (next col.)

(potatoes)

essary hardship on Alaska growers who have satisfactorily supplied the military with quality potatoes for the past 20 years."

Egan said the decision of the military also "represents a threat to other Alaska growers of agricultural products working hard to expand the State's agricultural productivity", he added.

"In view of the long record of Alaskans in supplying military with quality products at competitive prizes, I see no reason for discrimination shown in the recent change of specifications. I sincerely hope the decision will be reversed for bidding on September-October requirements."

The specification change involves an additional requirement that potatoes must be of "moderately skinned or better" quality. Alaska potatoes have tender skins when newly harvested, and would find it difficult to meet the added apecification.

"MUG-UP" AT TOK

TOK: The magic word at Tok Alaska, is "Mug-Up", an honored sourdough Alaska expression meaning a hot cup of coffee combined with warm Northern friendship.

It's always mug-up time at the State of Alaska's newly established Hospitality Center at Tok Junction, just 30 miles inside the Alaska border on the Alaska Highway.

The center is a brand new mobile structure where exhibits, photo murals, and folders provide visitors with a preview of their trip through the 49th State.

Alaskans Fred and Maxine Bearden keep the coffee pot brewing from 8am until 10pm each day. They're there to answer any questions which visiting motorists have regarding what to do and see in Alaska.

There's no charge, naturally, for the coffee or the information. All the Beardens ask of a traveller is that he stop on his way out of Alaska for a farewell chat and another cup of coffee.

BOY INJURED ON MOTOR CYCLE TRACK

EAGLE RIVER: A nine year old boy was injured when he fell from a borrowed bicycle which he was attempting to ride over the rough terrain of the track which the Last Frontier Motor cycle Club maintains at mile 14 1/2.

The unconscious boy was found lying on the track and help was sought to get him to the doctor.

Art Johnson, who had been summoned to help, recognized the boy as Gary Olmeim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Olmeim of Coronado Rd. in Eagle River.

The boy was taken to the office of Dr. Marshall Simpson, where he was treated and then taken home. He did not require hospitalization.

MATANUSKA ELECTRIC Assn.

Life in the farm and rural homes of today is vastly different from that of just one short generation ago . . . and chiefly responsible for much of the growth and development of rural areas, and a better way of life for the people, are the Rural Electric Systems which were organized to bring electricity to Member-Owners who could get this service no other way.

But the blessings of this great program are not limited to the Members of the Rural Electric Systems. All Americans live better because of the higher quality food and fiber, produced economically with the help of low-cost electricity available in rural areas . . . and everybody benefits, directly or indirectly, from the vast market for goods and services created by this 20th Century miracle — Rural Electrification!

Tell it to Martha!

By: MARTHA COUNCIL

Dear Martha,

The lady who I baby-sit for sometimes asks me to come early and feed her children their dinner, so she and her husband can go out to eat.

She always asks me to have dinner with the kids.

The thing that I don't like is that she always subtracts a dollar from my baby-sitting pay because she says she feels that is what the dinner I ate was worth.

Now Martha, I don't really care to eat at her house, I would prefer to get paid the full amount. I can eat at home free.

How can I tell her this without making her mad?

....Gypped

Dear Gypped,

I think it very unfair for this lady to charge you for having dinner with her children while you supervise their meal. In fact having to oversee the feeding of small children should call for a higher fee on your part,

(next col.)

However, to keep peace and still put a stop to this practice, I would suggest that you always make it a point to eat at home before going over to her house.

Just tell her that you had an early dinner

In this way you can devote your full attention to feeding the children, and will probably have enjoyed your own dinner more.

Sincerely,

Martha Council.

Obedience Training Club of Anchorage.

Mrs. Richard Burg, assistant trainer said that this interesting exercise is open to the public, and invites all interested persons to come down. In the event of rain, the exercises will be held in the Carnival Hall.

Mrs. Burg said that such interest has been shown in the current classes, that she has enough enrollment to start another course when this one is completed.

She also plans to hold an advanced course in addition to a novice class such as this one.

The exercises begin at 7:30, just inside the Carnival grounds main gate.

Besse, who operates Besse's Beauty Shop in the Eagle River Shopping Center, went outside last winter for medical treatment.

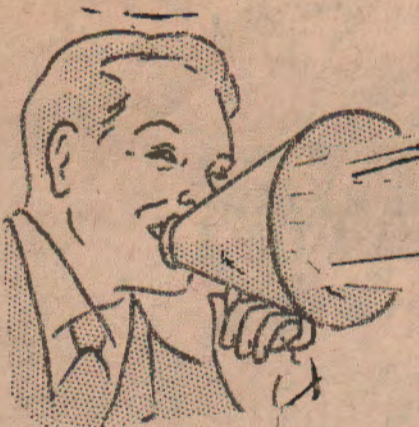

While outside Besse stayed with her mother, Mrs. Anna Marsoun of Santa Ana California, and with her sisters Mrs. Blanche Babbitt and Mrs. Mildred Henderson and with her sister-in-law, Mrs. H.S. Tucke.

Besse's daughter, Mrs. Ray Arwady, said that her mother is much improved and plans to return to work at the beauty shop in September.

KATMAI TEAM LOSES SEMIFINALS

By Liz Harriman

ANCHORAGE: Aug 2: Spenard came out ahead after 7 innings with a score of 8 to 7 in a real heart breaker.

Both teams were fighting hard to win this game, since it meant a chance at the title of 1961 State Champions.

Both teams scored 1 run in the first innint to get the game off to a tense start.

Katmai chalked up 4 runs in the top of the second with Spenard unable to score.

The bottom of the 5th was full of excitement - Spenard was up at bat with 2 outs, bases loaded and two strikes called on Spenard Alan Pledger, when he sent the ball over the outfield fence for a 4 run homer, putting them ahead one run.

Katmai came back in the 6th with a 2 run homer by Danny Shilz, to regain the lead, only to have the game tied up after Spenards turn at bat.

An overtime 7th inning was necessary, and the outcome is now history--Katmai was unable to score in the top half, (next col.)

but Spenard got the bases loaded due to an error and two walks.

The third walk by pitcher Tommy Branch forced in the winning run which ended the most exciting, frustrating and heart-breaking game of the season.

AUGUST 3: FAIRVANKS vs KATMAI IN CONSOLATION GAME

Manager Bud Fillmore discovered a new pitcher at this late date in Jim Boroughs, who did a magnificent job in both pitching and fielding the ball.

Jim was used as a catcher in Wednesday's game, which was another new position for him and me he played exceptionally well.

Watch this boy in the Pony League next year!

Katmai was matched against Fairbanks in a playoff between losers in the "Winners Bracket", and lost 6 to 4.

The boys played a good game, but their hearts just didn't seem to be in it.

This game eliminated Katmai from further competition.

IT HAS BEEN A GENUINE PLEASURE TO REPORT YOUR EXPLOITS IN THE COURIER.
