FUN FESTIVAL IS BEST EVER OCHS CHAIRMAN LAUDS EGAN

EAGLE RIVER: The third annual Fun Festival, held by the Chugiak PTA at the Eagle River School last Saturday proved to be the most successful one.

PTA President Ed Willis reported that a gross of $985.03 was taken in.

Willis said that approximately $519 of this was profit.

Willis went on to explain that the expenses were higher than in previous years due to the laying in of a stockpile of prizes and equipment, which would be used in future events.

Al Watkins, Chairman of the Festival also expressed his pleasure at the success of the event, and asked that public thanks be offered to the many people who participated in the planning, who worked there Saturday, who contributed baked goods and

DRESS FACTORY OPENS HERE

OLD CHUGIAK: Mr. and Mrs. Noah Crotwell, recently arrived here from Pomona California have opened a dress factory in the building formerly occupied by the Parksville Store at mile 18.

The Crotwells are specializing in little girls dresses sizes one through eight, and the clothes will be on sale at the mile 18 factory outlet store.

Mrs. Crotwell (Juanita) designs all of the clothes herself and uses only the highest quality drip dry cottons and a few nylon numbers.

Sold under the label of "Nita-Kay" the dresses are modestly priced, most of the smaller sizes being under five dollars.

CHUGIAK: Ed Willis, recently returned from a trip to Juneau on behalf of Operation Chugiak High School, spoke highly on the efforts of Governor Egan toward obtaining a high school for this area.

In a report of his trip to the members of OCHS, Willis said:

"Today every citizen of the Chugiak-Eagle River Area can pause a moment and reflect upon the hard fought success that "Operation Chugiak High School" has had to date as we end the first phase of the operation and pre-

FUNDS SOUGHT FOR 2ND TEAM*INCUMBENTS REELECTED TO MEA BOARD

PALMER: Robert L. Tucker and Walter Mayr (incumbents) were reelected to the MEA Board of Directors at the annual membership meeting held at the Central School Gym in Palmer last Saturday.

Tucker was elected on the second ballot, and Mayr on the third.

Virgil Flint one of the Chugiak candidates had only three votes less than Mayr in the final tally.

Both of the men elected were from Sutton.

An excellent representation from the Chugiak area was evident by the large percentage of local people who won door prizes.

Among the lucky ones was Steve Lund of Birchwood, who won the Lawn Glo Lamp, Malcolm Fore

CHUGIAK: Max Pyles, manager for the Chugiak Little League team announced that he is attempting to raise funds to sponsor a second team from this area.

Pyles stated that the Katmai League, of which Chugiak is a member has opened up a position for one more team, and Chugiak has been offered the slot provided they can come up with the entry fee by the end of this week.

Pyles said that he has succeeded in raising $100 of the $200 needed from donations from individuals and business establishments in the area. However, he added that there is very little time left to raise the remainder.

He has asked that any

Dear Editor:

While at the PTA Carnival, I noticed several little children holding puppies and cats. When I met my neighbors 7 year old girl with such a tiny pup clutched in her arms and her brother with a very young kitten, I got curious and proceeded to look into this situation.

I learned that these animals were being sold at the country store. I learned later that children were fibbing to their parents and claiming the animals were being given as prizes for winning games, for fear that their parents would never forgive them. I have heard of similar cases (cont page 3 col 3)

MY BUROUGH

By. Jesse E. Jooten

I would like to introduce you to my borough. One of the first principles of government is that all powers of government are derived from the people. Where you have people you have government. Therefore you have to have people to administer government to.

Where there are people there are problems. In order to solve problems people give up their individual rights to solve these problems to a group or body to solve their problems for them.

When the majority of the people have the same problem to be solved, they find it more economical to solve them through a governing body, than each one solving his own problems.

This banding together to solve problems of common nature is the beginning of government.

Factors which make it easier to form a workable government that is economical are; (1) A distinct geographical community. (2) A community socially and economically related. (3) A community that has a transportation medium, such as roads, streets and freeways. (4) A community that has population sufficiently large to provide economic base to support its government.

Most Alaskan communities are distinct areas composed of small cities with an area immediately surrounding these cities. The Cook Inlet Basin

I thoroughly detest such handling of living creatures, not only because I think of all animals very highly and own many pets, but too, strictly from the humane point of view, it is a sin and most likely against the law of the S.P.C.A. Both the cats and the pups looked as if they were much too young to be taken away from their mothers.

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all our friends from the Peters Creek, Birchwood, Chugiak and Eagle River areas who made the trip to Palmer last Saturday evening to attend the membership meeting and election to the Board Of Directors of the Matanuska Electric Association. It was the largest turnout we've seen there. We didn't elect a local man to the Board, but we did make a better showing than we have since the amendment of the Bylaws to eliminate proxy voting. In retrospect, it is interesting to analyze the results of the election. From the outset it was apparent that it was a battle between the members of our area and the members of the Sutton area. On the first ballot the Sutton area received a total of 268 votes, our candidates received a total of 208 votes and all other areas a total of 126 votes.

This being an elimination of the low man on each ballot until a majority is voted for two candidates, it was voted from the floor to drop the 5 candidates receiving the lowest number of votes and to vote on the remaining 4 candidates on the second ballot. The results of this count showed that Mr. Tucker of Sutton had received 167 votes, Mr. Mayr of Sutton 139, Virgil Flint 137 and John Steeby (cont page 8 col 2) is the only area in Alaska where large rural areas exist. Areas composed of cities and immediate suburbs have problems of the same nature.

This is the thought behind our present Borough Act. The borough proposes to solve common problems by exercising regulations in the area outside and inside the city with one sweep. This is what is meant by areawide problems being solved by areawide powers.

Problems which are not common to the city and its suburbs are regulated separately. In order to solve areawide problems the borough act proposes a borough assembly composed of city and suburban members. Problems peculiar to the city would be solved by their city council.

Problems which are peculiar to the suburbs are solved by the borough assembly.

The organized borough is usually known as area government. It may have within its boundaries cities, its suburbs and in some cases rural areas beyond the suburbs.

pare for the second phase and total success. We are now "on the beach", so to speak and making preparations to move inland to a successful conclusion, A HIGH SCHOOL IN OUR AREA!

Just where do we stand today? As a direct result of the OCHS organization, the many dedicated individuals connected with it, and the individual efforts of every citizen who wrote Governor Egan a letter, we now stand to gain our objective, a High School, construction beginning in 1963, the moment Governor Egan's recommended school construction bond issue passes in the general election, Nov. 6, 1962.

Also, as a result of a member of the OCHS group appearing before the House Finance committee in Juneau, $75,000 was included in Governor Egan's budget for Chugiak School planning.

However, all of our efforts would have been in vain had not our petitions fell on receptive ears. The moment the Department of Education and Governor Egan were convinced of our need for a High School, the wheels were set in motion by the administration to fulfill this great need.

In a telegram dated March 8, 1962 to the OCHS group, Governor Egan stated (next col.)

(OCHS)

"Bond proposal offered by me to Legislature today included $1,200,000 for construction of Chugiak High School, classroom additions at Eagle River School. A recommendation made by Governor to the Legislature does not always mean that the Legislature will pass favorably on the matter. Today, however, we can say that this Legislature did pass favorably on the recommendations, and it goes before the people on November 6 for their acceptance or rejection.

During this past year the OCHS group also met on many occasions with the Legislators from this area who were also convinced of our need for a High School. As a result of these meetings, and by way of fulfilling a promise to the group, Bruce Kendall, Minority Leader in the House of Representatives, introduced H.B. 455, "An act appropriating the sum of $1,200,000 for the construction of a High School in Chugiak.

The strategy used by the Minority Leader in its introduction, it's timing, and the fact that it was a direct appropriation out of general funds at a time when most Legislators, including the Minority Leader and members of his party, were trying to limit the size of the State Budget all combined to make it impossible to get out of the Finance Committee and on the floor of the House for action where it's chances for survival were all but nil.

In fact, the day the OCHS (next col.)

representative flew into Juneau, March 31, to try and get this Bill out of Committee it was too late for it to have been transmitted to the Senate even if the House had reacted favorably. A quick determination was made by the OCHS representative before going before the Finance Committee that this bill was already a "dead horse", and despite the Minority Leader's recommendation that pressure be brought on Governor Egan to get this Bill out of Committee, the decision was made to pursue the only logical route open, urge passage of the bond issue proposal. The $75,000 for school planning was also included in the budget by the Finance Committee at this time. This came as a very pleasant and unexpected surprise.

Because it is now a matter of public record let us examine the record and see how our Legislators reacted to the Governor's Bond proposal and the Governor's Budget as it came out of the Finance Committee, which included $75,000 for Chugiak School planning.

It was vitally important to Chugiak that the following measures be passed on favorably. A NO vote can only be interpreted as a vote against the Chugiak High School.

In bringing electricity to rural areas, a quarter century ago, Rural Electric Systems harnessed the cooperative spirit of rural people. Now, almost 98 percent of rural America enjoys low-cost electricity—and members of America's electric co-ops create a billion dollar market yearly for goods and services because of it!

Today, we face the problems of under-employment and economic distress in many areas. There is the need to revitalize many communities—to renew our vigor and dedication to the task of making these communities come alive and prosper . . . to make them attractive to our young people, and to newcomers . . . to create job opportunities . . . build for a better life . . .

By cooperation and hard work we helped bring light to the dark areas, many years ago. With continuing cooperation, understanding, and by working together—city and country folks alike—we can meet the challenge of area re-development!

Tell it to Martha!

By MARTHA COUNCIL

Dear Martha,

Can you tell me what is the matter with women today?

It seems that they can't get a thing done without the latest electronic gim-crack on the market.

Our house looks like Cape Canaveral, and my wife is like an engineer pushing buttons and pulling switches to get her housework done. Martha, I can remember my mother back on the farm rubbing clothes clean on a board, and heating the water to wash them on a wood stove.

She was perfectly happy without all these gadgets and she would never even dream of feeding us out of a can, let alone having an electric can opener to get the food out.

My wife isn't happy unless she has the latest dowichit on the market. Now its a mechanical thing aa-ma-bob to mop the floor no less.

Couldn't you say a word about the good old fashioned way of getting things done?

Gadget Happy

Dear Gadget Happy,

Since you have such an excellent memory, no doubt you also remember your father cutting the wood for that stove (without a chain saw (next col.))

I'll bet) or his hauling that water in from the well for your mother to wash.

What is your opinion of that old fashioned way of getting things done.

Sorry to let you down, but I'm one hundred percent for progress.

If you are able to afford all these wonderful labor saving devices for you wife, then more power to her. Unnecessary drudgery has never benefited anyone.

By the way where do you get one of those mechanical mops...that sounds like just the thing I've been looking for.

Sincerely,
Martha Council

HEALTH COUNCIL TO VOTE ON CONSTITUTION

CHUGIAK: The Chugiak Health Council at their April meeting held on Monday night, read their by-laws and constitution.

Discussion of obtaining furniture for the new Health and Welfare Center was held.

As soon as the center is ready for occupancy (next col)

116. This eliminated Mr. Steeby and gave Mr. Tucker a majority, electing him to the board and a vote was taken on the third ballot for Mayr and Flint. When the ballots were counted, Mayr had a total of 125 and Flint a total of 122, thus electing Mr. Mayr.

In looking at the percentage of memberships ratio for each area, it would appear that the people of the Sutton are are much more interested and concerned in matters affecting the development of their area than we in our area are concerned. I do not believe this to be true. In looking at the total number of votes cast on each ballot, 592 on the first, 559 on the second, and 247 on the third, the logical conclusion would be that a number of people left before the balloting was over. Had this not been true, we would have elected a man on the third ballot, but the meeting was long and some of our people were anxious to start the long drive back home.

All things considered, this was a very interesting meeting and election and it was very gratifying to see the great vote of confidence of the members of this area in their candidates.

(letter to the editor)

Again, I would like to express my appreciation to all the people who attended the meeting and to those who worked to accomplish this good turnout and especially to the editors of the Knik Arm Courier and The Eagle for their help and to Mr. and Mrs. Nichols for their generous offer of the use of one of their school buses for transportation.

Sincerely,
 Virgil Flint

ANCHORAGE: A team of local junior bowlers were presented with trophies from the the American Junior Bowling Congress Mailgraphis Tournament.

This group of youngsters were named the City Champions in the Bantum Division (Girls Team) and received their trophies at a Banquet at the Edgewater dining room on April 14th.

Team members were Nanette Honeyball (team captain), Dee Frank Fourth, Mary Fillmore, Katie Moore and Linda Moore.

Nanette received a trophie for High Game in the Bantum Division with a score of 152 (scratch).

The girls were sponsored by Teamsters local 959.

The tournament consisted of a two game series, the winning score being a 1431 (with handicap)

Another trophie taken by a local Junior bowler was Don Mayfield who was awarded for high series (2 game) in the bantum division.

The scores will now be sent into the National Congress where they will be eligible for additional honors.

The girls team was awarded a perpetual trophie which is on display at the Eagle River Bowl.

MISSING BOY SPURS SEARCH

EAGLE RIVER: A eight year old boy who was missing from his home on Coleville Street in the Eagle River Heights Sub-division spurred a neighborhood search last Wednesday.

Stephen Spellman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Del Spellman failed to return home after leaving to visit a playmate.

The boy had left around 6pm and at eightpm his alarmed parents went to get him and discovered that he was not there.

Neighbors came forth to help in the search and the State Police were summoned.

After checking with all his known playmates to no avail, the boy was finally located at the home of a neighbor who had recently acquired a horse.
