MAN DIES FOLLOWING ACCIDENT

STATE TROOPER ROBERT
COCKRELL

GEORGE ALLEN QUESTIONS KAY'S MOTIVES

CHUGIAK: George Allen, leading Chugiak Democrat, today questioned the motives of Wendall Kay, well known Anchorage Democrat who recently came out in support of Professor William M. Shear, candidate to the Borough Assembly from section 6.

When asked for his opinion on the subject, Allen stated that he had asked Kay his reasons for endorsing Shear, a Republican, and Kay had answer-

NEW TROOPER NOW ON DUTY

CHUGIAK: Trooper, Robert Cockrell, has been transferred from the Anchorage Area and is now stationed in the Greater Chugiak Area.

Cockrell, who has been with the Alaska State Police for the past six months will be covering this area with Trooper Ken Dubber.

Prior to coming to the Anchorage area, he lived in Sitka. Cockrell has been in Alaska a total of three years, coming here from Ohio.

EKLUTNA: A Palmer man was pronounced dead on arrival at Providence Hospital following an accident on the Eklutna bridge last Saturday.

Albert John Metz, of Snodgrass Street in Palmer had apparently struck an icy patch on the approach to the bridge.

He lost control of his 1963 Rambler Station Wagon and crashed into the left hand bridge railing.

He was taken to the Providence Hospital by the Eagle River Volunteer Fire Depart-

STATE POLICE TO CITE DRIVERS WHO LEAVE CARS UNATTENDED

CHUGIAK: Alaskans who follow the time honored practice of starting their cars and going back in their house while the car "warms up" may be cited by State Police if their car should be stolen during that time.

State Police are now intending to enforce the law which says that when unattended a car should have the ignition key removed from the switch, the car in gear and the brakes locked.

This works on the premise that any time and expense that the State Police are put in recovering the car when stolen is due to the owners negligence.

ough government, this type has the advantage of giving the administration the "professional guidance of a trained hear." It is, they say, more efficient and it tends to discourage any form of the spoils system from rearing its ugly head.

-They usually add that it also results in a high level of professional qualifications being set for all those who work under the Manager. In short, it results in a "business-like approach to government."

Opponents quite often agree that any government run by a "trained Manager" is more qualified to give the voters "The business". They say, that since the Manager answers only to the Assembly, he cares little or nothing about the voters at all.

These people who espouse the Borough Chairman, say that this very factor is one of the greatest strengths offered by the Chairman: he

SHOULD THE BOROUGH BE CHAIRED, OR MANAGED?
By: Jerry McCutcheon

One of the decisions to be made by you voters in the election December 3rd is whether the borough should be led by a Chairman, elected by the people or administered by a manager, chosen by the borough assembly.

Voters in Alaska have had much more experience with the Manager form of administration than they have with the elected executive. Nearly all of this state's first class cities have City Managers and no "major" cities have any form calling for full time mayors, at all. For those who would see the City Manager form in action, they are referred to the city of Anchorage where the city charter leaves the Manager in charge of ALL administrative matters.

According to the proponents of the Manager form of bor-CHUGIAK: Hearing tests are being done this week at the Eagle River school by seven mothers in the Eagle River Area.

Miss Hamilton gave instruction to the Eagle River mothers on November 11th and will instruct mothers of children who attend the Chugiak school on November 29th when she comes for her next therapy program.

The testing is being done in an effort to find and treat any hearing problem of a child in school. The parents and the teacher may then talk to Miss Hamilton and decide what is to be done.

ed, that considering the fact that this was a non-partisan election he was justified in supporting any candidate he felt was qualified.

Allen added that he believed that Kay and others from the City of Anchorage were endorsing Shear because they felt he would serve the interests of the Anchorage City Council, rather than the rural area that he will be representing. Allen felt that since Anchorage residents do not have a vote for Borough assemblyman, that Kay was seeking to influence the vote of the rural area by his endorsement.

PLAY IN THE PRIMARY GRADES

Organized play does a lot for young people. It not only pleases them, but it gets them into good physical condition.

In grades 1, 2, and 3 at Eagle River School, the teachers let the children play the games they like best. The children seem to like the same games from 1st grade through 3rd grade. They like to play in the gym; they like to play dodge ball, lemonade, captain mouse, midnight, exercises and relay races of various kinds.

When they play outside most of them prefer to merry-go-round, but they all can't go on the merry-go-round, so some play with the tether balls, rubber balls, swinging on the metal bar railing, jump rope and tag. Almost everyone reported that they liked to skate and play in the snow.

They are looking forward to skating on the new ice rink. Some of the youngsters had different opinions as to who should choose the games.

In Mrs. Warren's, Mrs. Erickson's and Mrs. Freeman's classes they like to have their teacher choose the games; while in Mrs. Towne's class they like to choose the games themselves.

These primary games prepare them for more competitive games, because they learn good sportsmanship and to cooperate.

When they reach 4th grade and on they will also get into better physical condition.

These games help develop good timing and quick thinking. Learning to compete and good sportsmanship helps to make better citizens for the future.

does answer to the voters and accordingly, he will take heed of their needs and will pay attention to their wishes.

However, the difference between these two contesting methods goes deeper than the direction in which each might look for guidance.

It also results in basic differences, so far as the power and methods to be used are concerned.

IF the voters choose the Borough Chairman, then they will have a different form of borough government from that which a Manager would head. For the Manager would merely be the head of the administration, but the Chairman has added powers beyond heading the administrative end.

The Borough Chairman has the power to veto legislation which the Assembly might pass. When he vetoes any legislation, he needs only the support of any four members of the Assembly to make the veto totally effective.

The Manager would have neither of these powers, nor would he have more than advisory powers in any matter of policy making.

With these basic differences it is obvious that those people who are active and take part in their government, at all levels, will probably vote for the Chairman form. For the Chairman form gives them a greater opportunity to make themselves heard, brings their government closer to their direction. It gives them no guarantee that anything the borough does will necessarily be to their design, or liking. However, it does give them safeguards and controls which are lacking under the managerial form.

On the opposite side, those who desire the comfort and safety of knowing their government is in trained hands will choose the Manager form.

To many, knowing this removes them from all necessity of taking active part in government, since they are guaranteed that it will run well because of the professional status of the man chosen as Manager.

In the final analysis, those who believe that government exists to serve them will choose the Chairman; for this guarantees them that he will answer to them, be guided by them, regardless. Those who believe that the primary need of government is efficiency,

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED

EAGLE RIVER: A car which had been stolen from in front of an Anchorage home only a short time earlier, was recovered in Eagle River, although the juvenile who had taken it escaped.

A local State trooper had just received the report of the theft of the 1961 Chevrolet Impala when he saw that very car approaching.

The trooper, who at the time was parked at the Eagle River Shopping Center, took out in pursuit of the car, which turned up Coronado Road. The youth, who was driving the car jumped out of the slow moving vehicle and escaped into the bushes.

The car, was returned to the owner, Harold F. Groothuis of Anchorage who had left the vehicle running in front of his residence on Fifth Avenue.

He was cited for negligence.

This is - and is meant to be - oversimplification of the basic issues, but it is essentially true. Cities, counties, states and even the federal government have all known good and bad executives; good and bad government; without regard to the means, or the method. In the final analysis, so long as this nation has self-government, it is the eternal curse of the people that they will always get the government which they deserve.

SCHOOL PICTURES TO BE RE-TAKEN

CHUGIAK: School pictures of all students attending both local schools, will be re-taken today, Wednesday, November 20th, according to Chuck Smith, superintendent of the Chugiak School system.

Pictures taken earlier in the term will not be available due to legal difficulties between two photo studios.

Smith said that he has terminated all agreements with the original photographer and arranged with another studio, the Arctic Studio of Anchorage to take the photos. The Arctic Studios guarantees the photos will be taken and returned not later than December 13th, in ample time for use in Christmas cards and other occasions.

Smith reminded that although all students will be photographed, parents are not obligated to purchase any of the pictures.

Each packet of photographs will be available at a cost of four dollars per packet, and the entire packet or any part of it may be purchased.

Each packet consists of (next col.)

will be relieved. I am sure she never intended her original gift to snowball the way it did.

Sincerely,
Martha Council

Dear Martha,

I need your advise in a hurry.

Several years ago a friend of mine dropped over to visit on Christmas and brought a gift for my little girl.

I was terribly embarrassed, as she had a little girl the same age as mine and I hadn't thought to buy her a gift.

I hurried and wrapped up one of my child's Christmas toys and gave it to her pretending that it was for her little girl all the time.

Now every year we exchange gifts. Both of our families have grown bigger and to tell the truth Martha, I wish I had never gotten mixed up in it.

I would like to quit, but how can I? I know she will probably have presents for my kids, and how cheap would I look if I didn't get some for hers?

How can I stop this thing?

Hooked

Dear Hooked,

You should never have felt it necessary to return her offer of a gift that first Christmas, but that is all water under the bridge now.

Your friend is probably just as anxious as you are to get off the treadmill.

I suggest that you tell her that aside from your immediate family you are planning to send only Christmas Cards this year, and would prefer that she not buy any gifts for you Children. I'll bet she
