GOVERNOR EGAN AUTOGRAPHS PROGRAMS FOR CHUGIAK HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS AT OCHS CELEBRATION

OCHS GROUP CELEBRATES AT HIGH SCHOOL

BIRCHWOOD: Residents from all sections of the Greater Chugiak Area filled the multi-purpose room of the new Chugiak High School to pay tribute to the group of dedicated individuals who had made that very building a reality.

The celebration, conducted by the members of OCHS (Operation Chugiak High School) featured an impressive ceremony which began with an invocation by Rev. Roland Fritz, pastor of Our Redeemer Lutheran Church of Chugiak. Rev. Frizi was the original signer of the ratification of the OCHS Report for his church. This was followed by a roll-call of the twenty-six member organizations with twenty five answering the muster.

Then followed a re-creation of the up-hill battle for the High School, this conducted after the manner of the television program "This Is Your Life", with co-chairman Dale Pierson acting as narrator and other members of the vchs group coming in to relate their part in the effort.

Following this short speeches were invited from the honored guests, all of whom in some way had aided or encouraged the OCHS group along the way.

The child will remain in the hospital for treatment.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Rosenberg of Foothill Drive at mile 22.

Drink the juice of low-bush berry.
 Crush the hips of roses swell.
 Mix it with the edging ice.
 Lift the bowl and ring the bell.

The seed-filled hair is flying;
 Trees shake off their aftermath.
 The williwaws cavort in circles,
 And the sun is cool of breath.

This autumn wildness cannot last.
 It must return to what is sober.
 Gone will be the wild heart singing.
 Gone again will be October.

Tell it to Martha

BY: MARTHA COUNCIL

Dear Martha,

My problem concerns a little boy I take care of every day. His mother works and pays me to baby-sit him.

He is the same age as my little boy and no trouble at all. The only thing is that, sometimes he forgets to ask to go to the bathroom and wets his clothes. I don't mind this, but his mother never sends a change of clothing along with him. The last few times this happened, I took off his wet things and put some of my sons coveralls and underpants on him. I wrapped his wet clothes up in foil and sent them home with him.

Now his mother has never returned my boys clothes. In fact, she acts as though they were always his. Once or twice she even sent him over dressed in my sons clothes.

Now Martha, I can't afford to donate clothes to her. I'm afraid to say anything to her, because for one, I don't want to hurt her feelings, and for another, I need the money and I don't want her to quit leaving the boy for me to sit? What shall I do?

Mothers Helper

Dear Mothers Helper,

The next time the little boy has an accident, don't send his clothes home with him. Launder them up yourself and keep them on hand for the next emergency. You will probably never get even as far as the clothes you already have out, but at least you won't have to provide him with a new outfit every time he forgets himself.

Sincerely,

Martha Council

GILBERT AND SULLIVAN NUMBERS STAGED

OLD CHUGIAK: When the house lights went down in Fellowship Hall of the Chuglak Methodist Church last Friday and Saturday nights, October 2nd and 3rd, Gilbert and Sullivan characters came alive on the stage. The deck of HMS Pinafore was seen as her crew prepared for the visit of Sir Joseph Porter. The sailors work was interrupted by the visit of Little Buttercup, Betty Kirsch, Captain Corcoran, (Les Fetrow) comes on deck to greet Sir Joseph (Leo Cramer) along with Cousin Hebe (Dottie Fetrow) and all of Sir Joseph's sisters, and cousins and aunts. In the final section of the concert, excerpts from the Mikado, carried the audience to the garden in Titir... (next col.)

to meet Koko, The Lord High Executioner (Leo Cramer) who had a "Little List". Three Little Maids (Kitty Lowe, Kaye Ekstedt, and Linda Straight) came from a Ladies seminary. The Mikado (Les Fetrow) and Kathsha, (Carolyn Ekstedt) arrived with appropriate pomp. Koko and Katisha find they have much in common in "The Bellow of the Blast. Between HMS Pinafore and the Mikado was the delightful singing of both choirs in Irish folk songs, outstanding soloists, and the fun of Community singing. The program had been selected and directed by Natalie Brooks who played all of the accompaniment. Proceeds will be used toward the purchase of a new piano for the church.

The multi-level fireplace in the ranch home of Roy Rogers and Dale Evans is made entirely of petrified wood.

(OCHS)

The principal speaker was Governor William A. Egan, who said; in part, "... There is much that can be said on such occasions, but it is the school itself which speaks most eloquently. It is there for all to see... the best evidence that we care for our children, and believe that education is the way to a full, rich life."

Governor Egan went on to quote the statistics given in the OCHS report, which told of the growth of the community and the hardships suffered by the students of the Greater Chugiak Area when they were forced to travel the many miles to Anchorage every day to attend high school.

He spoke of other schools being built throughout the state, and how, by training its own youth, Alaska would eventually have the qualified personnel to fill the jobs in the State and no longer need to recruit outside talent.

In conclusion, Governor Egan said, "It has been a privilege for me to participate in the dedication of Chugiak High School. This new school, at this moment, stands as a symbol of our faith in the future...of our belief that only through education can the achievements of which Alaska is capable be realized."

Following the speech by Governor Egan, Ed Willis co-chairman for OCHS presented to High School Principal Frank Cline, a representation of a bronze plaque, which, when it is completed, be engraved with the names of all twenty-six of the original organizations which compose OCHS. The plaque itself had not come from the engravers in time for the ceremony. Also presented to the High School, was a scrap book, containing all of the newspaper clippings, minutes and other paperwork pertaining to Operation Chugiak High School. This book was bound in a wooden cover, made by the Alaska Woodcraft Shop at mile 14, and em- (next col) blazoned with the OCHS Symbol, which had been burned in the wood by Mrs. L.B. Mauldin. This book will be placed in the school trophy case. The plaque, when delivered, will be permanently secured to the wall in the entry of the High School.

The program was completed with the Benediction, which was delivered by Mike Alex, lay-leader, of the St. Nicholas Russian Orthodox Church of Eklutna; Mike also, being the original signer for his church.

Following the program, student guides conducted those present on tours of the building.

Refreshments, oconsisting of coffee, cake and punch were served.

An unexpected touch was presented by Mrs. Jack Carnahan, of Eagle River, who made corsages for each lady in the OCHS group, and a boutonniere for each man. She also arranged a lovely floral piece for the stage, and shaped the individual letters "OCHS" out of flowers to decorate the speakers stand.

APPLICATION FOR QUAKE RELIEF TO BE TAKEN

JUNESU:

Application forms for grants for earthquake special and extraordinary expenses have been mailed to thirteen cities and borough school districts, commissioner Floyd Guertin of the state department of administration announced today.

Guertin said that local governments which incurred special and extraordinary expenses as a result of the March 27th disaster are eligible for grants under authority of an appropriation of federal transitional funds requested by the state administration at the first special session of the Legislature.

Guertin said the amount of individual grants cannot be determined until the applications have been returned and analyzed by his department.

Applications were mailed to the cities of Cordova, Seldovia, Homer, Anchorage, Kenai, Kodiak, Soldotna, Girdwood, Valdez, Seward and Palmer and borough school districts at Anchorage and Kodiak. Oct. 15, 1964 has been established as the deadline for submission of all applications.

VEHICLE CHECKS GOOD ADVICE

JUNEAU:

With the approaching hazards of winter driving and shorter hours of daylight, drivers should check their vehicles to make sure they are mechanically sound, Alaska state police officers warned this week.

The car's lighting and braking systems should be checked, also heaters and exhaust systems, they emphasized. Carbon monoxide poisoning is more prevalent in winter months when automobiles are likely to be closed up tightly. Good tires are important in winter driving.

The police listed a few simple rules for avoiding disaster on the highways: if you go into a skid, steer in the direction of the skid; to stop on ice, brake with a light tapping action rather than by heavy pressure; follow at a safe distance (one car length for every ten miles per hour of speed).

Be alert, they added. Although drivers are aware of hazardous areas in winter driving, they may forget to watch for spotty patches of ice which often occur on open stretches of highway.
