TAX PUZZLE ANSWER IS OFFERED

CHUGIAK: Glenn Briggs, Assemblyman from Section One said today, that he has had repeated requests from residents of the area for an explanation of the personal property tax assessments which they are expected to comply with.

In the following statement Briggs attempts to answer these questions and offers his advise on how to make these tax payments.

"The Greater Anchorage Area Borough encompasses roughly the area east of Turnagain Arm and Cook Inlet between Portage on the south and the Knik River on the north.

By law, all services provided throughout a borough must be equal. Tax systems for the support of borough wide services must be applied equitably borough wide.

The GAAB is a borough of second class, with the three mandatory powers of education, assessing and taxing and planning and zoning.

The Borough has of now, assumed only the powers of assessing and taxing and education.

As of July 1, 1964 the real and personal property of the Greater Chugiak Area and the area south of the Anchorage Independent School District will for the first time be taxed for the support of their schools. The tax period for this assessment will be for the one-half of the calendar year, July 1 to December 31, 1964.

Since the City of Anchorage and the Anchorage Independent School District

CAR STRIKES GUARDRAIL ROLLS OVER BANK

FIRE LAKE: A speeding 1962 Volvo failed to negotiate a curve at mile 17 and struck the guardrail and flipped over the embankment.

The accident occurred in the early morning hours of July 4th, and sent the driver, Malcom Cousins of Anchorage to Providence Hospital in the Eagle River Ambulance where he was found to be suffering from scalp lacerations. His passenger, Judith Sherman, also of Anchorage escaped with minor scratches and bruises. The car was declared a total loss.

Cousins was cited for negligent driving.

It appears assured that tax payers boroughwide will be afforded the opportunity at the polls in October or November of choosing

Personally I resent imposition of a personal property tax as a source of revenue, because of the inequity of its application, because of the invasion of the privacy of the home in its enforcement and because of the paperwork involved in compliance.

For these reasons, and in view of the real possibility that tax payers will vote out personal property

Tell it to Martha

BY: MARTHA COUNCIL

Dear Martha,

I come from a family that does not believe in drinking. I have never had a drop in my life and we never keep spirits in our home.

My husband likes to have a drink now and then, but he does it away from home and never in front of our children.

Last month his sister and her husband came for a visit. They had hardly been in the house for an hour when the husband asked if there was anything to drink, and he didn't mean lemonade. I told him I was sorry but there wasn't. Then he asked where the closest liquor store was. I told him that I did not object to his going out for a drink but that I did not permit liquor in our home. From that moment on my name was dirt. You would think I had insulted them. They only stayed a few days and when they left, they made it very plain that they thought I was a very poor hostess. What bothers me, is that my husband agrees with them. He feels I should have relaxed my principles while they were here. Is he right?

(next col)

Likes it dry.

Dear likes,

There is a duty that guests owe to their hostess as well as vice versa.

If your in-laws are so dependent on sucking the bottle that they couldn't stand to be away from it for the time they were your guests, then they should have stayed home.

(next col)

In my opinion if an apology is in order, then you are the one who has it coming.

These people will probably never visit you again, for which you can consider yourself very lucky,

Sincerely,

Martha Council.

 been appraised at $10,000,000.00, which taxed at 70% provides a $7,000,000.00 tax base. The personal property of the area has been appraised at 10% of this amount, or $700,000.00. The mill rate of taxation has been set at 9 mills, which will provide revenue for schools for the six month period July 1 - Dec 31, 1964 of $34,650.00 calculated as follows:

$7,000,000.00 real prop.
 x 9 mills x 1/2 = $31,500.00
 $700,000.00 personal x 9 mills x 1/2 = $3,150.00
 Which gives the needed $34,650.00.

If John Doe of Chugiak owns real property which has been assessed at $10,000.00 then his tax assessment for the six-month period would be calculated: $10,000.00 x 70% x 9 mills or $31.50.

Since his personal property tax has been determined to be ten percent (10% of the above amount, then his personal property tax equivalent would be calculated: $1,000.00 x 70% x 9 mills x 1/2 or $3.15.

Some of the repugnant features of the personal property tax can be avoided, and compliance with the intent of the law can be accomplished by setting down the lump sum valuation of the personal property.

Therefore, if John Doe's appraised valuation of personal property comes to $1,000, then it figures at $1,000 x 70% x 9 mills x 1/2 or (again) $3.15.

The same solution can be applied to those who do not own real property - land, homes, permanent buildings. My only suggest in these cases is to supply on the personal property form the total value the owner places on his personal property without itimization.

(next col)

This also applies to the individuals who are in business and have been instructed to complete the it-emized form of inventory and equipment. These should only need to submit a figure representing the gross value of inventory an equipment, without it-emizing .

The penalty for failing to file a personal property tax return is a fine of $300.00 and/or 30 days in jail.

Real property tax notices will be mailed out on or about July 18. The Borough Assembly will start sitting as a Board of Equilization on August 31. Any taxpayer who feels his appraisal is not equitable may and is encouraged to appear before the board.

Taxes real, or personal for the current period of July 1 - Dec. 31 1964 will not be due or payable until after the Board of Equalization hearings.

Tax payments will be delinquent after October (cont page 8 col 1)

ANGELS STILL TOP TEAM

CHUGIAK: The Knik Little League pennant race is still on, with the Angels securely in possession of the top spot at this point.

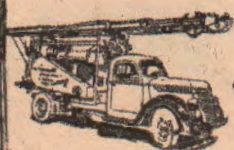

The second place Yankees lost their bid for a tie on Monday night, and are now two games out.

Only a loss to the Yankees next Monday and dropping another game to either the Eagles or Panthers could shake the Angels from their lead.

The Yankees have cinched second place, with the third-place Eagles seven games out, and the Panthers trailing them
