JIM EKSTEDT TO HEAD MEA BOARD

OLD CHUGIAK: The branch of the Anchorage library which is to be located at Swanee Slopes in Old Chugiak, will open next Wednesday, April 21st.

The library will be open during the hours between 3:00pm and 5pm, and the public is invited to attend an Open House which will take place at that time. Coffee and cookies will be served, and library cards will be issued to those wishing them.

Mrs. Robert Kallenberg, who will serve as librarian for this branch, stated that anyone holding a card from the Anchorage Library will have it honored at this branch.

Mrs. Kallenberg said that the library will be open every Wednesday from 3pm to 5pm, and on Fridays between the hours of 7:30pm and 9:30pm.

She said that approximately 1,000 books have been placed on the shelves and that facilities for a reading room

STRAIGHT FAMILY BURNED OUT

LOWER PETERS CREEK: A fire completely destroyed the Jess Straight residence last week, leaving a family of six homeless.

The home, which consisted of two quonset huts was located in Lower Peters Creek.

The Chugiak Volunteer Fire Company responded with the Pumper #1, and worked for three hours, pumping approximately 10,000 gallons of water before the fire was extinguished.

It was believed that the fire, which started in a closet was caused by an electric short.

The Fire Company reports that approximately 40 man hours were expended on this call.

DUMP OPENING UNAUTHORIZED

BIRCHWOOD: The temporary re-opening of the Birchwood Dump which was announced last week was un-authorized, according to Claude Rogers, Maintenance Supervisor for the Department of Highways in this area.

Rogers had announced that the dump would be re-opened when the spring thaw made the road to the new Sanitary fill impassable.

However, Rogers said that State Police had informed him that according to Alaska Statute Title 18, Section 18.35.060, which deals with the unlawful disposal of wastes, dumping at Birchwood is not and never has been legally authorized, and that they will have no choice but to issue citations to anyone caught dumping there.

Rogers said that he regretted having to retract his original statement, but under the circumstance he had no choice. He said that he was trying to get the Governors office to allocate funds toward the maintenance of the road to the new Sanitary Fill.

The only suggestion that he could make to local residents, was that during the period that the road is closed that they either carry their trash to the Anchorage dump, or utilize the services of the local Garbage Pic-up. He said that there is no other legal means of trash disposal available at this time.

PALMER: James O. Ekstedt, of Eagle River emerged the only incumbent of the MEA Board of directors to retain his seat, following a hectic meeting last Saturday which lasted well into the early hours of the following morning.

The scheduled order of business was soon overshadowed by a period of accusations and questions posed by a group which went under the name of the MEA Consumer H.H. Committee.

This group appeared to be composed mainly of Wasilla residents, with a few from the Chugiak Area.

Just prior to the meeting the group had passed out to those assembled mimeographed sheets of paper on which were printed a series of so called "Embarrassing Questions" pertaining to MEA Board activities, finances and personalities.

Gus Scheele, an excavation contractor from Wasilla, acting as spokesman for the H.H. Committee, demanded answers to these questions prior to the taking of any ballot. The membership, after much loud discussion and disagreement voted to cast the first ballot before taking up the questions.

In addition to the candidates who had been named by the nominating committee, a number of nominations were made from the floor. The name of George Allen of Peters Creek was nominated by Mr. Schroeder of Eagle River, Mr. Allen declined the nomination. Then Schroeder nominated John Barkley of Eagle River. It was not until the nominations had been closed and the candidates were delivering their individual remarks to the membership, that Barkley was determined to be ineligible, when by his own admission he stated that he was not a MEA member.

Balloting was held and the period during which the tellers were counting the votes was taken with attempts of the Board to answer the "Questions", a period marked with unfavorable remarks and cat-calls from the floor some directed at the Chairman and others at the H.H. Committee spokesman.

In the third and final balloting, a surprising turn developed with incumbents Clair Johnson and Phil O'Neil being the two low men out of the five on that ballot. The membership voted to drop the names of these two lowest, leaving Ekstedt the sole survivor of the trio.

The final ballot, in which 398 ballots had been cast, showed Robert a. Douglas as high man with 222 votes, Ekstedt second with 212 votes, and Ivan Branton (a write in) with 209 votes. O'Neil who had been the high man in the two preceding ballots had polled only 201 votes and Johnson 186.

The annual meeting of MEA, held 9 April, was an emphatic reaffirmation that democracy continues to vigorously exist in our area.

Such a meeting underlines the right of anyone to say what he wishes, and emphasized the right of the majority to listen, as long as the majority wants to listen.

Someone has said that our sense of justice permits a democracy to be established, and our tendency to be unjust requires it.

Our recent snow, although of some inconvenience, did a lovely job of hiding the ugliness of the breakup.

Of course, we'll have to go through the same process again, but in the meanwhile, maybe some of the more obvious junk can be disposed of.

Wonders never cease. This time it's three new puppies at our house. The new mother, hardly more than a pup herself, has suddenly become seriously maternal. It is remarkable and almost humbling that stupid little dog can be transformed instantly into a thoughtful, careful mother. I have used the word stupid, admittedly, because this particular animal has always struck us as being on the dumb side, especially since she was the replacement for a highly intelligent dog. However, this has not prevented her becoming an important member of the household and family.

The loss of ice and snow from the highways appears to promote increased speed of cars and trucks -- some to the point of recklessness. Remember that with better weather (next col) and ground conditions the kids can also get about faster. If you must speed, don't do it in the school zones!

The Central Committee of the Communist Party and the Council of Ministers have decreed, along with other items, that all teachers shall receive, at least, a 25% increase in salary.

I wonder what our (including teachers) reaction would be were our United States Commissioner of Education to order such a salary increase.

LOAD LIMITS

It must be very interesting. Those were very terrible years.

Gee, I'm sorry. Of course you wouldn't remember that.

You were probably just a little baby then.

BIRCHWOOD: The Northern Lights 4H Club met at the home of Mrs. Ada Anderson Friday, April 19th for the purpose of seeing a movie that was shown by Mrs. Carol Winey, District Extension Agent. The movie was very educational, inspring and give us a broader view concerning the goals of the 4-H Club.

After the movie, Mrs. Winey asked the club members if they had questions concerning the movie or questions that they wanted to ask about their immediate work. She also told them of the annual camping, which will come later in the year; the place the cost and the number that will be able to attend at each given period.

There were a number of parents who accompanied their children and they seemed to have been greatly inspired. They were Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Scott, Mrs. Polly Kallenberg, Mr. William Lovell, Mrs. Edna Roos and Mrs. Margaret Kuphaldt.

At the close, refreshments that had been prepared by members of the club sere served.

On Saturday, April 10th, at 1:00pm, the club was again honored to have with them Mrs. Winey. After the business of the club had been taken care of, the club was turned over to her. She showed very interesting slides that covered most of the activities of clubs of the Greater Anchorage Area. She also demonstrated to the girls the art and technique of laying and cutting of patterns.

She also asked each member to complete at least one project to turn in. And too, they have the privilege of entering their projects at places of exhibitions.

The club was proud to announce that a number of their members had won awards for projects that they had exhibited at the Project Talk Rally Day that was held March 27th, in Anchorage. The winners were: Stephanie Lovell, a cake; Linda Scott, knitting, Linda Roos, a loaf of white bread and Cheryl Scott, a doll dress and quilt blocks.

The club has an enrollment of thirty six members and Mrs. Edna (next col)

Roos has consented to become a leader. She has also agreed to accompany 4H members on their camping trip. Mrs. Maragret Scott who has three children in 4H has been very cooperative.

Letters to the Editor

OPEN LETTER TO SENATE PRESIDENT R. J. McNEALY

Sir:

Other than voting for people who will give honest, open-minded consideration and who will work hard for the good of our state and our country, I know next to nothing about politics.

However, I have lived long enough to have some common-sense and to appreciate a dollar.

Therefore I find your letter of April 2nd, 1965 confusing and somewhat facetious. I quote the first paragraph:

"Since 1945 the House has been passing bills to abolish firecrackers and the measures have died in the Senate. Referral of HB 52 to nine committee was of doubtful honor to again remind the House of the tradition. For years we have advised the House to send over a bill abolishing high explosive firecrackers and to limit sale from July 1 to July 4 inclusive. Apparently, there is no middle ground."

Is there no means of arbitration between the House and Senate? Isn't it possible for the Senate to introduce legislation? Isn't 20 years a long to stutter around about something that needs to be done?

Is it common practice for legislators to build their traditions from such whimsy, rather than from sound judgement?

If there is "no middle ground" for our Representatives and our Senators on this matter, where you agree on the need but not on the form, what basis have you for compromise on any bill? What happens if the agreement is reversed?

I do agree with the "Ddoubtful humor" as I have always thought our legislature was in session to work, not play toss-the-beanbag.

In the next paragraph you state: "I agree with you on the time and noise factor, but we cannot amend HB 52 lest it end up in conference committee and use valuable time the Senate needs else-where. I suppose the Senate's action is due to many of us remembering less restricted days of our youth."

To me, the almost yearly use and noise are secondary factors. Being a mother, I tend to think first of the dangers to our children and to our homes. I also think of the expense. Last year an Eagle River boy, Dale Hutchison, bought a ten-cent torpedo. The resultant explosion sent a piece of rock into his eye. It cost many times ten cents to save his sight and who can count the cost in pain and worry?

Does it take so much longer for a bill to go through one conference committee than through nine other committees? I do not understand this as our Senators make up these committees and surely their time is as valuable in one as in another.

I recall the "days of may youth" also, though it is difficult for I am 46 years old. I never heard of nor saw a cherry-bomb until after World War II. True, we had fireworks and firecrackers but, to my knowledge, not the sticks of dynamite that are sold as such now.

Children that I know in Oregon do not feel that they are discriminated against though fireworks are abolished there except for controlled displays. HB 52 provides for controlled displays, and in this manner one child has as much as another - safely!

How many injuries will result from mishandled fireworks this year?

How much financial loss will there be from fires started as a result of the misuse of fireworks?

How much money is it costing me as a taxpayer to support these ring-around-rosy tactics?

I have made this an open letter Senator McNealy, in hopes that someone can and will answer my questions.

Very Truly yours,
Louise Juhnke
(Mrs. Lester W. Juhnke)

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

By: Ralph J. Rivers M.C.

WASHINGTON: Alaska would be eligible for matching funds of nearly one quarter million dollars for Commercial Fisheries research and development if the appropriations bill the cleared the House is accepted by the Senate. We in the House doubled the Administration's request for this program, making $4 million.

....Did your withheld taxes fall short of meeting your 1964 tax bill? If so, and if payment of the balance immediately would work an undue hardship upon you, the Internal Revenue Service will work out a TIME PAYMENT PLAN FOR TAXES this year for you. The IRS says, however that you must file your return by April 15th, and that you must then get in touch with your local office to make arrangements for paying the balance due.

....Nearly one tenth of the NEW CAMPING SITES in National Parks and monuments are in Alaska. The National Park Service reports that of the 1,156 new sites, 106 are in our Mt. McKinley National Park.

....If you're a Native Adult seeking VOCATIONAL TRAINING, your chances of entry into that training will be improved if the Senate agrees with a recent action of the House. We increased the funds available for the program by 25 per cent to make $15 million available annually. Supporting the bill in debate, I pointed out that 830 Alaskans have benefited from the training received.

....Bills proposing FIREARMS RESTRICTIONS, now pending in the Senate, are giving rise to many letters to me. I agree that prohibition of mail order purchases by individuals would be particularly hurtful to Alaskan gun-buyers, and I plan to oppose such legislation when it comes before the House.

....Response to my QUESTIONNAIRES has been overwhelming and gratifying. With more than three thousand of them returned, and each day's mail bringing more, tabulation of replies will begin very soon. Many thanks!

....In order to obtain more working space, I moved from my two-room office in the Longworth House Office Building last Sunday to 541 Cannon House office building -- a three room suite. To the best of my knowledge, no letters, papers, or files were lost!

....VISITORS FROM ALASKA this week included James D. Erskin, Ketchikan; Andrew Hope, Sitka; Morris Fore Juneau; Jack Anderson, Anchorage; Bruce R. Gordon, College, and Randy Wehrle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brock, all of Willow.

THREE INJURED IN WRECK

PETERS CREEK: Three Anchorageites were injured when the car in which they were riding skidded in the snowy pavement and rolled over at mile 24 last week.

Michael Burht, driver of the car escaped with only minor cuts; but (next col) his passengers, Daniel Kubitz suffered a broken jaw, and Glenn Parker a broken kneecap. The trio were taken to Providence Hospital by passing motorist.

FUND DAY NETS OVER $1,300 DOLLARS

CHUGIAK: The Chugiak Stew and Fun Day was a tremendous success. The proceeds to benefit the Student Activity Fund amounts to roughly, $1,310.00

The committee chairman would like to take this opportunity to thank all who participated and all who so generously donated desserts, other foods, films, time and effort.

Special thanks go to the lunch room supervisor and her personnel, and to the following businesses; Valu City and the Knik Arm Courier.

HIT AND RUN REPORT
PROVES MISTAKE

EAGLE RIVER: State Police and the Eagle River Volunteer Fire Company Ambulance responded to a report of a hit-and-run accident on the Eagle River Hill last Wednesday, only to find the report to be a mistake.

The "victim", Cristine Yakoff, of Anchorage had been riding in a car with a friend when she decided to get out and walk.

After leaving the vehicle, she either slipped and fell or lay down in the middle of the highway, where a passing motorist mistook her for a hit-and-run victim and called the police.

She was transported to the ANS Hospital by the Eagle River Rescue Wagon, where it was determined that she was not suffering from any injuries. According to the State Police she had been drinking.

LOCAL VFW POST
ELECTS OFFICERS

EAGLE RIVER: The Chugiak Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, elected the following officers at a recent annual election.

CALL ANCHORAGE FOR STATE POLICE

Anchorage: Residents of the Greater Chugiak Area have been advised to call the Anchorage Headquarters of State Police, when they wish to contact a State Trooper.

The number which has been listed as State Police, is located in the State Troopers home, and most calls made to that number must be referred to the trooper when he either calls his home or checks in there.

The Anchorage number is manned twenty-four hours a day, and is in constant radio contact with all State Troopers on duty.

Captain Mayfield of the Anchorage office of State Police, said that local residents would get quicker response by following the above suggestion than by dialing the local number.

The Anchorage number is Broadway 8-2001.

The Proposition one, which pertained to amending the by-laws had been tabled until the next meeting of the membership by a vote of the group. A proposed amendment to the proposition had not been brought to the attention of the membership sufficiently prior to the meeting, in accordance with the by-laws.

At a subsequent meeting of the board of directors, held on Monday April 12th, Ekstedt was elected President of the Board, Walter Mayr Vice President, and Robert Tucker Secretary Treasurer.

MEA BOARD HOLD
SPECIAL MEETING

PALMER: A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Matanuska Electric Association was held in Palmer last Monday night.

Officers of the board were elected, and the new members were made welcome.

New elected member Ivan Branton, who had been absent from the annual meeting was sworn by attorney John Shaw.

The group discussed the purchase of land at Willow suitable for construction of a sub-station in the future. It was voted to have the manager attend a scheduled land sale and to purchase a suitable portion of land within limits set by the board.

The Board voted to prepare detailed answers to a list of questions which had been brought up at the Annual meeting by a group of the members.

According to EJames Ekstedt, newly elected President of the board, none of the directors had seen this list prior to the Saturday meeting, nor had any knowledge of its existence. They therefore had not come prepared with some of the detailed statistics which were asked. Ekstedt said that each member consumer would be mailed a copy of a paper answering each of the questions in detail.

At the Saturday meeting the chairman and several of the members had asked who the author of the questionnaire was. The committee submitting the questions declined admitting either authorship of the queries or even knowing who the author was.

Ekstedt said that in the future the Board will attempt to keep the membership better informed of their activities.

He added a reminder that all Board meetings are open to the public.

MEA DOOR PRIZES

PALMER: A number of Chugiak residents wone door prizes at the Annual meeting of the Matanuska Electric Association last Saturday.

CLASSROOM REPORTS

GRADE 1: Boys and girls in Mrs. Ruberg's grade know that sounds are all around us. We have been sharing our listening experiences. The variety of sounds reported was "ear opening" indeed.

William Schulz heard cars swishing by. Scott Bower heard dogs barking. Grant Longsdorf heard a road grader. Shannon Manoney and Scott Sigvaldson heard footsteps walking. Turley Wilson heard birds singing one day. Tommy Gerrish heard things rattle in his lunch box. Beverly Kocur heard the plop of her rope as she jumped to school. Mike Wessle could hear his lunch money jingling in his pocket. Yvonne Tremblay heard the bus coming. Linda Joyce Daorman could hear talking.

The children are more thoughtful of the kinds of sounds they hear since our science talks about sounds. They are trying to refrain from making unpleasant sounds!

They have learned that sounds have meanings. The sound of a car horn warns of danger. A train whistle, dog growling, and cat hissing may mean trouble.

GRADE 4: We have been discussing how communities improve themselves. These are improvements we think should be made in Eagle River.

All dogs should have licenses and if the dog is running loose have it taken to the dog pound.

Eagle River needs more stores. If people are in the Air Force or the Army they may go on base.

Eagle River also needs a fire dept. in case of a fire because if there was a fire nobody would come.

Eagle River needs more roads and stop lights. A lot of traffic jams are caused.

Eagle River needs a clothing store instead of going all the way out to Anchorage for clothes.

Eagle River should have a new dump for junk like trash, cars and trucks.

GRADE 7: SQUARE DANCE

The Square dance for the 7th grade last Tuesday, April 6th, had a pretty good turn-out. There was about the same number of boys as there were girls, about 30 students in all.

Mrs. Vadla came down and taught us two new square dances, so everyone was out on the floor at one time or another.

About halfway through the dance we had refreshments.

The CHairmen were Debbie Wentland, Debbie Wessel, Barbara Kirsh, and Fred Olson.

We thank Mrs. Vadla for coming down and teaching us the two new square dances.

SPELLING BEE

This week at Eagle River School, We had our preliminary Spelling Bee to find out who from our school would be going to Wendler Junior High to represent our school on the 29th of April.

The grades that could tryout were sixth and seventh. The representatives were James Samuelson, Debbie Wentland, Vicki Ekstedt, Peggy Hoag, Vicki Frankfourth and Marsha Schooler.

After a while our champion finally came. It was Debbie Wentland out of Mr. Leege's home room. We are awfully proud of her and we hope she does good in town. Vickie Ekstedt is the alternate.

REPORTER: Shellie Coillier

POTTERY

Mr. Leege's boys art class recently made pottery.

They used powdered clay, clear glaze, and paint. They also used a kennel, which is a special baking oven for clay.

The process was long but fun! First two boys Ricky Pyles and Ronnie Jones mixed the powdered clay with water. They did this in the janitors room. Next they brought the clay in the room and let it set for a few days. Then each boy was given a piece of clay. The boys rolled and designed it. They left it to dry for about five weeks. After the clay dried it was put in the kennel. Next they painted the already forming pottery. Next they glazed the pottery. Then Mr. Leege put it in the oven at 1,000 degrees F.

When the lid of the oven was lifted, there were ash-trays, glasses, cups, other kinds of dishes, and even a pencil holder!

The pottery was made for the Moms and Dads.

Many home gardeners are checking machinery prices and comparing tractor horsepower.

Are you looking for the best knee-high tractor for your small farm? Are you interested in plows, planters, mowers, and other equipment?

Selection should be based on safety, economy, utility, and ease of operation and maintenance.

Safety is one of the most important considerations. For a safe tractor, guards should be provided over all moving parts. Wheels should be set wide enough to prevent tipping. A machine is safer if it is easy to operate. Garden tractors should have controls that are easy to engage and disengage, especially if women or children will be using them.

Another factor is economy. If you want the most power per dollar, you will be better off with a two-wheel, walking model. But riding models are so much easier to handle that the added cost may be worth the difference.

Economical service includes tires that are low-cost, sturdy construction of tractor and matched implements, heavy bearings that are simple to grease, and accessibility of parts that will need maintenance.

Transmissions should have at least two forward and one reverse speed. If the machine is belt-driven make sure belts are large enough to pull heavy loads without slipping.

When looking at garden tractors, check the attachments that are made for them. Make sure they are designed for the jobs you plan to do.

When making a purchase, buy from reputable dealers who have parts and service available. Then ask for a demonstration, find out about the maintenance and operation of the machine and attachments. Only then, buy.
