BIRCHWOOD: Death struck again at a tragedy plagued Knik family this week, with the accidental drowning of Everett Theodore age 25.

State Police received a call at 5:35am on Tuesday, August 30th, from Oscar Munson of Birchwood.

Munson told the police that Theodore had taken a 14 foot dory equipped with an outboard motor belonging to Munson and had gone across the Arm to Knik where he had picked up his father Bailey Theodore Sr. They then began the return trip to Birchwood where they planned to pick up Munson and the three would proceed to Fire Island to fish.

According to Theodore Sr, the boat was approximately 300 feet from the Birchwood shore when his son stood up and fell overboard. The father said that he piloted the boat back and forth over the area where his son had gone over, but was unable to find any trace of him. The accident took place at approximately midnight.

Earlier this spring a brother of the victim, Bailey Jr, and a cousin Harry Theodore were killed in a collision with a mail truck near Mirror Lake. Also killed in this accident was Harry's wife.

The Rescue Coordination Center was called in and were searching for Theodore's body, but as of press time, had not found it.

Theodore is survived by his parents and several younger brothers and sisters.

COLD STORAGE PLANT NOW OPEN

EAGLE RIVER: The Eagle River Cold Storage Plant, which has been under construction this summer is now open for business.

The plant is located at mile 13 1/2 Glenn Highway and is operated by two local men, James Ekstedt and Herman Jones, both of Eagle River.

This completely modern facility offers locker rental, as well as the services of an expert meat-cutter and a master sausage maker.

Head meat cutter is Baxter Rustigan, formerly of City Cold Storage in Anchorage. He will have one man assisting him.

Ekstedt said that he and his partner are very proud to have secured the services of Karl Hoenik, who

LOCAL WOMAN SERIOUSLY HURT IN ACCIDENT

FT. RICHARDSON: A Birchwood woman was seriously injured in an accident which took place on August 26 at mile 8 on the Glenn Highway.

The victim was Helga H. Cruthers, who was driving to work at Providence Hospital. A 1963 Chevrolet driven by Chris Anthony Garcia had just struck a moose and the impact had caused his car to spin sideways into the opposite lane of traffic.

Mrs. Cruthers, driving a 1962 Volkswagon bus was unable to stop and struck the Garcia vehicle.

EAGLE RIVER FIRE CO. ACCEPTS ONE MILL

ANCHORAGE: Glenn Briggs, Assemblyman for Section One said that the Borough Assembly received a second resolution from a representative of the Eagle River Fire Company which would ask that a tax of one mill for the support of a Fire District for that area be placed on the ballot at the coming borough election.

This resolution was received just short of the deadline listed for placing information on the ballot for this election.

HEARING DATES ARE SET

Public hearings on proposed new and amended industrial safety regulations will be held in seven Alaska cities during August and September, according to commissioner of labor Gil Johnson.

Johnson says interested persons may present statements or arguments orally or in writing. Regulations to be considered include but will not be restricted to these activities: communication work; demolition; excavation work; explosive actuated tools; gas and electric welding; ladders and scaffolds; logging; machine guarding and abrasive wheels; material handling equipment and piling and storing of materials; motor vehicle transportation of workers; material hoists, concrete bucket towers and workmen's elevator cars; and sawmill, woodworking and allied wood products industries.

A hearing is scheduled for Anchorage at 1:30 p.m. in Superior Court on Sept. 6.

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON By Ralph J. Rivers MC

The House Subcommittee on Fisheries and Wildlife Conservation has completed its hearings on my bill, H. R. 12269, and similar bills which would establish a pilot project to manufacture fish protein concentrate. Enactment of this legislation would help solve the food problems of the world and would be of great economic benefit to the American fishing industry. The bill calls for the construction of five experiment and demonstration plants (hopefully one in Alaska) for the production of fish concentrates.

A Subcommittee of the House Committee on Agriculture has approved a bill that would authorize the Secretary of Agriculture to determine and convey to the University of Alaska all the right, title and interest of the United States in and to the lands of the Alaska Agricultural Experiment Station located at Palmer. In permitting the University to acquire complete control of the agricultural experiment station, the Congress is placing Alaska on the same basis as the other 49 States. The measure probably will be considered on the floor of the House in early September.

Little Midge

Panel 1: A young girl (Midge) says to her mother, "Hey, Mamma, I met the new people down the road." The mother and another child are looking on.

Panel 2: Midge asks her mother, "Did you know that they were French?"

Panel 3: The mother replies, "Yes dear, but they're really Americans now. They've been naturalized."

Panel 4: Midge asks another child, "Hey, Billy, did you meet the new kids yet?"

Panel 5: Billy replies, "They used to be French, but not any more."

Panel 6: Midge concludes, "Now they're natural human beings!"

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED HERE

FIRE LAKE: State Troopers recovered a stolen car on August 24th at mile 17 in the Fire Lake Area.

The trooper became suspicious when he spotted a 1962 white Thunderbird driving erratically at 8:00 am that morning.

Upon stopping the car it was found to be one that had been stolen earlier that same evening from an Anchorage man.

Four Anchorage juveniles who were in the car were placed under arrest.

ACCIDENT VICTIM DISAPPEARS

PETERS CREEK: State Police and the Eagle River Volunteer Fire Company Ambulance sped to Peters Creek last Sunday evening when a call was received reporting that a man was lying in the middle of the Highway apparently the victim of an accident.

The caller declined to give either his name or the exact location of the victim, other than to say that he was somewhere in the Peters Creek Area.

When the police and the ambulance arrived in Peters Creek they were unable to find either the caller or the victim, although they drove as far as Thunderbird Falls looking for them.

The question now is was it a hoax, did some passerby stop and pick up the man or was some foul play involved. Anyone with any information on the subject is requested to call the police.

TEETH TELL AGE OF MOOSE

Alaska Department of Fish and Game biologists have discovered that the age of a harvested moose can be determined by the front incisor teeth in much the same manner as a forester counts the annual growth rings of a tree.

Robert R. Rausch, Fairbanks biologist in charge of Alaska's big game research, disclosed today that the technique for "reading the age of moose by counting the layers of tooth cementum deposited annually" has been perfected after several years of research.

The new method involves slicing a very thin section from the tooth and counting the annual layers under a microscope.

Rausch said this method for determining the age of moose makes it possible for hunters to cooperate with a minimum of effort.

"All a hunter needs to do is bring the front teeth, together with information on the date and location of kill, and the sex of the moose, to any Department of Fish and Game office or check station," he said.

"Years ago," Rausch stated, "hunters removed the entire lower jaw of a moose so that we could determine the animal's age by comparing the wear of the molar teeth. Some hunters found it difficult to remove the lower jaw, he said, and biologists did not always agree on the age of the animal.

"We have checked the new technique with ear-tagged moose of a known age and find it is very accurate," he said.

Hunters in the Matanuska Valley and the Lower Susitna Valley may find their gigantic moose sporting a metal ear tag with a bright plastic streamer. "If you see one of these monstrosities," he added, "don't quit hunting—the colorful brand is there for a purpose".

The biologist requested that hunters taking an ear-tagged moose contact any Department of Fish and Game office as soon as possible so that the skull and other specimens can be recovered.

"Front teeth and the information on ear-tagged moose are vitally needed to help determine the condition of our moose herds," Rausch said, "and hunters who cooperate will help to enhance their moose hunting in the future".

What to do until an emergency happens

Emergencies have practically no sense of fair play. And almost always pick the worst possible time to happen.

People seem to prefer the day your insurance lapses to trip on your sidewalk, for example.

And the car usually waits until your bank account registers empty before demanding expensive repairs.

There's no fighting it. But you can be ready. By tucking away some reserve funds in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Bonds, themselves, are emergency proof. You can't lose the money you invest in them, even if fire, flood, robbers or plain carelessness causes you to lose the Bonds.

And when something expensive happens, you can just take them in to any bank and get yourself solvent again.

In the meantime, Uncle Sam uses your Bond dollars to handle other urgent matters, like taking care of your freedom.

Buy Bonds where you bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Get yourself really prepared and you might even discourage a few emergencies from ever happening.
