PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE BEVERLY GLENN (center) ADMINISTERS IMMUMIZATION SHOT WHILE EUNICE VREM OF THE CHUGIAK HEALTH COUNCIL BRINGS RECORD UP TO DATE.

HEALTH NURSE TELLS HOW SHE HELPS AREA

CHUGIAK: Mrs. Beverly Glenn, the newly appointed Public Health Nurse for the Greater Chugiak Area is anxious for local residents to know the services that are available to them under the Greater Anchorage Area Borough Health District.

"Everyone seems to know about the immunization clinics, and the Well Child Conference" said Mrs. Glenn, "but not too many know that the nurse does make calls to the homes of residents when asked."

Mrs. Glenn went on to explain that the nurse is authorized to make home calls to offer assistance in many instances. "If, for example someone is in need of special medical treatment, that the average person is not trained to do, such as changing dressings, or giving enemas, the nurse may come and do these things. Also if a member of the family is injured or ill, the nurse may be called.

In many cases a mother of a new baby may have problems that she would wish to talk over with the nurse on feeding, or child care, she will come to the home to discuss this."

Mrs. Glenn has her local office in the basement of the Eagle River Baptist Church, but can usually be contacted even when not there

AREAWIDE SURVEY BEGINS THURSDAY

CHUGIAK: A house to house survey, which should contact every family in the Greater Chugiak area will begin tomorrow, (Thursday October 27th.)

This survey is part of a borough-wide-attempt to learn the number of kindergarten eligible children living within the GAAB school district.

The survey is being conducted locally under the sponsorship of the PTAs of the two grade schools.

Volunteer survey takers will go to each home and fill out a separate information form on each child age three, four, five or six as of November 1st, 1966.

At the same time, information will be gathered on two additional categories. These are high school graduates under 20 who are living in the community and youths under age twenty who did not graduate high school and are living in the area.

There is a four page questionnaire for those falling in the two latter groups, and these will be left at the homes to be filled out and mailed in later. A stamped self-addressed envelope will left for this purpose.

The survey is scheduled to be completed and the forms turned in to the school principals by Friday November 4th.

OLD CHUGIAK: The Chugiak public Library may be discontinued, according to a spokesman from the library board.

This library, which is located directly across the highway from the Chugiak Elementary School, is operated by the Loussac Library of Anchorage with funds received from a Federal grant and administered through the State of Alaska.

The reason given for the possible discontinuation is the lack of adults who are using the facilities.

Although the facility is small, the Library has a large and varied selection of books, bulletins and pamphlets. Also, in the event that a publication is requested that is not on the shelves, this can be secured promptly upon request from the Loussac Library in Anchorage.

Although adequate funds have been appropriated to continue this branch, those administering it feel that unless more adults show an interest in taking advantage of the convenience of having this facility in the community there is no justification in keeping it open at its present cost. Closing of the library will be because there is a lack of users, not a lack of funds.

The Library Board hopes that more of the adult readers in the area will begin to make use of the Library to keep the community from losing this facility.

The new hours, which will become effective November 1st, 1966 will be: Wednesdays, from 11:00am to 6:00pm and Sundays from 12 noon to 3:00pm.

LIONS SPONSOR ESSAY CONTEST

CHUGIAK: The youth of the Greater Chugiak Area have been given a challenge to develop a plan for world peace by their local Lions Club - a challenge that could earn one of them a $25,000 educational and/or a career assistance grant.

The Chugiak Lions Club, together with Lions Clubs throughout the world, is sponsoring a world-wide essay contest for the world's youth on the most important world subject today -- Peace. The contest offers $50,000 in total awards, including $25,000 first prize, eight semi-final world regional awards of $1,000 each and travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago, Illinois in July 1967. At that time, the first prize winner will be chosen from the eight. Also, more than 20,000 local, district and multiple district awards will be made.

"We are hopeful one of our young people will win this world-wide prestige award," President Danny Jensen, of the Chugiak Lions Club said in announcing the contest locally today.

of making our own personal decision and expressing that decision by secret ballot. Equally valuable is our right, again by secret ballot to alter that decision at the next election if we feel a mistake had been made. This is the way it should be. We can keep it this way only as long as all of us vote.

HERE AND THERE By: R. Fleming

If not an opportunity, an event, at least, has been experienced through exposure to grassroots hustings of some twenty candidates simultaneously assembled.

In general, the customary phrases and espoused ideas were party distinguishable only when specifically identified, and support was obtained possibly more by appearance and presentation than by actual content and meaning. The insignificant differences involved in various issues precluded vigor and depth.

Even with this rather prosaic reaction strongly in mind, the assemblage of political aspirants causes inspiration and encouragement; not because of what had been spoken, but because such a meeting is not only a possibility but became an actuality. With or without party support, a candidate can speak his mind without fear of reprisal. He, of course, may not be elected, but others will also share his disappointment.

The prospective voter questions a candidate, again without fear of reprisal. It is really difficult to fully appreciate our circumstance wherein expression by a candidate or a voter no matter how controversial, will not result in a sinister rap on the door in the middle of the night.

One is impressed that the would-be office holders do not appear to be political "hacks", nor do any, of the candidates are politicians in the full time, professional sense. It is also impressive that the candidates, whether or not demonstrating qualifications for public office, are completely sincere in their desires to perform the functions of the sought position.

In our state we can perhaps come to know candidates somewhat better than in more populous areas. Even here, it is not too easy to learn completely what each candidate stands for and to evaluate his competence as a potential public servant. We do, however, have the privilege and the responsibility by leaving a message for her at the Anchorage office. If a local resident is unable to reach her when dialing the Eagle River number, 694-2350, then they are asked to call 272-6467. The latter number is the one to call for appointments to the Well Child Conference. These are for babies up to two years old, and parents are asked to bring older children for immunizations on these days. The nurse will weigh and measure babies and administer their immunization shots.

The regular immunization clinics for older children and adults are held at the office in Eagle River the 1st Wednesday of the month between the hours of 1:00pm and 3:30pm, and in the Old Chugiak area on the 3rd Wednesday of the month during those same hours. The Old Chugiak clinics had been held at the LDS Church, but with the termination of the lease with the church and the owner of the building (which is being remodeled for the new Chugiak Post Office), a new location for the clinic will have to be found.

Saturday immunization clinics, held mainly for adults and high school age youth have not been too well attended, and may not be continued, Mrs. Glenn stated.

The Chugiak Health Council works closely with the Public Health

Nurse, assisting her at clinics and in keeping local records. They will work with her on a eye clinic for pre-school children which she is planning to conduct next month.

Mrs. Glenn assumed her duties in the Chugiak Area last month replacing Mrs. Etta Tharmond who has resigned from nursing to stay at home with her family.

She and her husband Lee, make their home on O'Malley Road near Anchorage. Mr. Glenn is a biologist with the Alaska Department of Fish and Game and is working on a project involving Caribou.

The Glenns have been Alaska for two years, during which time Mrs. Glenn worked at Providence Hospital on the nursing staff. She was hired by the GAAB Health District specifically to be the PHN for this area.

Tell it to Martha

BY: MARTHA COUNCIL

Dear Martha,

We moved here about a year ago, and have a real problem.

There is a family in this area that has the same last name as we have. No our name is not as common as Smith or Jones, but it isn't very unusual where we come from.

The thing that upsets me is that this other family are what we back home call "White Trash." They are loud, un educated, their children are filthy dirty all the time and always mixed up in some kind of trouble.

Now how do we go about letting people know that we are not related to them.

When people ask me outright I set them straight in o uncertain terms, but most of the time they don't ask, they assume that we are some relatives, and I could just die. One woman thought she was paying me a compliment when she said.... your husband is so different from his brother, you would never believe that they were related. She was terribly embarrassed when I told her flatly that those dirty people were no relatives of ours!

I have considered putting an advertisement in the paper saying that the "William So-and-sos" are not related to any other "So-and-So's" in Alaska, but my husband says this is crazy. The whole thing doesn't seem to bother him as much as it does me....what can I do?

No kinfolk

Dear No Kinfolk,

I can understand your annoyance at finding a family with the same name as yours who doesn't live up to your standards, but I agree with your husband that it would be foolish to try to advertise the fact that you are not

The only thing is to keep letting people know at every opportunity that you are not related, but try not to be harsh in your denials and spare them the embarrassment of having made an honest mistake.

I think that in your distress you have painted this other family much worse than they can possibly be, and and I think that you will be happier if you can assume some of your husband's attituded. If you can't get over it, you had better move, as I doubt if the others will. ...they were here first.

Sincerely,

Martha Council

FIRES MAKE LOCAL HEADLINES

CHUGIAK: A series of fires made the news in the Greater Chugiak Area this past week, with both local Volunteer Fire Companies being kept busy.

Last Thursday, a workshop in the rear of the Dale Briggs residence in Eagle River caught fire and was completely destroyed.

The Eagle River Fire Company responded and kept the blaze from igniting the Briggs home. The fire was blamed on a faulty heater.

On Friday, at approximately 7:30am, an unoccupied building belonging to Mike Moore of Birchwood caught fire. The Chuglak Volunteer Fire Company responded, but was not able to keep the building from being completely destroyed. The loss was estimated at $15,000. The cause of this fire has not been determined. Electric power was turned on in the building and a heater in operation.

The Chuglak Fire Company also responded to what turned out to be a false alarm, when a passing motorist stopped at the State Police office in Palmer and reported that a house at Eklutna was burning.

The firemen discovered that the smoke had been caused by the Alaska Railroad burning creosote soaked ties.

Mystery still surrounds the cause of a fire which apparently destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Sumner in Lower Peters Creek. The fire had not been reported to either the Fire Company or the State Police, but was noticed by friends of the Sumners who came by and found the building burned to the ground. The Sumners were not living in their home, but away working a mine claim which they have. No one has reported having noticed the fire or knows exactly when it took place.

Gyroscopes are used in gyrocompasses and to keep moving ships and airplane level.

COMMUNITY COUNCIL TO ELECT OFFICERS

OLD CHUGIAK: There will be a meeting on Tuesday, November 1st in the Basement of the Chugiak Chapel, at mile 21, for the purpose of electing officers and board of directors for the Chugiak Community Council, which is being formed under the guidance of "Operation Grass Roots", which is a part of the Greater Anchorage Area Community Action Agency, a branch of the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity.

This meeting is a follow up of two meetings held earlier this week at the home of Mrs. Leonard Sherman at mile 21.

A group of local citizens met with Mrs. Jean Flynn and Mrs. Lorrie Holderby, of the Operation Grass Roots staff who are assisting the establishment of Community Council groups in the area. They have helped set up councils in the Spenard and Mt. View areas.

Mrs. James Connell, of Eagle River has been appointed temporary Chairman of the Chugiak Community Council until permanent officers can be chosen.

The purpose of Operation Grass Roots is to help people solve their own problems whether on a personal or communitywide level through the assistance of organizations and agencies already in existence.

Some needs which Community Councils can fill are the establishment of child care centers, adult education, improved roads and recreation facilities etc. The Mt. View Community Council has already made it possible for those interested to enroll in free basic education courses and is presently seeing what can be done to upgrade the hot lunch programs in local schools.

The public is urged to attend the meeting next week, and see what can be done to help improve things in this community. The meeting will be held at 10:30am in the basement of the Chugiak Chapel.

The contest, open to young people who will be 14 but less than 22 years of age January 15, 1967, was announced by the President of Lions International, Edward M. Lindsey, of Lawrenceburg Tenn., during the Association's Annual International Convention in New York.

"The Peace Essay Contest is divided into eight world divisions for the $1,000 prizes," President Jenssen said.

"Our Club's winner will advance to Lions District 49 competition in his (her) effort to qualify for the multiple district contest," Mr. Jenssen said.

The Contest sponsored by more than 23,000 Lions Clubs in more than 130 countries in the free world, will be the largest Peace Essay Contest in the world today.

"The purpose of the contest is to develop a formula for world peace because we feel peace is attainable," President Jenssen said.

"We want to alert our youth to the need for world peace and focus attention on that important goal," he said.

In announcing the contest internationally, President Lindsey said that Lions International, the world's largest service club organization is well qualified to sponsor such a contest.

Contestants should submit their entry in essay form, not to exceed 5,000 words.

"Judging will fall into four categories: 75 per cent of the essay's points will be devoted to content, ten per cent to organization, ten per cent to style and five per cent to mechanics," Mr. Jenssen said.

(The mechanics segment will be used to appraise the grammatical construction of the essay.)

"Three judges will be appointed to evaluate the entries submitted to our club," Mr. Jenssen said.

"If the winner can advance through the judging stages up to the work finals he will receive an expense paid trip to Chicago to attend the Lions International 50th Annual Convention for the final judging of his essay in addition to the $1,000 award."

Mr. Jenssen said he hoped local young people would accept the challenge and enter his club's section of the contest. Closing date for the club's contest is December 10 1966.

"Students wishing to enter the contest should contact one of the Chugiak Lions to get full details on the contest," he said.

Hermann Ludwig Helmholtz, the German physiologist and physicist was born in 1821 and lived until 1894.

CONSTITUTION GRANTS ALASKA'S FIRST GOVERNOR SPECIAL RIGHT

GOP Charges Are Misleading

The Alaska Constitution states clearly that the FIRST governor of our state may run for re-election until he has two full four-year terms in office. This right was granted to the first governor so he would have up to 12 years in which to launch and BUILD the new State of Alaska.

The Constitution provided that the first governor should serve from his election until the first Monday in December of the even-numbered years following the next presidential election. Here are the exact words the delegates wrote in their record of proceedings concerning this first term:

"This term could run from slightly over two years to almost six years. If the term is less than four years, the governor and secretary of state will be eligible for re-election for two full four-year terms in succession immediately following the first term."

Republican charges that Governor Egan's candidacy violates the intent or spirit of the Constitution are as FALSE as other charges Republicans are making. The Constitution extends to Governor Egan the full right to seek re-election this year.
