EAGLE RIVER: Plans for the State Championship Sky Diving Contest to be held on Walt Pippel's field at mile 14 1/2, February 17th, 18th and 19th, are completed, according to Bill Miller, President of the Anchorage Sky Divers Club. Fifty to sixty divers from throughout the state will be competing, with an average of three jumps per contestant per day.

If weather is clear, jumpers will enter competition the first day in style jumping from an elevation of 7,000 feet. Accuracy competition will take place the second and third day by classes, both jumping from a 3,000 foot elevation. Jumpers with 37 to 75 jumps under their belts will be eligible to enter in the intermediate class. Jumpers with 75 or more jumps will compete as the advanced class.

Novelty jumping is also programmed if the time permits.

Three Cessna aircraft will be used a Model 195, carrying 6 jumpers, and a 170 and 180, carrying three jumpers each.

According to Miller a facility for packing chutes is an essential part of any successful jumping program. Bob O'Bart and Lonnie Ryan, operators of the Alaska National Barn Dance hall at mile 15, have volunteered the use of The Barn for packing which will be a continuous operation throughout the three day contest.

The Eagle River Lions Club will have their hot dog trailer in operation for the event. Profits from this will go to the Eagle River Volunteer Fire Company.

Don Hobart, producer of the television show "High and Wild", is planning to cover this event along with the World Championship Snow Mobile race which will take place the same weekend.

WHAT IS PTA?

By: Eloise Thomas

We could say it is an organization composed of 46,099 local units, with a membership of 11,710,117 members (as of March 31, 1966) or that it is many things to many people.

I'd like to think all PTA's, especially our local ones, are fulfilling the purpose for which they were founded -- "to promote the welfare of children and youth".

Our first PTA was founded in Washington D.C., February 17, 1897 --70 years ago-- by Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst.

The PTA "Objects" are printed on each membership card. If you are not a member and are willing to subscribe to the Objects and Basic Policies, do join and help put these into effect in our community.

The Statement of Principals based on the Objects, put into practice by each person in our community would guarantee not only a productive PTA but an ideal community.

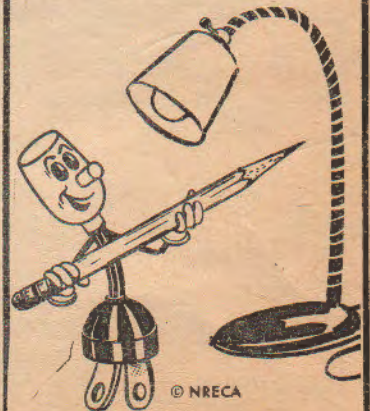

These cover Human Values, Spiritual Faith, Good Homes, Sound Health Safety, Educational Opportunity, Vocational Competence, Conservation of National Resources, Constructive Leisure, International Understanding, and Civic Responsibility.

If you have been looking for a club or organization to join that has opportunities to fulfill the above, then surely you belong in PTA as an active member.

The last line of the PTA prayer is "Consecrate us to Thy service and to the service of all children everywhere."

As we approach this February 17, 1967, the 70th Anniversary of PTA known as "Founders Day," let us take inventory of ourselves and our PTA's, accept our share of the responsibility, and rededicate ourselves to the Objects and Principles of PTA, "to promote the welfare of children and youth."

MAN SEVERS FINGER IN FREAK ACCIDENT

PETERS CREEK: Walter Purcell, of mile 23, lost part of a finger of his left hand last week, when it became caught between the locked bumpers of two cars.

Purcell, who is the proprietor of the Peters Creek Shopping Center, had been attempting to start the car of an employee by pushing it with his own car. The bumpers became locked, and it was while trying to pry them apart that the accident took place.

A neighbor drove Purcell to the hospital in Anchorage for emergency treatment.

LOCAL YOUTH GETS FORD GRANT

SITKA: Word has been received that Bob Mielke, who is presently attending Sheldon Jackson Jr. College at Sitka is the recipient of a $500 grant from the Ford Foundation toward the continuation of his studies.

These grants are awarded only to applicants with a 3. plus average.

Bob is a graduate of Chuglak High School, class of 1966. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mielke of Lower Peters Creek.

CHILD CARE CENTER TO OPEN

EAGLE RIVER: A child care center will soon open in the Eagle River Shopping area, according to Mrs. Reba Parkinson, who will be the manager of the establishment.

The center will be located in the Barber Shop Building, and will offer a completely modern facility for the care of small children, with special rates available for working parents.

Mrs. Parkinson will be assisted by her daughter Mrs. Rota Uwekoolani. The ladies plan to offer three hot meals a day (breakfast, lunch and dinner) at hourly, bi-weekly and weekly rates.

When the center, which will be known at the "Tot Stop", is open, it will be completely furnished with cribs, play-pens, educational toys etc. The center will be able to accommodate as many as thirty children at one time.

Mrs. Parkinson and Mrs. Uwekoolani hope that this will be convenient for mothers who work, as well as those who wish a few hours of expert child care while they visit the beauty shop, bowl, or drive into town.

BOOKS SHOW THE DEVELOPMENT OF OUR COUNTRY

OLD CHUGIAK: There two books at the Chugiak Library Branch which give an exceptional understanding of the way our country has developed,

"The Tree of Liberty", by Elizabeth Page covers the Revolutionary War period, and the "Unconquered" by Ben Ames Williams, vividly brings to life the troubles in Louisiana following the Civil War.

By involving the characters in the political stresses of the times, both authors have brought out the conflicting ideas of the different sections of our country, the maneuvering for power, and the development of our political parties. They give a sense of continuity from the past to our present day problems. And too, they are delightful story teller and the books are enjoyable reading.

There are many novels with historical backgrounds at the library.

The Library is a free Public Library open on Wednesday from 11 until 6, Sunday from 12 until 3.

MUSIC SCHOLARSHIPS OFFERED LOCALLY

ANCHORAGE: Auditions for the annual Soroptimist Music Scholarships will be held Tuesday evening, May 9th, at the Central Junior High School.

Four scholarships for local private lessons will again be awarded this year. These will be given to one vocal, one instrumental and two piano students.

Music scholarships have been given talented young Alaskans each year since 1947. In addition to the monetary value of the lessons themselves, the scholarships have been considered an honor and an incentive to further study by young musicians. Some of the past winners have been Cora Sue Reynolds Heverling, Micheal More, David Newton, Sylvia Bach, Maureen Avery Blewett, David Cuffel and Ann Walkowski Waters.

Last year's winners were Ruth Avery, Elsa Roberts, Donna Stewart and Carl Siroski.

Auditions are open to young people living within the Greater Anchorage Borough who have resided here for one year. Since lessons must be taken locally, one of the requirements is that the student plans to be here during the following school year. Any student meeting these residence requirements who is not beyond his Junior year in high school is eligible.

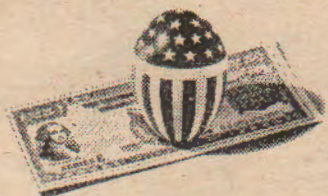

There will be two sections of the piano division of the audition. In general, elementary and junior high students would be in the intermediate group, senior high students would be in the advanced group.

Each entrant in the piano division should prepare the required number plus one of his own choice. The required number for the intermediate piano is the Chopin Prelude, Op. 28, No. 15 in D Flat Major. The required number for advanced piano is the First Movement of the Hyden Sonata in D Major, No. 7 in Schirmer and Kalmus editions. The instrumental division will be open to any student of an orchestral instrument. Students in both the instrumental and vocal divisions should choose a suitable selection for performance at the audition, preferably under five minutes. If an accompanist is needed, the entrant should arrange to have his own.

Application forms will be available through junior and senior high music teachers and counselors as well as local music stores; Music City, L&J Music Store, and the Anchorage House of Music.

Completed application forms

ALASKAN CENTENNIAL COMPANY TO BE FORMED

SEATTLE: Plans for the mass enlistment of 100 Alaskans into the U.S. Navy in June as the "Alaska Centennial Company" were announced last week by Rear Admiral Donald M. White, the Commandant of the Seventeenth Naval District.

Although it has been done in other states, this will be the first such "company" enlistment for Alaska.

The "Alaska Centennial Company" will officially be formed when its 100 members are sworn in by Rear Admiral White during special Centennial ceremonies on June 7th in Anchorage.

On the evening of June 7th, the "Alaska Centennial Company" will fly to San Diego, California for basic training as a special company of the Recruit Training Command, remaining together until graduation.

The Navy Recruiting Offices in Anchorage and Juneau are now accepting reservations for membership in the "Alaska Centennial Company", but the deadline for such applications is May 26th.

FISH AND GAME PROPOSALS ASKED

JUNEAU: Walter Kirkness, Commissioner, Department of Fish and Game, announced today that proposals for specific changes in the Game and Guiding Regulations are now being solicited.

These proposals for changes and amendments to the regulations apply to the 1967-68 regulatory year which starts July 1, 1967.

The Commissioner pointed out that such written proposals must be received by the Department of Fish and Game, Subport Building, Juneau, Alaska no later than 4:00 pm, February 28, 1967.

"The purpose of this announcement," Kirkness said, "is to provide all interested parties with the opportunity to submit regulation changes for consideration by the Board of Fish and Game at its spring meeting to be held in Juneau during mid-April."

After the February 28 deadline, the proposals will be consolidated and will then be widely distributed and advertised. The game official stated comments will then be solicited from all interested persons.

He said the proposals and comments will be used by the Board of Fish and Game to assist its members during their deliberations on regulation changes for the forthcoming regulatory year.

Kirkness said the proposed changes should be as specific as possible and should cite the reasons why such a change is desirable.

"In the past, some changes of a general nature have been proposed" he said, "and could not be acted upon as the intent was not known." He said a good example of such a general proposal would be that the cow moose season should be opened for one week. "It does not specify whether this season was proposed for a certain locality, region or for Alaska as a whole." Whenever possible refer to a particular section of the present regulations, he said.

AUCTION OF GENERAL SUPPLY TODAY

The stock has been moved to the above location and is being sold on an "as is, where is" basis.

He works for his country — a traveling man. Like seven out of ten government employees, he invests in U.S. Savings Bonds. He saves for the future — his own and America's — when he puts something into U.S. Savings Bonds every pay-day. Bonds are a good deal.

They earn a good return and make you feel good when you buy them. Buy Savings Bonds where you bank or join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. You'll walk a bit taller.

Tell it to Martha

BY: MARTHA COUNCIL

Dear Martha,

Maybe you can tell me what makes my wife act the way she does.

She has never been too crazy about my sister, although for the life of me, I can't understand why. They seem to get along, but I can tell by cracks she is always making that she doesn't think too much of her.

My oldest daughter looks like my sister, and in many ways is very much like her. Now I think this is fine, as my sister is a good looking woman (a bit on the large side, but real handsome) and is very talented.

What bothers me is the way my wife is always telling the girl that "You are just like your aunt Gertie".

Now the only time she says this is when the kid does something wrong, like making a tactless remark, or putting on a few extra pounds. She never compares her with Gertie when she gets a good report card (like Gertie used to) or when people compliment her on how beautiful she sings (just like Gertie), in fact she never seems to notice when the kid does anything good, only when she she goofs up, and then she throws it up to her that she is "just like Aunt Gertie".

She is making the girl a nervous wreck, and I'm afraid that she is going to start hating her Aunt for nothing? What can I do about it?

Her Father

Dear Father,

It looks like your daughter is caught in the middle of a feud between your wife and your sister.

I'll bet that if you looked into it you would find that your wife and sister, don't get along at all, and that you wife resents your sister to the point that she is willing to use her daughter as an opportunity to snipe at her.

Try to make her see what she is doing to the girl and prevail upon her to stop. If this doesn't do any-good, take the child aside and try to make her understand that Mamma and Aunt Gertie just don't get along, and that she must learn to ignore all her mothers snide remarks. Point out to her the many good traits her Aunt possesses and try to make her feel proud that she takes after her.

Sincerely,

Martha Council

A 90 minute movie to be shown on Easter Sunday. The Saturday Riview of Literature, characterized it as "charming and poignant." It is the story of a Catholic boy and a Jewish girl...youngsters who learn from each other that one God watches over all.

Movie critic Judith Crist, in a review of one of the films at an international children's film festival, makes a comment we feel is pertinent to this entire Xerox series: "It is facinating for an American child to watch...because he sees the direct similarity in dress, in habits, in aspirations, in ambition. One thing this festival does do is stress that childhood is indeed international."
