EAGLE RIVER: A group of local citizens are rallying in an attempt to keep the Eagle River Bowl from going out of existence.

The owners of Eagle River Bowl Incorporated, Hazenberg, Hazenberg and Viau, have been unable to meet the payments, and the mortgage holder, Action Development of Anchorage is foreclosing.

Since there is no one interested in buying the property and operating a bowling alley, Brunswick who own the equipment, will re-possess the machinery and the alleys themselves will be chopped up.

The local group feels the loss of this recreation center would be very harmful to the community, and are attempting to raise enough money through the sale of shares to purchase the building, bowling equipment and property outright.

A spokesman for this group explained that the goal is $240,000. This, he said would, cover the cost of the land, building, and all equipment including the restaurant and the 300 Room. He said they were hoping to sell 500 shares at $500 each. Once this is done, the group plans to incorporate, and operate the bowling alley through an elected board of directors.

He went on to explain that the only reason that Eagle River Bowl has had financial troubles was because of the enormous payments on a short term loan. It is understood that the monthly payments on this loan were in excess of $3,000. If a corporation were to own the property free and clear, the only expenses would be those of operating the establishment and the overhead. He said that he felt sure the share holders would be receiving return from their investment within two or three years.

It was pointed out that the bowling alley provided recreation to both adults and children in the Greater Chugiak Area. Every Saturday during the winter bowling season 50 regular bantam bowlers, children between the ages of 5 and 12 years of age have been bowling. In addition to these, about 20 youngsters are regular substitutes. During the past bowling season over 250 adults bowled in league each week. He concluded by saying that the loss of this would not only hurt the community from a recreation stand point, but it's failure would very likely discourage future investment in businesses in this area.

The group has been given a deadline of two weeks (until May 12) to raise enough money to accomplish this. After that date, the owners of the building (Action Development) will take over.

A letter to the editor which appears elsewhere in this issue of the Courier, explains who the individuals are that are attempting to raise this money, and how they may be contacted.

CENTENNIAL ART SHOW THIS WEEKEND

BIRCHWOOD: The Chugiak Centennial Art Show will be held at Chugiak High School, beginning on Friday, May 5th, and lasting through Sunday May 6th.

This is the only Centennial project scheduled for the Greater Chugiak Area, and is sponsored by the Chugiak Ladies Club.

The show will be held in the new team teaching room at Chugiak High School, and will feature the works of many well known Alaskan artists, as well as those of talented local residents.

Entries are in two divisions, senior, and junior; the latter being high school students and younger.

The Ladies Club is offering first, second, third place and honorable mention awards in both categories. A trophy is to be awarded to the first place winner in the junior division, and a cash prize for the first

CARR'S HOLD GRAND OPENING THIS WEEK

EAGLE RIVER: Carrs Food Centers have completed stocking their new store in Eagle River, and are holding their Grand Opening this week.

Carrs took over the Valu City Shopping Center last February and have added to their chain of supermarkets. This store is designated officially as Carr's No. 7, although it is at the present time the fourth store which Carr's operates in Alaska. The other three are located on Gamble Street in Anchorage, in the Aurora Shopping Center in Spenard and in Kenal. Eventually Carr's will have seven store total. The local store will be referred to as Carr's Eagle River in all advertisement.

The store has been completely restocked and features five complete departments.

Prices at the local store will be the same as at the two stores in Anchorage.

The meat department will offer USDA Choice beef, specially selected by professional buyers in Seattle. This has all been aged for flavor and tenderness, and very rigid standards of trim are observed to assure the customer of the very best value possible.

A special feature of all Carr's meats, is the "see thru" meat trays, which enable to customer

MOTORCYCLE SAFETY STRESSED

Department of public safety commissioner Mel J. Personett has announced a safety program stressing safe operating procedures for motorcyclists.

Several recent serious accidents with motorcycles might have been avoided if a few simple procedures had been followed, Personett said.

For greater motorcycle safety the commissioner offered the following advice:

Be on the lookout for objects in the road, uneven surfaces, pedestrians, people getting out of cars, traffic about to enter the roadway, and cars about to turn or change lanes. Drive well out in the roadway. . . where you can see and be seen.

Carry a passenger only if you are an experienced driver and if your bike is designed to carry one. Never carry a passenger in front of you.

Don't cut off your view by crowding to close to the vehicle ahead. Reduce speed before entering curves and corners. Don't tempt centrifugal force: it works, especially on wet, sandy or oily pavement. Stunting on public roadways is out!

Never assume you've been noticed. Be visible. Wear bright colors. Remember two most important things, wear a helmet, goggles or face mask, and don't speed. Speeding increases both the danger of not being seen and the severity of the consequences of not being seen.

The injury odds against a motorcyclist are high. While three out of ten auto accidents produce bodily injuries, nine out of ten motorcycle accidents are injury producing.

"The best overall procedure to follow is to slow down and obey all traffic laws," Personett concluded.

Mamma, can I have a flower pot to plant a seed?

Certainly, Midge, help yourself.

Hey, what are you planting?

a grapefruit seed.

You dummy, that pot's too small. A grapefruit seed grows into a big tree.

I know that, stupid.

When it gets to big for the pot I'm going to translate it.

STUDENTS TREATED TO BANQUET

OLD CHUGIAK: At Chuglak Elementary School, on Thursday, April 27th, Mrs. Clea Stephens and Mrs. Beverly Emmons gave a banquet for all first and second grade pupils.

They were assisted by Mrs. Arvilla Soto, Mrs. James Montgomery, Mrs. Bernard Uher, Mrs. Jeanette Wallace, Mrs. Edna Seabolt, Mrs. F.S. Lee.

This banquet served as a learning device to teach manners, encourage proper dress and knowledge of what to expect in a banquet atmosphere.

Placemats, candles, paper flowers, candy cups, paper dolls displaying the dress of different nations and flags of these nations served to decorate the tables.

A special multicolored jello dessert was served all 130 students.

Mrs. Wyonoka Baumgardner and Mrs. Doris Larson were honored guests.

LOCAL WOMAN HURT IN ACCIDENT

EAGLE RIVER: The driver of a 1965 Pontiac sedan and her passenger were both injured when the car was forced off the road at mile 15 1/2 last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Laverne Belle Miller of mile 17 1/2 told the State Police that she had started to pass a car while northbound on the Glenn Highway. A car in the opposite lane was approaching too rapidly for her to return to her own lane and she hit the brakes and slid into the ditch to avoid hitting the other vehicle.

Her passenger, Katherine Terry, age 17, suffered a back injury, Mrs. Miller sustained a blow on the head and complained of pains in her back.

Both were taken to Providence Hospital for treatment. Damage to the Miller car was estimated at $400. No citations were given.

Cartoons, wildlife movies, ping-pong and dancing are among some of the other attractions. Babysitting and hat and coat checking will be provided for the convenience of those attending.

Main attraction is the famous "Chugiak Stew", which will be served all day from noon through 7pm.

The Stew tickets will cost $1.50 for adults, .75 for students and .50 for pre-schoolers.

The Chugiak Centennial Art Show will be taking place in the team teaching room from noon to 8pm, and everyone is invited to come and stay all day long.

The monies earned from the Stew will be used to help defray the cost of various school activities.

to see both sides of the meat he's buying. This has an added advantage of being more sanitary than paper trays, which tend to stick to the meat, and can be stored in the freezer. This type of packaging is very popular throughout the country, and Carr's is extremely proud not only to be one of the first stores in the nation to adopt it, but the first in Alaska.

Another department to which the management points with pride, is the produce section, where fresh fruits and vegetables are procured from all over the world.

They feature out of season fruits from South America during the winter months, when they are unobtainable in the United States. It is not unusual to find fresh strawberries at Carr's weeks before their competitors have them. This is because Carr's has contacts throughout the lower 48 to procure these products for them.

They claim their standards of trim are unsurpassed by anyone in the industry.

Their special pride is in their Home Center Department, where the customer will find over 10,000 items normally used in the home from day to day. Many of these are pre-priced at the same popular prices as in the lower 48. Carr's policy is to sell these items at this lower 48 price.

The Snack Bar will remain in operation and will be open from 9am to 5pm daily. They will feature fresh coffee, sandwiches, pie and ice cream. Emphasis in this department will be on cleanliness and tasty food. The snack bar will from time to time feature terrific specials, and all customers are reminded to be on the look out for them.

Store Manager for Carr's Eagle River is Clyde McCaughey. The meat department is managed by John Plankenship, who will be on hand 11 times to make those special cuts that people are always asking for.

Larry Carr, President of the Carr's chain has been in the grocery business in Alaska for about 18 years. He says he had always wanted a store in this area, and is pleased that this has finally come about.

Carr's intend to become a part of this community, and intend to strive provide the local residents with a modern supermarket, offering top quality products at popular prices.

The Grand Opening will continue all this week, with free coffee and cookies to be served over the weekend. A door prize, consisting of a five piece silver tea service will be given away. Everyone is invited to drop in and fill out a ticket. No purchase is necessary to have a chance on this valuable prize.

LITTLE LEAGUE TO TRY OUT THIS WEEK

CHUGIAK: There will be tryouts for all teams in the Knik Little League this week. On May 4th, Thursday, players will tryout at the diamond at the Eagle River School at 6:30pm. On the following day, Friday team tryouts will be held at the Chugiak Carnival ball park, also at 6:30pm.

All boys who have not already registered are asked to please bring birth certificates or other proof of age. Also, a one dollar donation toward the cost of insurance is required.

Any boys having uniforms in their possession are asked to bring them to the tryouts. Also anyone knowing the whereabouts of any uniforms is asked to call 688-6373.

A sponsor is still needed for one team, and a coach and manager for the Panthers is also needed.

LOCAL SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER ATTENDS PORTLAND MEETING

PORTLAND ORE: Dale Pierson, local representative to the GAAB School Board, accompanied other school board members to the annual meeting of the National School Boards Association in Portland which concluded on Tuesday, April 25.

The Alaska delegation, which consisted of thirty school board members representing nine school districts, was headed by Lloyd Nault of Ketchikan, State President, with Mrs. Kathryn Ostrosky of Naknek and John Hughes of Anchorage as official delegates to the NSBA Delegate Assembly. Denny Breaud of Fairbanks and Keith Lesh of Anchorage were alternate delegates.

Professional negotiations, urban school district problems and federal involvement in education were among the critical issues stressed in general and clinic sessions by the 8700 registrants. Representative Edith Green, and Senator Wayne Morse, both of Oregon, were featured speakers.

For the first time at an NSBA convention the Alaska association established a headquarters suite and hospitality room. Numerous displays of Alaskan slides and movies attracted visitors from nearly every state. Informational pass-out materials received widespread acceptance.

LIONESS BAKE SALE TO BENEFIT LIBRARY

OLD CHUGIAK: The Chuglak Public Library has recently moved to the old Post Office Building across from the Chuglak Elementary School.

The Loussac Library of which the local library is a branch, provided paint to freshen the walls and ceiling, but no funds were available to take care of the floor which looked very badly.

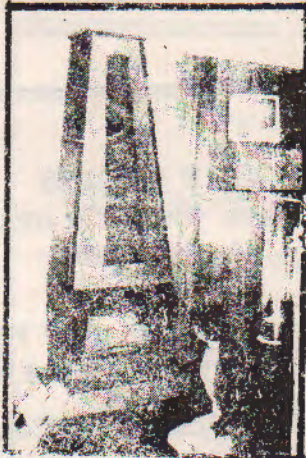

The Chuglak Lioness Club is sponsoring a bake sale at Carr's Eagle River store on May 13th, to raise money for rugs for the library.

It is hoped that all the women of the community interested in the library will donate cakes, bread or pies for this sale.

Anyone wishing their contribution picked up, is asked to call Mrs. Kallenberg, at 688-5070, and arrangements will be made.

In the meantime the Lioness Club has advanced the library money from their treasury and this enabled them to take advantage of a sale of rugs at the surplus outlet at Elmendorf. Consequently, the library is looking much better, is warmer. The library committee is anxious that the sale be a success so that the Lioness Club may be reimbursed.

The sale will be held all day on May 13th, the Saturday before Mother's Day.

BURGLARY AT HIGH SCHOOL INVESTIGATED

BIRCHWOOD: State Police received a call from Barney Sabo, Chugiak High School Principal, reporting evidence of burglary and vandalism at the school.

The discovery of this was made at 7:30pm on April 30th. Investigation was unable to determine the means of entry to the building, as all doors were locked. However, once inside the building the person or persons gained entry to the school office by breaking glass partitions and opening the doors.

A payroll check in the amount of $535, made out to Don Sanders was taken, as well as the cash sum of $3.00 and change from the library fund.

Glass breakage was estimated at $500. The police are still investigating.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

OPEN LETTER TO LOCAL RESIDENTS:

To Whom It May Concern:
..... and this should include businessmen in the area, home owners and any individual interested in the growth of this community.

As you no doubt know, the co-owners of the Eagle River Bowl have decided to give it up. The persons interested in buying the building are not interested in using it as a bowling alley.

The bowling alley is the only recreational facility in the Eagle River - Chugiak area and closure of this business would tend to discourage businessmen from investing in other recreation type facilities, such as a theatre, in this area. It would be a step backward for the community.

A few interested people have joined together and come up with an idea that will put the alleys on a paying basis; however, it will take money. The money will have to be raised to pay for the business. This will eliminate the necessity to pay interest. The interest saved will support the alleys.

It will take a community effort to raise the money. If enough people are interested an association could be formed. Employees will be hired by this association and all monies received disbursed by it.

If you have $500 to invest in your community - step right up! Or if you have $250 and a friend has $250 - get together! Or four friends with $100, or nine friends with $50. Maybe your league could buy a share in the name of the leagues (40 members at $12.50 each) and when the investment started paying off, the interest could be added to the prize fund of the league. Anyway, you can get the money together and buy into this investment would be great!

The dead-line for getting organized is May 12th. If you'd like to help, stop in at the bowling alley and let them know they have your support.

RESIDENTS REMINDED OF DUMP REGULATIONS

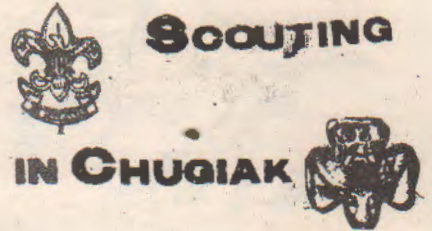

FT. RICHARDSON: The area being used as a sanitary fill(dump) for the Greater Chugiak Area, has been cleaned up by an individual under contract to the Borough, and the road to the dump is in good condition. There is still some work needed, but this cannot be done until all the frost has gone out of the ground.

"No dumping" signs have been secured from the Department of Highways, and these have been placed along the road to the dump.

Local residents are reminded that this dump is being operated on an experimental basis, to determine whether it can be left open to the public on a 24 hour basis, 7 days a week, with no caretaker present.

If it is learned, however, that dump users do not observe the dumping regulations unpoliced are the only alternatives are to close the dump completely, or to hire a caretaker at an increased rate.

BROWNIES TO VISIT NURSERY

BIRCHWOOD: Brownies of Troop 54 have been invited on a field trip of the H&H Nursery greenhouses in Birchwood.

Transportation to the Nursery will be provided by the scout leaders where necessary, but parents must plan to pick up their daughters at the Nursery at around 4:00pm.

SCOUTS MAKE GIFTS FOR MOTHERS

OLD CHUGIAK: Mrs. Rasmusson's Girl Scout Troop 72 has been very busy making Mother's Day presents.

The girls would also like to thank the people of the Greater Chugiak Area for purchasing Girl Scout Cookies. The money from the cookies will help Girl Scouts in other parts of the world, and three cents from every box will go to the local troop.
