

DUMP FEES TO BE CHARGED AGAIN

Snow and frozen ground have failed to stop this tracked monster which has been crawling along the roads and through the fields of the Chugiak area.

It is the cable laying rig, which belongs to the W. L. Grasle Electrical Contractors, who are installing the cable for the new Chugiak exchange of the Matanuska Telephone Association.

The machine digs a trench about six inches wide and eighteen inches deep, and lays the cable in it as it moves. A second tractor comes along and covers the cable. This is a continuous operation. The rig moves at about two miles per hour, and the excavation is covered up immediately, inconveniencing the public hardly at all.

ONE HUNDRED SIGN SCHOOL PETITION

CHUGIAK: A petition urging the GAAB School Administration to adjust the local school boundaries so that classroom and teaching facilities could be used to the best advantage for all has been signed by approximately 100 parents, and is to be presented to school administration officials today. A copy of the petition will also be presented to the borough school board.

The petition was begun when it was learned that an earlier petition to change the boundary from the one

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS DATE NOVEMBER 1st

OLD CHUGIAK: A Democratic Caucus, for the Peters Creek, Chugiak and Birchwood precincts has been scheduled for Wednesday, November 1st.

The caucus will be held at the old Chugiak Community Hall at mile 21, and will begin promptly at 8:00pm.

An election of officers will be conducted at this time and delegates elected to attend the convention in Seward on November 18 and 19th.

All Democrats in the area are urged to attend.

EAGLE RIVER: The local sanitary fill, which was closed last week due to the lack of funds for continued operation, may re-open on Saturdays and Sundays of a fee basis.

The dump had been operated as a free, open at all times sanitary fill on the assumption of the Borough Assembly that voters of the Greater Chugiak Area would approve a proposed one-quarter mill tax for its operation. The Borough Assembly had advanced one thousand dollars toward its operation until funds from taxes could be collected. To meet the Borough and State Departments of Health standards of maintenance of a sanitary fill, an additional $980.00 of cat work was performed by the contractor, Ernest Roetman of Highland Hills, during the period of February to October 3rd, at which time the voters of the area turned down the dump proposition.

Cliff Judkins, of the Borough Health Department met Monday with Assemblyman Ed Willis, representatives of the Chugiak Benefit Association, the Borough legal and Public Works Departments, trailer court owner, Stanley Nickerson, and Mr. Roetman to consider possible plans for re-opening and means of financing the operation.

It was at this time that Assemblyman Willis suggested that it be opened on Saturdays and Sundays eight hours each day manned by volunteer help from the area, to collect fee charges substantially the same as charged at the City and Spenard sanitary fills.

Since the Chugiak Benefit Association is held responsible by the Borough Administration for acceptable maintenance of the facility, a meeting has been scheduled for 7:30pm on Thursday at the home of Les Todd in Eagle River, at which time Assemblyman Willis will present his proposal to the Board of Directors of CBA for consideration.

Assemblyman Willis said that beginning this weekend, the dump would be open from 10am to 6pm on Saturday, and from 12 noon to 6pm on Sunday. He said that a gate has been erected across the road to the dump where at road joins the Glenn Highway. This he felt would discourage people from driving down the road out of sight of the highway, and then dumping their trash outside the gate during the hours when the dump was not open.

FOOD COSTS LESS THIS YEAR

Retail food prices, though at the highest level for 1967, averaged 1.5 per cent below the peak reached in September of last year, according to the quarterly report on Alaska's food prices compiled by the Alaska Agricultural Experiment Station. The average "basket" price for 11 Alaska cities this past quarter was $22.97, or 35 cents lower than the $23.32 registered a year ago.

Pork prices accounted for a large part of the decrease, the report stated, with bacon averaging 10½ cents a pound lower and pork chops down five cents a pound. Beef prices were vir-pound.

Butter was down two cents a pound from a year ago, this decline being balanced by a two cent a pound rise in the price of margarine. Egg prices, influenced by the largest June egg production on record and a five per cent increase in the laying stock nationally, declined by 13.8 per cent from a year ago, the report continued. Some cities reported a drop in egg prices from last year of 10 to 18 cents a dozen.

Fresh fruit and vegetable prices averaged higher than last year, with the exception of onions which were three cents a pound lower.

Retail food prices for the third quarter, June to September, 1967, edged upward with the "basket" containing forty food items costing consumers in eleven Alaskan cities $22.97 in September compared to $22.90 in June, or a rise of seven cents. Although five cities reported lower average prices for the quarter the rising prices in the other six more than offset these reductions.

Tell it to Martha

BY: MARTHA COUNCIL

Dear Martha,

Please tell me, what is wrong with me. I had a miserable marriage, and I fought long and hard before I could get him to give me a divorce. My ex-husband was a miser, a drunk and very abusive and cruel. I think that I would have killed him eventually if I hadn't been able to get that divorce.

Recently he has started keeping company with another woman. I have run into them a couple of times, and for some reason I find that I feel jealous of her. Why should I feel this way. I wouldn't want him back if it meant I had to die instead, yet I feel just hate to see them together. Am I crazy or something?

as you do. If you could see them in circumstances such as the ones that led to your divorce, I am sure you wouldn't trade places with her.

Try to avoid running into them as much as you can, and make new friends and above all stop worrying about whether or not you are crazy. What you are feeling is entirely normal. No marriage was without its good moments, and it is only natural that you should feel some regrets.

Sincerely,

Martha Council

MEASLES ARE DOWN

Measles cases reported 11 Alaska from Jan. 1 to Sept. 16, 1967 show nearly a 75 per cent drop from the number reported for the same period last year. These are cases of red measles (rubeola) for which a new vaccine was developed that has been used on a statewide immunization campaign for the past 18 months, according to Dr. John Chapman, commissioner of the Alaska department of health and welfare.

He said that "the 1966 incidence reported was 508 cases as compared with 140 cases for the same period in 1967."

"Measles can be eradicated," Doctor Chapman said, "now that we have available a vaccine which gives lifelong immunity to this serious disease. It can be fatal, it can cause permanent hearing damage, and it can result in mental retardation. All children should have the protection of measles immunization which may be received from private physicians and at Public Health clinics."

SEARCH ON FOR DOG OF THE YEAR

The annual search is now under way for the Alaskan dog to receive the Alaska SPCA, Inc. "Dog of the Year" award.

The award will be presented at the Kinmuk Style Show on Saturday, Nov. 4, at 1 p.m. in the ballroom of the Anchorage Westward Hotel.

Nominations should include a description of the incident, name and description of the dog, and name and address of the dog's owner. Entries may be from anywhere in Alaska. The deadline for receipt of information is Oct. 27.

All entries should be mailed to Alaska SPCA, Inc., Box 776, Anchorage, Alaska 99501.

The 1966 award winner was Mijo, female Saint Bernard, who rescued her young mistress, Philiciann Bennett, from a gravel pit where she had become trapped after a bank gave way. Mijo's owners are Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bennett of Anchorage.

The 1965 award winner was Boo, husky-boxer, owned by young Ray Blacka of Unalakleet. Boo had awakened his master and companions when sparks from a campfire ignited the cabin in which they were sleeping.

which the school planners had established for the start of the school year back to the mile 17 boundary of previous years. This resulted in an imbalance of students, with the Eagle River school overcrowded, and the Chugiak Elementary School with unassigned teachers and unused classrooms. This also caused the enrollment of the Chugiak Elementary School to fall below the minimum number of students required to justify the need for a full time principal. Because of this the administration had planned to remove Emerson Sortore as principal of the Chugiak school, and have Birchwood School Principal, Harry Wimmer carry out the duties as principal at both schools, devoting half of his time to one school, and half to the other.

Parents felt that this would not have been necessary had not the Administration yielded to the pressure of the first petition, and began the second petition in hopes that the situation could be corrected.

An alternative to returning the school boundaries to the point where the school administration had set them prior to the first petition, was to have some parents living on the north end of the Birchwood Loop volunteer to send their children to the Chugiak grade school in hopes of bringing the enrollment back to the number necessary to retain a principal. It was learned that the enrollment was thirteen students short of the minimum.

Mr. Sortore said that as of Monday, there were six children from Birchwood whose parents had offered to transfer them to the Chugiak School.

TUESDAY IS LADIES NIGHT AT CHS GYM

BIRCHWOOD: Tuesday's will be Ladies Night at the Chugiak High School gym.

All ladies in the community, (beginning with seventh grade girls and up) are invited to come down and participate in activities such as volleyball, badminton, basketball etc.

This team will eventually play the High School girls basketball team on the annual Stew and Fun Day.

Mothers are asked not to bring younger children to the school, as there are no baby sitting facilities available.
