MORE PLEDGES NEEDED TO SAVE BOWLING ALLEY

EAGLE RIVER: The question of whether efforts to save the Eagle River Bowl will be successful hinge on whether or not investors can be found who can pledge an additional $23,000.00.

Ray Viau, manager of the bowling alley stated that he had just come from a meeting with the bank who holds the mortgage on the bowl. The amount needed to resolve the debt is $240,000. Of this 40% is to be financed through the small business administration, 40% by the bank and 20% from local funds. The latter sum amounts to $48,000. Of this $25,000 has been pledged. The additional $23,000 in pledges is needed to provided the required $48,000.

Viau said that another meeting has been scheduled for this Thursday, July 13th at 8pm at the Eagle River Bowl's 300 Room. He hopes that prospective stockholders will show up and pledge the amount necessary to complete the transaction.

"Time has almost run out", he said. "If we can't come up with the money soon, the bowling alley is all finished."

go wrong. She never said one word to blame the boy.

Tell me, what do you think of this?

Caught him with the goods

Dear Martha,

I have been criticized by my neighbor and I want you to tell me if I have done anything wrong.

This little boy my son plays with is a nice enough child, but for a long time I have suspected him of "picking up" things. I have missed small items, even money from the house and always just after he has been over playing.

Now, I never saw him take anything, and without any proof, I felt I couldn't say anything. So I decided to set a trap.

I left some small change on the kitchen table and called the boys in for cookies and milk. Then I told them I was going to do my laundry. Instead I stayed just outside the door and peeked through the crack. Sure enough, this boy watched my son, and when his back was turned, he grabbed the money and shoved it in his pocket. I jumped back through the door, and grabbed the kid red handed. I then marched him next door to his mother and told her the whole story, he couldn't deny it, because he still had the money in his pocket.

Now do you want to know what his mother said? She blamed me for deliberately placing temptation in the child's path, and said it was people like me who caused kids to

Dear Caught him etc,

I am not sure what I think. I know that if someone were to come over and tell me that they had caught my child stealing, I would be embarrassed, shocked and angry.

Your neighbor was probably feeling all of these things, and may have expressed herself in a manner which did not reflect her true feelings about the situation. Now while I think your system of trapping the boy was a little brutal, still if he had continued to "pick up" things without anyone ever saying anything to him, then he might graduate to picking up cars and other items.

No doubt the experience of being caught red handed will be something he will not forget, and perhaps the next time he sees something that he is tempted to pick up, he may remember that someone may be peering through a crack in the door at him, and decide not to take it. Also the boy's mother probably had words to say to the child after you left that let him know what she thought of his hobby.

Sincerely,

Martha Council

BANKERS STILL TIED FOR FIRST PLACE

CHUGIAK: Eagle River Branch 1st National Bank maintained its bid for first place in the East division of Anchorage Babe Ruth League after having been tied on June 30th by the Boys Club Team from City View.

Last Thursday, playing at Chugiak, the two teams battled to a ten inning 3-3 tie which ended when the game was called due to darkness.

Boys Club tagged Banker hurlers for 5 hits while Chugiak collected 4.

Banker Allen Wallis singled in the second inning, scoring Jim Kohring, who had drawn a base on balls and advanced to third on an error and a passed ball.

Boys Club scored their three runs in the 5th inning on 2 singles, a double and a Banker error. Chugiak returned in their half of the inning with Steve Jordan and Neal Bullock both reaching base on errors by Boys Club fielders. Kohring and Fred Olson followed with bases on balls scoring Bullock on the second walk. David Dias singled gringing in Jordan to tie the score.

Boys Club pitcher Kim Watsjold, went the full 10 innings, striking out 9, walking 8 and hitting one. Ron Tyson, who started for Chugiak, struck out 2 walked 3 and gave up 3 hits. Jordan, who took over pitching chores in the fifth, gave up two hits, struck out 5, issued 3 free trips and hit one batter.

Both teams fielded well, each allowing only four batters to reach first on errors. Boys Club made two double plays, throwing out one banker at first after a fly ball to left field and nailing 2 on a grounder to shortstop.

A Sunday game at Lake Otis was rained out.

On Tuesday, Banker pitcher, Fred Olson hurled a no hitter as the Chugiak team shut out the Teamsters of Mt. View 10-0 in five innings at Chugiak.
