SURPRISE! ARDYCE ALTON, PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE OFFERS A PIECE OF BIRTHDAY CAKE TO DR. GREEN AT THE SURPRISE COMMUNITY BIRTHDAY PARTY.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR DR. TOM

EAGLE RIVER: Is it possible for a community of over 6,000 people to keep a secret? Apparently the answer is YES, when it came to the Greater Chugiak Area keeping mum on the subject of the surprise birthday party for Dr. Tom Green.

Although all the clubs and organizations in the area had been alerted to the plans for the party, and were invited in any way they chose to participate, no one spilled the beans to the good Doctor, and he appeared genuinely surprised when he entered the store in Eagle River to drop in to what he had been led to believe was a community St. Patrick's Day party.

Dr. Green's birthday falls, appropriately, on St. Patrick's Day, although he lays claim to being only an "Houorary Irishman." The plans for a surprise party originated with Mrs. Robert Thomas of Eagle River, and Mrs. William Stephens of Peters Creek, but quickly spread to other friends of the Doctor and ended up as a community birthday party to serve to welcome the doctor to the community and to let him become acquainted with his new friends and neighbors.

A special gift ordered for the Doctor did not arrive in

FIRE DESTROYS LEE HOME

EAGLE RIVER: A Sunday afternoon fife completely ravaged the home of Willis W. Lee located at 1.4 miles up Eagle River Road.

The fire broke out at approximately 5:00pm. Mr. Lee had been working at installing plumbing, and was soldering copper pipe, when the torch he was using caught the floor timbers on fire. According to Eagle River Fire Chief Tom Take, Lee had run to get a hose to try to extinguish the fire, when the flames ignited the styrofoam ceiling tile that was used throughout the house. Take said this type of tile is highly imflamable, and burns like gasoline. The fire completely swept through the house, and although the Eagle River Company was assisted by men and equipment from Ft. Richardson and the Chugiak Volunteer Fire Company, it took them until 1:00am to get the fire completely extinguished. Only the shell of the log home stands, the building completely gutted.

Take said that approximately 40 men were fighting the fire.

During the evening the Fire Company transported Mrs.
Lee to the Anchorage Community Hospital in the ambulance where she was treated

DENTIST MAY FRACTICE HERE

EAGLE RIVER: Dr. Joseph Cumming, an Anchorage Dentist has announced his plans to practice in this area.

Dr. Cumming said that for the beginning he will come to this community one day a week. He will set up his equipment at the office of Dr. Thomas Green on Park Place in Eagle River. He said that he will probably be here on Wednesdays, the day that Dr. Green does not work out of his office.

Dr. Cumming has expressed a desire to move his family and practice to this area, and if he finds a need for a full time dentist here, he will do so.

PTA TO SERVE DESSERT

BIRCHWOOD: The Chugiak High School PTA will once again man the dessert booth at the fourth annual "Stew and Fun" day to be held this year on Saturday, March 23rd from noon to 7pm at Chugiak High School.

BIRCHWOOD: A committee to investigate the possibility of calling a special election for the establishment of a Fire Service District was named at a recent public meeting called by the Chugiak Volunteer Fire Company.

The Chugiak Volunteers had called this meeting to determine if there was any alternative to their proposed dishandment, which has been set for April 1st, 1968.

The prime reason given for disbandment was the lack of cooperation on the part of the residents of the area served, and the inability to collect enough subscriptions to maintain and operate the equipment.

Mr. Bud Saylors, a representative of the Borough Chairman's office explained the structure of a Fire Service District, and told how a special election could be authorized.

Mr. Saylors cited an example of what the owner of a home assessed at $20,000 would be taxed if a 1/2 mil tax rate should be approved by the voters. He stated that the tax on the property would be approximately $10 per year, which is the amount the Fire Company has been asking for subscriptions, and which only 28% of the residents have been contributing. If a Fire District should be voted in, every householder would be automatically taxed their share and all would then be contributing.

Mr. Saylors also told of the possibility of another source of revenue to Borongh Service Districts which is being proposed to the Borough Assembly. This is referred to as a shared revenue program, and consists of refunds from the State to the Borough from Electric coop funds, business license refunds and amusement and gaming refunds.

These funds have been going into the Borough General Fund, If shared among the service districts of the Borough it would be divided proportionate to the assessed property evaluation of the district. As an example, Mr. Saylors said that the property in the Causiak Fire Company's service area was assessed at approximately $8,000,000. This would bring $5,877 from the above mentioned funds to the service area above the money collected in assessed taxes.

Another source of income that the Fire District could look forward to would be in the area of ambulance service should the Borough Assembly approve taking over that function. The Borough

PTA CONVENTION HIGHLIGHTS

ANCHORAGE: Mrs. Leo Frelin, President of the Al-aska Congress of Parents and Teachers has announced the call to convention of the Sixth Biennial Meeting to be held in the Anchorage-Westward Hotel. Mrs. Frelin wants to make it clear that the meet-ings are held for all local PTA branches and delegates, but are open to the public at no cost on April 4,5, and 6. The theme is "Count-down for Tomorrow." Mrs Joyce Munson is convention chairman. The kickoff for the conclave is a safety Council, the Nat-ional Auto Safety Council and the National Chairman of Committee on Safety (1967-1970) of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers (NCPT). The co-chairmen of the Safety Conference entitled "New Attitudes in Safety" are Mrs. John Savage, Mrs. Kath-ryn Lester, and Lt. Col. S. Clark. Registration will be held at 8am in the hotel lobby.

Sessions will convene at 8:30am and 1:3pm.

That evening at 7:30, the Anchorage Council of Parents and Teachers, headed by President Forest Hunt, invite the public to a recpetion honoring distinguished speak-ers and delegates.

The first general session of the convention gets under way at 8:45 on Friday, following a no-host inspirational breakfast inspired by Dr. Richard Gay at 7:30. Greetings are to be heard, it is anticipated, from Commissioner Thomas Governor, the Honorable George Sullivan, Mayor of Anchorage; Mr. John Asplund, Borough Chairman; Dr. Clif-ford Hartman, State Commis-sioner of Education, Dr. Carlisle Kramer, Superinten-dent of the Anchorage Borough School District and Mrs. Dor-othy Jones, acting 1st Vice-President of the Alaska Congress of Parents and Teachers (ACPT). The morning session is to be keynoted by Mrs. Leon Price, Ist Vicemorning President of the NCPT.

A Symposium, moderated by Mr. Thomas J. Moore will tader way at 1:45 for the early session on the subject Community Action, How Do Play a Part as Parents and Teachers?" speaker of the evening is to be announced later.

Saturday morning session convenes at 9am when reports of resolutions and legislative action will be taken up followed by an afternoon session at 2pm when the resolutions and legislative recommendations are expected to be finalized.

That evening at 6:30 new officers will be installed at the Rabbit Creek Inn, hosted by the Elmendorf PTA.

We anticipate that some timely and even controversial issues will be open for discussion and resolution. This should be of interest not only to the general citizenry, but also to the leg-islature convening in Juneau. Education is our most important business as may be seen from state and borough ex-penditures. What is import-and to the collection of PTA presidents and delegates will probably reflect the will of the people and the purse-string in Alaska in the futire.

Dear Martha,

My problem isn't going to break any hearts, but I could sure use a helpful suggestion.

I work in an office in town and have the title of "Vice President". The office is ery fancy as is my desk and title, the only thing that isn't fancy is my paycheck, the janitor who cleans up makes more than I do. Before we go any further, I want to keep this job for a while as I belive that through it I can meet important people and can move on to better things.

Since my salary is small, and my wife and I have many bills to pay, we try to cut corners every way we can. I have been bringing my lunch to save eating out every day. Last week my boss told me that it is bad for image of the office to see the Vice-President eat-ing out of a brown bag at his desk, and has told me to desist.

Now, Martha, even eating at the dime store is more than we can afford. I tried eating my lunch in the car, but it is cold and uncomfortable. In the summer I could go to the park, but what can I do now;

Dear Hungry etc.
I assume that your fancy office does not have a fancy you can hide with your sack lunch.

There is one idea I can offer. I have noticed a number of people who are using the benches in our indoor park to relax and even enjoy snacks. I am referring to the Mall Shopping Center near Sears,

No one apparently objects to this practice, and you could not only find it a pleasant spot to spend your lunch hour, but you wouldn't have to worry about your image any longer.

Sincerely.

AUNT PELKY SAYS

"Hi you all. We really missed you las Thuraday. Sorry that we goofed. When the news was written we didn't know that school would be out on Thursday, so Mamma couldn't have a day out. We also learned that many clubs meet on that day, so we are changing your Community changing your Community Patak meeting day to Fridays.

Just in case you are interested or curious, in Eskimo, Patak means Central Igloo. That is the large Igloo Igloo. That is the large Igloo where the villagers hold their meetings. We hope to see you at your Patak.

In case anyone missed reading last weeks article, we are again extending an invitation to all women from Eagle River to Eklutna for a fun meet. The day is Friday and it will be from 11:00am to 2:00pm at your Community Center in the basement of the Chugiak Methodist Church. The entrance is located on the left side of the building as you face it from the parking lot.

Bring a bag lunch and a cup for free coffee.

Our goal is to bring you the tupe of program that you will enjoy on you day away from home and kids.

Some suggested programs are: Swap day. Bring out-grown boots, ice skates, jackets, house plants, white el-ephants, knicknacks or that awful "Dodad" that Aunt Esmerelda or Uncle Silas gave you. Who knows, you may find a neighbor who wants it and has something to trade. Home decoration day. Learn or share ineqpensive ways to decorate your home.

Household budgeting and food buying tips. Arts and Crafts day. This program can succeed only if you participate. We do not expect you to get up in front of a group to demonstrate an idea unless you want to. Bring your suggestions to us, and we will do our best to share them with your neighbors. If you have an idea for a fun project let us know, and we will bring it up at one of the meetings.

This Friday, Elva will demonstrate mending and sewing. She has asked that you bring your mending, so she may help you find an easy way to do the job. She also needs your sewing and mending tips to pass along.

If you need items in order to demonstrate an interesting ides, let us know so that we may ask for them at the meet-

Students from the Basic Education class are welcome to have a study period at this same time if they need to make up honr time.

If the women of the commun-ity are interested, we will try to bring other programs to them such as, Family Plan-ning, Pre-natal care, child ning, Pre-natal care, child care or any subject of general interest.

We are desperately in need of all items listed in last week newsletter. In order to help needy families set up housekeeping we need odd forks, dishes, cups, washboards, tubs etc. Please call us or bring them to the meetings. Your neighbor in distress does not expect new household items or complete sets of dishes or what have you.

Due to your response last Walker your Kathy community aide received an offer of clean clothing from two of your neighbors.

She also took people into town to receive these services; two families received welfare, one was taken to the Office of Vocational Re-habilitation and another to receive doctors care.

She also delivered spaghetti that had been donated by your G.O.A.L Council to the Fairview Community Center to help them put on their spaghelp the hetti feed.

For her files for you, Kathy needs: Listings on low rentals in this area, jobs you need, a job you have for a neighbor, whether it be part or full time work, baby sitting or whatever you need.

Your household hint for this week. To clean knives and save fingers, rub knife with cork dipped in water then in scouring powder.
