EAGLE RIVER: A plan to establish a sewer service area in Eagle River is being proposed, the Knik Arm Courier learned this week. Glenn Briggs, an Eagle River business man, stated that during the past week, a house to house survey of the property owners within the area bounded by the Eagle River Loop road on the North, upper Grady Phillips subdivision on the East, Monte Road on the South and extending West to include the populated section of the Artillery Road was made to determine the property owners' interest in forming the sewer service area. Approximately 300 pieces of property were said to have been involved. According to Briggs, it appeared that 75% of the ownership of the area, with the exception of the Sunny Slopes subdivision, tentatively approved such a service area.

Briggs pointed out that in 1964-65 a sewer study and plan was made for the Greater Anchorage Area by the engineering firm of Tryck, Nyman and Haynes, and Stephens and Thompson of Anchorage and Portland under a federal grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The study was extended in 1965-66 to include the Greater Chugiak Area.

Briggs said that as far back as 1965, property owners in the vicinity of the Eagle River School and Shopping Center became aware of an imminent need for removing the accumulating sewage from the area. He also said that with the approval of the Anchorage Borough Administration last April, five business owners of Eagle River engaged the engineering firm of Thiel and Renshaw to get the initial stages of the Eagle River portion of the Tryck and Nyman study under construction. This project was accepted by the Farmers Home Administration last in September, who requested a preliminary engineering report by October 25th.

Briggs reported that on the basis of the tentative expression by the above property owners, such a preliminary engineering report of the area outlined (excluding the Sunny Slopes Subdivision) is being prepared by Thiel and Renshaw for submission to the Farmers Home Administration.

Briggs explained that only rural areas with populations under 5000 people can qualify for programs under Farmers Home Administration. Accepted programs under FHA

FIRE COMPANY SAVES GARAGE

BIRCHWOOD: Prompt response by the Chugiak Volunteer Fire Company limited damage by fire to the residence of Mrs. Christa Burg of Birchwood Road.

The fire apparently had started at an outside wall of the garage last Friday night. A lean-to shed had been constructed against that wall, and hay and straw was stored there.

The only one at home at the time the fire broke out was Mrs. Burg's 16 year old son Richard. The boy immediately called the Fire Company, who responded within minutes, and succeeded in extinguishing the fire with damage to only the wall and the roof of the building.

Mrs. Burg said that five of her dogs had been locked in the garage at the time of the fire. None of the animals appeared to be harmed. Mrs. Burg operated the Birchwood Kennels at that location.

Damage was estimated at $4,000. The loss was covered by insurance.

IT'S OKAY TO BURN HERE

ANCHORAGE: To Burn, or Not to Burn (garbage that is,) will not be a matter of concern to the residents of the Greater Chugiak Area, with the passage of the Ammended ordinance by the Borough Assembly last Monday night.

In its final form, the Ordinance limits the control of garbage burning to the Spenard, Sand Lake and Muldoon Service areas, leaving out Chugiak and Rabbit Creek.

Local Assemblyman Ed Willis stated that he voted in favor of the ammendment which would exclude the rural areas, but was the one opposing vote in the 10-1 final tally which passed the ammended ordinance.

He explained his opposition was to give time for the Borough Health Board to review the Ammended Ordinance. He said that a request had been received by the Assembly from the Health Board asking that passage be delayed until they had an opportunity to review the new ordinance. Willis explained that the Assembly had given the Health Board the original Ordinance

SCHOOL PLANS TO BE DRAWN

ANCHORAGE: The GAAB School Board, has approved a memorandum commissioning the architectural firm of Crittenden, Cassetta, Wilum and Camon to prepare the plans for the new instructional materials center and vocational training department to be built at Chugiak High School. This is the firm which originally designed the school.

The board also commissioned the firm of Manley and Mayer to prepare plans and specifications for the six room addition to Birchwood Elementary School.

Local Assemblyman Ed Willis said that both these projects should be ready to be put out for bid by next March, and hopefully the new additions would be ready for use by the start of the school year of 1969.

can be financed by up to a fifty percent grant and the balance on twenty year loans at three to four percent interest.

The system as proposed by Tryck and Nyman and approved by the Borough Administration and State Department of Health, is described by Briggs, as an areated lagoon or lagoons, located on the Military Reservation due west of the shopping center, and a trunk system capable of meeting the ultimate needs of the entire Eagle River area. The boundaries of the initial Service Area would be expanded in the future as needs and demands require.

Briggs said that he hoped a commitment from Farm Home Administration can be obtained by January. During the interim, he said, more specific information on total costs of the proposed project, more accurate estimates of the costs to the property owner and procedure for formally creating the service area will be made available to the community for public study and discussion. Final decision on the formation of the sewer area will be made by the property owners at an election after all information has been made available to them.

Briggs said that he is also hopeful that the system could be in operation before winter of 1969.

He went on to say that Tryck and Nyman have developed a Master Plan in their sewer study for the ultimate needs of the Greater Chugiak Area, phased in as needed, by four trunk lines; Valley South Trunk line to serve the area south of Eagle River, and Valley North Trunk, to serve the area between Eagle River and Fire Lake with areated lagoon treatment facilities on the Military Reservation; the Old Chugiak and Peters Creek Trunk lines to serve those areas with treatment facilities at the mouth of Fire Creek west of Birchwood.

Briggs said, "The people of our Greater Chugiak Area are going to determine by locality when they need to take advantage of the sewer study and Federal funds which hopefully will be available in the future".

Briggs concluded by saying that copies of the Eagle River and Chugiak Area Sewage Study are available in limited quantities to the general public.

EDITOR

OPEN LETTER:

To the Crew of the Chugiak
Volunteer Fire Company

To each and everyone of the firemen who helped put out the fire at our residence
Friday night. I want to express my most sincere gratitude and thanks.

According to my son, who was the only one at home at the time the fire broke out, the fire truck arrived at our place in less than ten minutes after having been notified. By their tremendous efficiency, they actually prevented the huge flames from spreading through the whole complex. They very ably confined the fire to the garage
wall, the area where the fire started.

CAREER GUIDANCE OFFERED HIGH SCHOOL YOUTH

ANCHORAGE: "How, when and where to apply for a job, and how to prepare yourself for a job while still in High School", will be explained to interested boys in grades 9 to 12, through a special project sponsored by the Boy's Club of Alaska.

Entitled "Careers -- World of Work", the program is designed to bring information to the boys on all jobs involved in business and industry.

This is to be done through a series of workshops, to be held every Wednesday night at the Hubbard Memorial School (formerly Catholic Jr. High School), on Fireweed Lane in Anchorage.

The programs will be along the line of a panel discussion, followed by a question and answer session. Leading persons from the various businesses to be discussed will conduct these workshops. Where it is feasible, a field trip will be scheduled; such as a visit to the KTVA studio for the broadcasting session, and to the Anchorage Daily News for the newspaper session.

The first such workshop will start tonight, Wednesday, October 16th. This will be Broadcasting. Others that follow will be: October 23rd, Newspaper industry, October 30th, Helicopter industry, November 6th, Fish and Game, November 13th, Petroleum; November 20th, Forestry and Wilderness, December 7th, Accounting, and December 14th, Aviation.

These sessions begin at 7pm and there is no registering or signing up necessary. Any high school boys from any of the four Borough High Schools who are interested in any of these subjects need only appear at the school on the night of the workshop.

Although this program has been designed for boys, girls who may be interested in any of the above subjects may participate.

REAL ONE

OLD CHUGIAK: Students at the Chugiak Elementary School will have the opportunity to learn how a general election works first hand, according to school Principal, Emerson Sortore.

The students are nominating and electing their candidates for student council according to the same rules that are observed by the adults who are running for state office.

Those wishing to run for office had to circulate a petition among their classmates, and obtain a specified number of signatures before being eligible to be placed on the ballot. Then follows a period of campaigning, with a primary election to be held on Friday, October 18th.

Winners in the primary will then compete for office at a general election to be held on November 5th, the same day as the State General Election.

Sortore said that the candidates will have the opportunity to "see themselves as others see them", through the use of a video tape recorder which the school district owns. This piece of equipment will make a video tape of the candidates while they campaign and debate the issues, and then play it back over the school's closed circuit TV set.

Sortore said that the School District owns two such recorders, and one of the many uses for them is to tape students in their classrooms, and then allow the parents to view their children in class when the tapes are played back at PTA meetings and such. Sortore said that the recorder would be used to show the first and second grade and the Special Education students at Chugiak Elementary at work, and this will be shown to the parents at the next PTA meeting.

Out of the Past

TAKEN FROM THE PAGES OF THE KNIK ARM COURIER ISSUE OF OCTOBER 16, 1958

FREAK ACCIDENT DESTROYS HOUSE: The home belonging to Arthur Brautigain, which he had built at Mile 35 and each year was inundated by the flood waters of the Knik River, was being moved to Anchorage yesterday morning, when it met with an unusual accident as it reached Peters Creek Bridge. Two cranes were employed to lift the house high enough to clear the bridge trusswork and in the process one of the cranes started to tip over. The operator of the crane was thrown from his machine and the house dropped on the bridge where it broke into pieces. Traffic was halted for several hours before all the debris could be cleared away. All the Brautigain's household goods, which were in the house were bulldozed into the creek.

DANCES TO BE HELD AT CARNIVAL HALL: Public dances are held each Saturday evening at the Carnival Hall. All kinds of dances are played and there is a caller for some square dancing.

FIRE COMPANY GETS NEW EQUIPMENT

CHUGIAK: New equipment, repairs to present vehicles, improvements to the Fire Hall...all these were revealed in a report by the Board of Supervisors to the newly formed Chugiak Fire Service District this week.

According to Bob Kallenberg, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, the Chugiak Volunteer Fire Company has fallen heir to some of the equipment, and has been able to purchase others at surplus prices.

Presented to the Fire Company, at no cost to the tax payers of this area was a Ford pumper-tanker, which had been the property of the Rabbit Creek Fire District. This is the same model as the one the Chugiak Company now owns, and plans are to cannibalize it and make one good machine out of the two. Also a new engine has been acquired for the big tanker, and this will be installed within a week.

The rescue department of the Fire Company will have doubled usefulness with the purchase of a surplus four wheel drive Dodge Power Wagon. This had been used as a military ambulance, and will be outfitted as a crash truck for use in highway accidents where victims may have to be extricated from wrecked cars, and will accompany the fire trucks on calls. It will also be available for stand-by in the case that the present Cadillac ambulance is out of commission or out on a call.

Kallenberg also stated that work is underway to insulate the Fire Hall at mile 18 1/2 and prepare it for winter.

A surplus furnace has been purchased and will be installed in the building, and the ambulance shed will also be insulated. "This is being done at minimum expense," Kallenberg stated. "This was never meant to be more than a temporary building, and a new one will have to be built next year."

Kallenberg also pointed out that the Fire Company is in need of more volunteers. "Too few men are trying to do too much", he said. "We need more men, particularly some who would be available for call during the daytime."

He concluded by saying that anyone interested in becoming a volunteer would be welcome to call him for additional information.

to review, but had not let them see it after the changes.

Willis also said that he feels the ordinance in its present form is still far from acceptable. He feels that it should be under Zoning, and not tied to the Service Areas. In that way, if some densely populated section should wish to adopt burning control they could do it without involving the entire Service Area, he concluded.
