

WILLIS OPPOSES BURNING ORDINANCE

Annabelle Lee Hansen

Lynda Lee Nichols

NEW CHUGIAK ELEMENTARY TEACHERS

ANCHORAGE: Ed Willis, the Borough Assemblyman for the Greater Chugiak Area is opposed to the ordinance regulating the burning of garbage although he was one of the nine assemblymen who voted in favor of the ordinance.

Willis explained this seemingly contradictory action by showing that as a member of the prevailing side (in this case those favoring the ordinance) he could immediately ask that the matter be brought up for reconsideration at the next Monday's Assembly meeting.

Ordinance 52-68, which concerns limiting the burning of garbage and other materials and requires a permit for all open fires, started out as an ordinance limited to the Spenard area.

Willis has been out of the State on personal business for several weeks, and had not had time to familiarize himself with the ordinance and all its implications. He said that he had managed to get the ordinance amended to apply to homes no closer than 200 feet to any other residence rather than 1,000 feet as it was originally written.

Willis said that he plans to meet with the local board of supervisors for the Chugiak Fire Service District and bring the ordinance to their attention for possible ways to make it more applicable for the rural areas.

The vote on the ordinance last Monday was 9 for and 2 against.

MOOSE SEASON CLOSED

ANCHORAGE: Ronald J. Somerville, Regional Game Supervisor for Southcentral Alaska wishes to remind hunters that bull moose seasons in Game Management Units 14A and 15A will close on September 20, 1968.

Unit 14A is the area near Palmer and Wasilla. Unit 15A is the area near Soldotna and Kenai.

Exact boundaries can be found in the 1968-69 hunting, trapping and guiding Regulations.

The remainder of the units near Anchorage will remain open until September 30, 1968.

LOCAL ENROLLMENT FIGURES UP

CHUGIAK: Total enrollment at the three local elementary schools has exceeded the projected figures of the School District it was learned today.

The enrollment at Birchwood (exclusive of the seventh grade) is 261 students, at Chugiak Elementary 226 and at Eagle River, 500. This is a total of 987 elementary students in the Greater Chugiak Area.

Chugiak High School enrollment shows, 412 in the Junior High (grades 7, 8 and 9) and 272 in the Senior High (grades 10, 11 and 12). This is only seven students short of the projected figure, but late enrollment is expected to bring this figure higher.

The seventh grade students are housed at Birchwood Elementary School, and enrollment for this class is 142.

Total enrollment for the Greater Anchorage Borough now stands at 26,928 students.

CHUGIAK ELEM. TEACHING STAFF

OLD CHUGIAK: Two new teachers have joined the staff at Chugiak Elementary this year. They are Lynda Lee Nichols, whose husband, Nels, is football coach at Chugiak High School, and Annabelle Lee Hansen, whose husband is stationed at Ft. Richardson.

Mrs. Nichols majored in social sciences at Central Michigan University with a BS in education. Both she and her husband enjoy skiing. Lynda also plays the guitar and piano. She will be teaching 2nd grade.

Mrs. Hansen has a BA in Home Economics from Washington State University. She is presently going to the University of Alaska Community College and plans on completing her Master's Degree in Elementary Education in the spring. She is teaching first grade.

The complete line-up at Chugiak Elementary is as follows: Emerson Sortore, Principal; Jane Montgomery, Secretary; Geraldine Olson, Kindergarten; Ora Jean Banks, 1st grade; Annabelle Hansen, 1st grade; Lynda Nichols, 2nd grade; Katherine 2nd 3rd combo; Evelyn Lee, 3rd grade; Wendell Lane, 4th grade; Richard Ruberg, 5th grade; Paul Kerr 6th grade and Dorothy Dndd Special Education.

CHS FOOTBALL GAMES CHANGED TO SATURDAY

BIRCHWOOD: A change in the scheduling of all Chugiak High School football games was announced this week by CHS football coach Nels Nichols.

All games will be played on Saturday morning at 10:00am and on the field of the school Chugiak is playing against.

The first game will be against Dimond High as originally scheduled, but will be this Saturday, September 14th at 10:00am at Dimond.

Coach Nichols urges all Mustang fans to come out and give the team a good sendoff.

STILL HEAD START OPENINGS

CHUGIAK: Kathy Walker, Community Aide for the OEO in the Greater Chugiak Area, advises that there are still several openings in the Winter Head Start program.

This is for children who are four years old.

Anyone wishing more information is asked to call the Chugiak Opportunity Center at 688-2457.

NOT MUCH HOPE FOR GIRL SCOUTS

CHUGIAK: Last month little girls registering for school in the Greater Chugiak Area were asked to sign up if they were interested in joining a Girl Scout or Brownie troop.

Many eager girls put their names of the sign-up sheets, but it looks like they may not be able to be scouts after all. The reason? . . . the same old one. Not enough adults interested in being scout leaders.

The few ladies who are presently engaged in Girl Scout work are hoping that all these youngsters will not have to be disappointed. They are appealing to mothers to give a few hours a week to leading a scout troop.

No previous Girl Scout leadership is necessary, a training class for leaders will be scheduled, and will even be held in this area to save that long drive to town.

Anyone who can spare these few hours for some wonderful and rewarding experiences is asked to call local Girl Scout Chairman, Eloise Thomas at 694-2304, she will be glad to hear from you.

END OF MEASLES SEEN

Measles will be eradicated in 11 states and the District of Columbia this year, according to projections by James E. Bowes, MD, MPH, released recently in Indianapolis.

Dr. Bowes, director of medical services at Pitman-Moore Division of The Dow Chemical Company, based his projections on the number of measles cases reported at mid-year by the U.S. Public Health Service.

The states that will have eradicated measles in 1968, he said, are: Alaska, Arkansas, Georgia, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, Nevada, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, and Vermont.

Of these, Georgia and Louisiana have a projected incidence of only 0.1 cases per 100,000 residents. States in which measles has not been eradicated have incidences ranging as high as 30.8 for Wisconsin and 48.2 for Texas.

An incidence of 1.6 or fewer cases per 100,000 population was Dr. Bowes' criterion for determining measles eradication. But one state (Pennsylvania) which has an incidence of 1.6 per 100,000 was not considered measles-free, he explained, because its population density is high and susceptible persons may therefore be exposed more easily to the limited number of cases.

Nevada, the only other state with an incidence of 1.6 per 100,000, he deemed measles-free because susceptible persons in its sparsely settled population would be less likely to come in contact with a measles case.

The decline in measles is reflected in statistics for the U.S. as a whole. The incidence nationwide has dropped from 104.2 cases per 100,000 population in 1966 to about 11.3 per 100,000 projected for 1968.

The decline of what has traditionally been one of the most dangerous childhood diseases has been attributed to large-scale prevention programs leading to vaccination of susceptible children. Mass programs have been greatly facilitated by use of the single-shot Schwarz-strain measles vaccine, developed by Dr. Anton J. F. Schwarz, which can be administered with a jet injector as well as a conventional syringe.

CHUGIAK ELEMENTARY PTA TO MEET

OLD CHUGIAK: The first meeting for of the Chugiak Elementary School PTA will be held on Monday, September 23rd, it was announced today.

The meeting is being held one week later than originally scheduled as it was felt it would be more convenient to the parents not to have it so soon after the start of school.

Subsequent meeting will be held on the 3rd Monday of the month to conform with borough policy.

The meeting starts at 7:30pm and is held in the multi-purpose room.

Tell it to Martha

BY: MARTHA COUNCIL

Dear Martha,

A couple of weeks ago you had a letter from a guy who made a deal with his wife if she would let her hair grow. My wife has been trying to get me to make a deal with her.

I don't have the best teeth in the world, but they are all mine. I had a couple knocked out a few years ago in a car wreck, and a few of the others are kind of rotten, but they don't ache and I don't have any trouble eating anything I want to.

My wife has been after me to get them pulled and get a set of false ones. She has tried everything in the book to talk me into it. She even offered to make any changes in herself if I would do it. I told her that there wasn't anything about her I would change, she was just fine the way she was.

Then a couple of months ago she shows up with a cigarette in her mouth. I nearly fell over, as we have been married over twenty years, and I have never seen her take a smoke in all this time. She tells me that if I get my teeth she will give up smoking. Now this is what I call dirty pool. She knows how I feel about women smoking.

Do you think this is fair of her to try to pressure me into doing something I don't think is necessary? I don't worry about how I look. I'm just an ordinary working slob and nobody cares if my smile is beautiful. How should I handle this thing?

Smiley

Dear Smiley,

I think your wife's plan to get you to change your mind is childish, but then so is your attitude about dental work.

You are wrong when you say nobody cares if your smile is beautiful....apparently your wife cares a great deal.

I'll bet you haven't been to see a dentist in years. For your own sake, you should go. Bad teeth can affect your entire health. Also, you will probably find out that you don't need a complete set of dentures to take care of your problem. More than likely some fillings and a bridge to take care of the missing teeth are all you need to make your smile beautiful and to give your wife a reason to give up her recently acquired vice.

Sincerely,

Martha Council

WATERFOWL SEASON REGS. TOLD

With the general waterfowl season opening Sept. 1, hunters are reminded that shooting hours are based on Standard rather than Daylight Time.

Bill Bellingar, senior protection officer with the Alaska department of fish and game, reports that shooting will only be allowed from one half hour before sunrise to sunset. "During the early part of the season hunters will have more than 13 hours of legal shooting per day," Bellingar said. "So there is no valid reason for shooting either before or after legal hours." Also, birds are often wounded and lost when hunters attempt to shoot during hours of darkness or in marginal light conditions.

Bellingar cautioned that all hunters should refer to the 1968 Alaska Waterfowl Regulations and sunrise and sunset time tables before going afield for ducks and geese. These will be available at all license vendors and fish and game offices as soon as they arrive from the printer. Federal regulations are now available at local post offices, Bellingar continued.

Protection officers will be in the field throughout the waterfowl season to stress safe and legal hunting.

RECORD ENROLLMENT AT U OF A

Change is continuous and expected, especially on a university campus. But few could have predicted the dramatic change in spirit that an estimated 2,000 students will find at the University of Alaska when fall semester registration begins on Saturday, Sept. 7.

A year ago, UA President William R. Wood was announcing that registration and classes would begin as scheduled despite a devastating flood two weeks earlier that had driven 7,000 refugees to shelter on the university campus. There was a prevailing doubt as to whether the hard-hit Fairbanks area could even rebound from economic disaster.

Today, Dr. Wood is predicting a record 1968-69 student enrollment as the flood becomes history and North Slope oil discoveries have spurred an excitement here that rivals the fever of the goldrush era.

"The university should again show its 12 per cent annual growth in students," Dr. Wood said. "This will mean more than 2,000 students, compared to last fall's 1,847."

Dr. Wood also expects a sharp upturn in the number of adults from this area who will register Saturday for interest courses. Enrollment a year ago was severely affected by post-flood clean-up that kept housewives at home and husbands working long hours rather than attending evening classes on campus.

Recruiting of new faculty and staff for this academic year was termed "very successful" by Dr. Wood, who said, "A number of highly qualified new personnel will be with us this fall and several key promotions have moved talented men to positions of greater responsibility."

Prospects are good that student housing on campus will meet this fall's demand, Dr. Wood indicated. "Our Office of Student Housing just reported an increase in applications for rooms in residence halls, but we anticipate having enough space to accommodate all who require it."

This summer, the university began a $17.5-million construction program on its main campus here that includes a residence hall to serve 322 students.

Dr. Wood said the University Commons, which serves principally as a student dining facility, will be in operation Sunday, Sept. 8, when students are scheduled to be served their first meal. A fire gutted the Commons last spring, causing an estimated $500,000 damage.

TROOPERS INVESTIGATE PURSE THEFT

EAGLE RIVER: Alaska State Troopers are investigating the theft of a woman's purse at the Barn last Saturday night.

Mrs. Janet B. Helfrich, of Anchorage said that her purse had contained approximately $45 when it was taken.

LIONS CLUB TO HOLD AUCTION

EAGLE RIVER: The Eagle River Lions Club are asking for donations of miscellaneous items for an auction which they plan to hold in the near future.

The Lions will accept anything with the exception of clothing. Proceeds from the auction will be used for the club's "Boys and Girls Committee."

Tom Slander, spokesman for the Lions said that to date they have had donations of such items as bedroom furniture, a washer-dryer combination, kitchen appliances etc.

Anyone wishing to have their donations picked-up is asked to call Conrad Kruse at 688-2732, Jim Pemberton at 694-2558 or Far North Service, at 694-2177 and ask for Leon or Tom.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

Our District is at a very crucial part of its development. By "Our District" I mean the Eagle River, Chugliak, Peters Creek and Birchwood areas. It is time that we all realized that this is ONE area. There is no room for petty antagonism between our own groups. They have taken the right to elect our own representative to the School Board so that more than ever now we must work together to elect a representative that will attend all meetings and not be afraid to express the opinions and desires of our District.

We had Virgil Flint as our representative and Mr. Flint was dropped from the School Board for non-attendance at meetings. Last year we elected another local man, Emil Notti, and I understand that the only meeting he attended was the one when the new Board members were seated. We haven't done very well in our previous choices. We have survived and progressed only through the action of interested citizens who have demanded that they be heard.

During the last series of Public Meetings on the loss of a new High School as the Military didn't want to bus their students this far, (just as we refuse to bus our students to Anchorage again) we did win a promise from the School Board that the upgrading of Chugliak High School would have top priority over all building programs. During these Public Meetings and discussions we had one man who was very much in favor of turning our High School into a Junior High and bussing out students to a new High School to be built for the Military bases. He was emphatically VOTED DOWN . . . so he then wrote a letter to the Editor of an Anchorage newspaper (which was published) in which he stated that he couldn't understand how or why the people of Anchorage . . . nued to allow this area to have a High School. The gentleman who wrote this letter was CONRAD KRUSE, the present candidate for one of the openings on the School Board. Along with the delays and stalls that we are getting on the upgrading of Chugliak High School I am wondering just who is in back of having Mr. Kruse run for this office just when his views are so agreeable with those of the City of Anchorage.

We can't afford to go back five years in our school development. We are a growing area. We don't want to go back to having our students get up at five in the morning and get home at six at night. We are might proud of the High School, the students and the staff which are a major part of our community. I can't understand how a man with so little pride in his community, a man who doesn't believe that we should even have a High School in this area can have the nerve to turn around and ask the taxpayers and parents to support him in gaining an office where he can work to deprive them of a school that they have fought so hard to get and to keep. Conrad Kruse is saying that he is right and the rest of us are wrong. He is asking us to give up the gains of the last five years and go back with him.

We may not have chosen too wisely in the past, but I am afraid that Mr. Kruse is asking just a little too much when he asks to represent this area in a full retreat.

William R. Watkins

MYSTERY SIGNS EXPLAINED

CHUGLIAK: Have you been wondering what was the significance of those mysterious little arrows that sprung up on metal posts along the Glenn Highway?

Some point North.....some point South . . . some posts even have two arrows one pointing North and one pointing South!

Mr. Jack Morrow, of the Department of Highways says there is really no mystery. They are there to indicate where the "no-passing" lines should be painted down the center of the highway. This way it is not necessary to go out and measure every time the striping crews have to renew the worn out paint.

LADIES CLUB TO DISCUSS FOSTER PARENT PLAN

PETERS CREEK: The regular meeting of the Chugliak Ladies Club will be held this Thursday, September 12th, at 7:30pm at the home of Rusty Bellringer on Mt. Eklutna Dr. in Peters Creek.

Members will discuss the possibility of the club adopting a child under the Foster Parents Plan. All members are urged to attend.

MC KINLEY PARK TO CLOSE

Park Superintendent George A. Hall has announced the closing dates for park facilities.

The McKinley Park Hotel and associated gas station and store will close at the end of business on Sept. 7. Water lines in campgrounds will be drained against frost on about Sept. 4, but campgrounds will remain open until the road is closed.

A special closure of the park road beyond Savage River will be in effect from 8 a.m. Sept. 10 to 5 p.m., Sept. 11, for application of a dust palliative.

The park road will remain open to traffic until the first snow falls. After Sept. 15, however, park travel will be permitted on a carefully monitored basis, to avoid the possibility of visitors being trapped unnoticed far back in the park. Park visitors will be admitted on a check out-check in basis between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily until snow makes the road impassable, probably before the end of September. Daily ranger patrols will be maintained for assistance to visitors until the final closure.

METHODIST SUNDAY SERVICE CANCELLED

OLD CHUGIAK: Regular Sunday services at the United Methodist Church of Chugiak have been cancelled for this Sunday, September 15th.

Instead all members of the local church will have the opportunity to go to Anchorage and meet the new Bishop of the Portland Area, Bishop Everett Palmer, who is making his first visit to Alaska. Bishop Palmer will preach at the First United Methodist Church at 9:30am and at the Anchor Park United Methodist Church at 11:00am.

Anyone needing transportation is asked to check with Pastor John Shaffer at 694-2318 or 688-2353.

ALTAR SOCIETY PLANS DINNER

FIRE LAKE: There will be a regular meeting of St. Andrew's Altar Society on Monday, September 16th, at 6:30pm.

The meeting will be held at the Monestary of the Precious Blood at Fire Lake, and is to be a pot-luck dinner with the sisters.

Each lady is asked to bring one covered dish and to attach the recipe to it. No special menu is planned. "We'll let it all be a surprise."

All the ladies of the parish are invited to attend. A business meeting will follow immediately after the dinner.

GOVERNOR APPEALS FOR PAYMENTS

Gov. Walter J. Hickel said recently he has appealed to Alaska's congressional delegation "to do everything it possibly can" to keep Title XV unemployment insurance paychecks coming in next winter for the state's ex-federal workers and ex-servicemen.

The Governor has been advised by the federal Bureau of Employment Security of the U. S. Department of Labor that benefit payments "would possibly be suspended in February for lack of funds.

Last spring, some 1,081 Alaska claimants received delayed payments because of fund shortages in Washington, D.C., and Hicke said the same problem will occur again unless prompt congressional action is forthcoming.

During fiscal 1968, the Governor said, some 28,000 weekly claims were paid out in Alaska under the TITLE XV program.

BIRCHWOOD PTA TO HAVE TEA

BIRCHWOOD: There will be a meeting of the Birchwood Elementary School PTA on Monday, September 16th, starting at 7:30pm.

The program will consist mainly of a welcome tea for all the teachers.

There will be a short but important business meeting. All members are urged to attend as amendments to the by-laws will be voted on.
