UNIFICATION.....GOING DOWN FOR THE COUNT?

COMMUNITY CENTER DELAYED AGAIN

ANCHORAGE: The GAAB Assembly once again failed to bring to a vote the proposed community center to be constructed in Eagle River.

The matter had been tabled last week, as some of the Assemblymen stated that the memo failed to indicate the use to which the building would be put and how it was to be financed.

When the matter was brought up at Monday's Assembly meeting, apparently a number of the Assemblymen still were not satisfied with the report on the project and requested that it again be postponed pending a work session on the subject.

Ed Willis, local borough assemblyman has scheduled a work session for this Thursday, March 23rd, at which time he hopes to be able to answer all their questions.

CHAMBER BOARD ARE GUESTS OF GAS CO.

ANCHORAGE: The Board of Directors of the local Chamber of Commerce were the guests of the Anchorage Natural Gas Company at their Anchorage offices.

The Chamber members were treated to a dinner (cooked on Natural Gas, of course), followed by a demonstration which compared the features of cooking with Natural Gas and cooking with electricity.

The Chamber Board held a short business meeting at the conclusion of the evening in the Natural Gas Co. conference room.

MR. VAN NORTWICK, OF ANCHORAGE NATURAL GAS, COMPARES COOKING WITH GAS AND WITH ELECTRICITY IN AN INTERESTING DEMONSTRATION BEFORE

ANCHORAGE: The latest Unification proposal, while not officially dead, may very well be breathing it's last, following last Monday's Borough Assembly meeting.

However, although the opponents of the measure feel that the last delaying tactic may have succeeded in preventing the matter to be voted on in time to be presented to the legislature this year, still the measure has gone down for the count before only to be saved by the bell.

Parliamentary footwork last Monday night on the part of Assemblyman Marsh and Ed Willis, ended up with Willis getting Assembly action delayed for one more week.

Marsh attempted to present a motion to renew the issue at the outset of Monday's meeting. This was countered by Willis who pointed out that this would necessitate a change from the published agenda. When the motion failed to get the necessary number of votes to have the agenda changed, it was left to be brought up as the last item that evening.

time he hopes to be able to answer all their questions.

FIRE CO. GETS NEW AMBULANCE

CHUGIAK: The Chuglak Volunteer Fire Company will be putting a new 1972 Chevrolet ambulance into service some time next week, according to Robert Kallenberg, Chairman for the Board of Supervisors for the Chuglak Fire Service District.

Kallenberg has just returned from Portland Oregon where he picked up the ambulance. He drove the vehicle to Seattle, placed it aboard the ferry to Haines and then drove the vehicle to Anchorage.

The ambulance is presently being readied for service at the borough Fire Department, where red lights and siren are being installed.

While this vehicle will be used exclusively by the Chuglak Volunteer Fire Company, it was not purchased with local Fire Service District Tax dollars, but out of the Borough's General Fund.

This brings the number of ambulances in the Chuglak District to 3, according to Kallenberg.

conclusion of the evening in the Natural Gas Co. conference room.

FUNERAL FOR MRS. HERBERT

EAGLE RIVER: A funeral Mass was held last Saturday, March 18th at 10am for Mrs. Jo Ann Herbert of Easy Street in Eagle River.

Officiating at St. Andrew's Catholic Church, was Father Joseph E. Shirey, of St. Andrews.

Mrs. Herbert died on March 15, 1972. She was age 41 at the time.

She was born on April 17, 1930, at Herrick South Dakota. She has a 12 year resident of Alaska, 11 in Eagle River.

She is survived by her husband, Lester, 2 sons, Fred and Brian, 4 daughters, Jo Anen, Leslie, Dana and Deldre, her parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Horst of Rapid City S.D, 1 brother, Thomas Horst, of Schaumberg, Ill; two sisters, Mrs. Jeane Hawkins of Jillette Wyoming and Elaine (last name and address unknown).

She was a member of St. Andrews Catholic Church in Eagle River, and of St. Andrew's Altar Society. Interment was at Angeles Memorial Park in Anchorage.

PTA TO PLEAD FOR CHANGE IN SCHOOL SITE

OLD CHUGIAK: The Chuglak Elementary School PTA will meet with the GAAB School Board to plea for a new site for the proposed replacement building for the school.

A committee of three PTA members, the school principal and the President of the PTA will meet today, Wednesday, at 12:30pm with the school board and attempt to bring about the proposed change.

The alternate site, which is proposed by the PTA is located at the Chuglak Carnival grounds, at Mile 21 on the Old Glenn Highway.

The Chuglak Benefit Association, who administers the Carnival Ground property for the residents of the Greater Chuglak Area, has proposed to trade 14 acres of Carnival Ground property straight across for the 14 acres on which the present Chuglak Elementary School is located.

The Carnival Ground property reportedly as adequate water supply, one of the reasons for proposing the change is the lack of sufficient water to supply the needs of the school at the present site.

At a regular meeting of the PTA last Monday, Dean Blount, of the Borough Planning Department was present to speak to the membership on the proposed change.

Blount has repeatedly gone on the record as disapproving the Carnival Ground site as suitable for locating a school.

PTA spokesmen have pointed out that the reasons he gives for not approving the site lead them to believe that he be of votes to have the agenda changed, it was left to be brought up as the last item that evening.

Marsh introduced a memo written by Assemblyman Dick Silberer, which would provide government to the areas which would have been excluded if Service Area 23 chose to unify as a 1st class home rule borough. This would permit the outside areas to continue to exist as a second class borough with the power to contract with the new government for services.

The motion to renew was passed by a vote of 7 to 3; however, Assemblyman Lang who had voted on the prevailing side, give notice of reconsideration to be spread upon the record. This meant that the motion could not be considered until the next Assembly meeting.

Time appears to be running out, however, and the last parliamentary ploy may have been all that was needed to delay the matter past the point where it be brought before the legislature this session.

EKLUTNA MAN IS INJURED

EKLUTNA: John Chilligan of Eklutna Village was transported to the ANS Hospital by the Chuglak Volunteer Fire Company ambulance

Chilligan was suffering from facial cuts and bruises.

CHUGIAK IS TWENTY FIVE

By: Leslie F. Fetrow

CHAPTER III: In the early days of Chugiak History, travel on the Glenn Highway sometimes known as the Palmer Highway, was extremely light.

Parks were contemplating a business at what was then known as Parksville and is now the location of Wallace Construction Co. They conducted a traffic survey to determine the feasibility of their plan.

During a nice warm Sunday in spring they counted as high as twenty cars in one hour. This, I believe was on a holiday.

During the cold winter days one did not pass a stalled car on the highway, but stopped with an offer of help. The unfortunate one might be your neighbor, and he might be there without help for more than an hour.

In the winter, the narrow trail, optimistically called a highway, was as slick as it is now, without the advantage, most of the time of gravel.

In the spring it was plagued by "frost boils", great puddles of soupy mud, with no apparent bottom.

One of the largest of these which appeared every year, was at Mile 18, right in front of what was then the Gib Reid residence.

One simply hit these full force and with the prayer that they would be able to bet through without hanging up. To stop or stall was simply to sit and wait for someone with a long tow line to come along and snake one out.

Summer meant clouds of choking dust. It was always advisable to space driving so that two cars were not traveling together.

A great aid to travelers through Chugiak were the trucks of Mielke Way and Matanuska Mald. Drivers of these trucks always stopped to offer assistance if needed.

One extremely windy, slippery night (familiar?) a Matanuska Mald truck spend over an hour helping cars up Fire Lake Hill.

Territorial Police also aided those in distress.

There were only two patrolmen assigned to the Anchorage-Palmer Patrol, so we didn't see them very often, but they were there, as now, always ready to help.

is totally unfamiliar with the location.

Blount has described the site as being adjoining to two heavily traveled main highways. It was pointed out to him that the Carnival Grounds involves considerable acreage, and that the portion which is located along the New Glenn Highway was not that which CBA proposed for the school site. The 14 acres in question is located along the Old Glenn Highway a secondary road used only by people whose homes are located in that area.

His contention that the area was located too close to business establishments was countered by pointing out that the closest business was a small gift shop, located on the New Glenn Highway and a considerable distance from the proposed site.

The PTA recommended that they would accept the School Boards recommendation for the existing site as the location of the new school only if they could assure there would be adequate water and sewer facilities, a minimum of 10 acres of usable property and no less than 15 classrooms

If this could not be assured, then they would hold out for a 15 classroom building to be constructed at the Carnival Ground site.

The office is located at Mile 13 1/2 on the Old Glenn Highway next to the V.F.W. Hall in Eagle River.

First prize will be a self-cleaning Caloric gas range valued at $512. Second prize is a high-recovery 50 gallon Day and Night water heater, valued at $153. The third registration drawn will be awarded a Caloric cart-model outdoor gas barbecue grille normally sold at $118.

Jenny Green, home economist for the company, will be demonstrating use of these door prizes while she prepares some of her delightful recipes on the grill and range.
