LOCAL YOUTH ELIGIBLE FOR JOB TRAINING PROGRAM

ANCHORAGE: Youths age 16 through 21 from the Greater Chugiak Area are eligible to participate in a job training program designed for young men and women who want a good job but do not have the training or education to get it.

Virginia Gallant, Acting Manager of the Alaska State Employment Center at 524 West 6th Avenue in Anchorage has announced that there are immediate openings for CHUGIAK: The Anchorage strict Republican Committee and the Matanuska-Sitka District Republican Committee agreed recently at the six precincts comprising the Greater Chugiak area are a political unit and could be organized as a separate district, and recommended the formation of this district. The Southcentral Committee has approved the recommendation.

An organizational meeting is scheduled for Sunday, October 21, at 5:00pm in the Chugiak-Eagle River Library in the Eagle River Shopping Center.

All Republicans are urged to attend this meeting.

The chairman of the district will have a seat on the Republican State Central Committee, and the district will have its proportional share of delegates to the Republican State Convention.

This will assure local Republicans of a voice in Republican Party politics in Alaska.

"Good Government re-

age has announced that there are immediate openings for youths in the program described.

Learning to speak, read and write better is part of the training as well as developing skills and work habits needed to get and keep a job with good pay.

The training is especially helpful for youth who have dropped out of school and cannot find a good job, however, high school graduates are also eligible.

Quite a large number of youth have dropped out of school to help support their families and for many other reasons. If the family does not have enough money to help train them for a job, this training can help.

Mrs. Gallant, will be given outside Alaska in facilities located in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, so that trainees will not be too great a distance from Alaska. Well qualified instructors guide the young people into programs varying from 6 months up to 2 years in length, that are suited to their abilities and interests. Specialized training is offered in a number of fields, including automotive mechanics, selling business machines, transportation and heavy equipment operations, food services, construction and metal trades and health services.

At some of the facilities, pre-apprenticeship training in heavy equipment and other construction trades (carpentry, painting, plastering

Tell it to Martha

BY: MARTHA COUNCIL

Dear Martha,

You could win the gratitude of the world if you could come up with some way to keep people from stealing ball-point pens.

I know that most of them are free advertising items, and maybe not worth much, but it really gripes me to have someone ask to borrow my pen and then after they are through using it, put it in their purse or pocket.

I used to buy good pens, but not any more....I know that it will only be a matter of time before someone has ripped it off.

How do you stop that sort of thing?

Penless

Dear Penless,

Ball-point pens have become so popular and commonplace that most people regard them as worth little more than a pencil.

The next time someone unthinkingly puts your pen in his pocket, just ask "May I please have my pen back?"

They will usually apologize and quickly return it with no hard feelings.

Sincerely,
Martha Council

PLASTIC TIRE CHAINS MAY REPLACE STUDS

JUNEAU: In a continuing search to improve vehicle traction during winter driving, the Alaska Department of Highways has turned to space age plastics in hopes of finding improved traction aids that are virtually harmless to paved asphalt roadways and concrete bridge decks.

The Highway Department has received 100 sets of a newly developed tire traction aid to be tested on patrol cars of the Alaska State Troopers and various State and municipal vehicles throughout the State.

The physical appearance of the newly developed chains resemble a set of normal steel tire chains, except they are composed of a plastic material called "elastomer", rather than steel. This material is much harder than rubber and appears to be very durable.

Claims by the manufacturer state they will last up to 30 times longer than steel chains and will provide up to 71% more starting traction in snow than snow tires.

In initial tests by the Highway Department the newly developed elastomeric chains showed some immediate advantages over regular chains. They could be driven on bare pavement roads at speeds of 60 mph with little or no vibration. Application was completed about two minutes per tire.

Total weight of both chains is less than two pounds and they can be mounted and left on regular tread highway tires regardless of road conditions.

The principle behind the elastomeric chain is that the elastomeric band lies flat against the tire tread, except when the tire starts to slip. This causes the band to turn sideways, forming a scoop to dig into the snow or rough ice. They return to the flat position when the tire stops spinning. Elastomeric chains, like steel chains, need to be kept snug at all times to avoid excessive wear and heat build up.

Testing of the new chains will continue through the winter season with results of the tests to be made public upon completion of the testing.

ICY ROAD IS BLAMED FOR ACCIDENT

EAGLE RIVER: Ice on the road was blamed for a two car accident which took place last Friday, October 12th at mile 1 on the Eagle River Road.

According to the Alaska State Troopers, Virginia Mae Steward, of Caribou St. skidded on the ice, and went into the ditch with half of her 1967 Impala extending onto the road.

The other driver, Nancy Susan Caruthers, of Whirlaway Road did not see the car in time, and collided with the left rear fender.

Damage to the Steward car was estimated at $80. The 1971 Volkswagon driven by Ms. Caruthers sustained an estimated $320 damage. No citations were given by the Alaska State Troopers.

BAHA'IS TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY OF FOUNDER

CHUGIAK: Every religion, world-wide celebrates the anniversary of the birth of its Founder. So do the Baha'is.

However, the Baha'i Faith has a distinctive position in the annals of human history and in fulfillment of ancient prophecies; that is two Prophets of God contributing to its establishment, one as its Herald, and one as its Founder.

On October 20, the Baha'i Communities of Chugiak and Eagle River will join fellow Baha'is of the world over in commemorating the anniversary of the birth of its Herald, The Bab.

Born in 1819 in Shiraz, Iran the Bab, which means "The Gate" when translated, proclaimed His Cause in 1844. Because His Teachings, He and 20,000 of His followers were persecuted, culminating in His own martyrdom in Tabriz, Iran in 1950.

The observance of this Holy Day will be held Friday evening, October 19, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Mark at 8pm.

Prayers and stories of the Bab will be shared.

On Saturday, October 20, the children will join Palmer and Anchorage youth for a swim party at West High pool at 3pm. Stories and a weiner roast will be enjoyed at 5:00pm at the Matthew Kaszab Institute in Anchorage.

GRAVEL WINS SOCIAL SECURITY EXEMPTION FOR PIONEER BONUS

WASH., D.C: Senator Mike Gravel today won approval by the Senate Finance Committee on which he serves, of an exemption of the Alaska Pioneers' longevity bonus from Social Security income supplement requirements.

The exemption means that Social Security in Alaska receiving the longevity bonus, will not have that bonus counted as supplemental income, thereby reducing their normal supplemental Social Security payments.

This provision, advanced by Senator Gravel during a meeting of the Senate Finance Committee today, will now be incorporated into a Child Support Bill, containing other Social Security amendments that will be reported to the Senate by the panel. This bill contains a seven percent Social Security cost of living increase to take effect upon enactment.

"The fact that the provision will be contained in the Committee bill makes it almost certain to survive on the Senate floor and later in Conference Committee with the House of Representatives," the Senator said. "I fully expect this provision to become law during this session of Congress."

Last year the Alaska Legislature established the as income, meaning that supplemental Social Security payments must be reduced by the amount of the bonus. Senator Gravel's provision, in effect, exempts the Alaska bonus from such requirements.

"For example," Senator Gravel said, "a senior citizen receiving $250 in supplemental Social Security each month, would have faced a reduction to $150 a month when he received his $100 longevity bonus. This means that he would have gained nothing. The exemption guarantees that he will continue to get his $250 each month, plus his longevity bonus, for a total of $350."

"In other circumstances, where an individual was getting $100 per month or less, he would have lost all his supplement along with his eligibility for Medicare and food stamps when he received his bonus. The new provision means that he will get his payment, his benefits and his bonus," the Senator said.

"This exemption now removes any doubt that Alaska's senior citizens will receive the economic relief that the State intended when the longevity bonus was established", he said.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Not Enough Hours?
"There are not enough hours in the day; not enough days in the week; I'm always rushing." How often we hear complaints about lack of time. Yet each minute and each day is fresh and new, and we can use it to our advantage. Each new moment can provide a lesson in pacing our lives in order to fully live and appreciate life.
Lack of understanding of the principles of pacing is a major reason for rushing and bustling. Once we realize there is a time and a place for everything, the principles seem clearer. There is a time for work, a time for prayer, and a time to appreciate the joys of the creations of God. When was the last time you felt the rustle of the wind and wondered where it's been and where it's going? When was the last time you paused to smell a flower, or stood in awe watching the sun rise? When was the last time you renewed your soul in appreciation of God's creation?
Pacing and appreciation can add so much to each day. Why not use your days more wisely?

THIS IS HOT LUNCH WEEK

ANCHORAGE: Patents all through the Anchorage Borough School District have been issued a special invitation to dine with their children during National School Lunch week, October 15 through 19.

Wednesday, October 17th, is designated National School Lunch Day and some 27 million children in the U.S. will be nourished on the same menu: barbeque beef on a bun, buttered whole worn, popeye salad, yellow cake with cherry sauce and milk. This menu was planned by the seven national regional directors, of which Anchorage School District Foods director, Larry Baker is a member.

This is the fourth consecutive year for the "universal menu." The previous years featured pizza, fried chicken and hamburgers. In Anchorage, an anticipated 16,000 students will eat hot lunch that day and the lunch room personnel also expect to serve numerous parents.

Menus for the rest of the week are also regular fare with such standard main dishes as hot dogs, cheeseburgers, spaghetti and fish-wiches.

Parents are encouraged to accompany their children to lunch one day during the week, not only to sample the balanced meals, but also to observe their children's lunchtime routine. Personnel are asked that parents sent a note with their children on the day before they plan to attend so that cooks can prepare adequate amounts of food. Adult meals are 90 cents with milk.

THREE MOOSE HIT ON ROAD NEAR FT. RICH

FT. RICHARDSON: The section of Glenn Highway between Mile 7 and Mile 10 was the scene of three separate car-moose accidents last week according to the Alaska State Troopers.

On Wednesday, October 10 at Mile 7, John A Jackson, of Anchorage collided with a moose, with $800 damage resulting to his car.

The second accident took place on Monday, October 14 near Gate 3. The damage inflicted to the car driven by William R. Mascroella was estimated at $200.

On Monday, October 15th at Gate 1, Edward J. Bruinsma of Anchorage, sustained $150 damage after his collision with a moose.

Alaska State Troopers advise motorists to be on the alert when driving in that area, as moose are quite numerous following the recent snow which appears to have driven them down from the hills.

"The Seeds are Sown"

PLATE NO. 1 — ISSUED JANUARY 1, 1973 — In 1775, the people of the American Colonies were becoming convinced that they could no longer be subjected to the dictates of a foreign power. Patrick Henry echoed their convictions, when he issued the ultimate challenge. "GIVE ME LIBERTY OR GIVE ME DEATH"

"Independence is Declared"

PLATE NO. 2 — ISSUED JANUARY 1, 1974 — On July 4th, 1776, fifty-six courageous men voted their approval of a Declaration of Independence. This document, the most profound statement of democratic principles ever written, formally announced the dramatic birth of a new nation... The United States of America.

"A Test of Courage"

PLATE NO. 3 — ISSUED JANUARY 1, 1975 — Once declared, Independence had yet to be won. At Valley Forge during the bitter cold winter of 1777 and 1778. General George Washington and his troops placed their trust in their Creator, then successfully pitted their courage against seemingly overwhelming odds.

"Liberty is Proclaimed"

PLATE NO. 4 — ISSUED JANUARY 1, 1976 — "Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof." Two centuries later this same proclamation still rings. The Liberty Bell with its simple inscription has become one of the most cherished and revered symbols of American freedom.

EMPLOYERS OF HOUSEHOLD HELP MUST PAY SOCIAL SECURITY

ANCHORAGE: If you pay someone $50 or more for household services during any three-month calendar quarter, you must report these payments and pay social security taxes to the Internal Revenue Service.

The report for the July, August and September calendar quarter is due October 31, Mr. Charles Roddy, District Director of Internal Revenue for Alaska said today.

Often when maids or other household employees apply for benefits, it comes to light that all social security taxes have not been paid, Mr. Roddy said.

The IRS then has to secure delinquent returns from the employers, sometimes covering several years with a substantial amount of taxes penalties and interest due. This may delay and decrease benefits for the household employees, he said.

The Social Security tax on household wages is 5.85 percent for employee. When filing the quarterly report, the employer should include a check or money order for 11.70 percent of cash wages paid for the period, Mr. Roddy said.

Employers must use Form 942, Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees, to report the Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees, to report the social security taxes due. After the first one is filed, a copy of Form 942 is mailed to every employer in time for the next quarterly report. However, if you do not receive a form, you may obtain one at your local IRS office.

Among those employees considered household employees are: maids, cleaning women, cooks, governesses, housekeepers, caretakers, gardeners and chauffeurs, Mr. Roddy said.

However, no taxes are due on amounts paid to persons who are independent contractors and not household employees. This exempts payments to painters, plumbers, repairmen, carpenters and others who provide household services as independent contractors, he said.

Mr. Roddy noted that money given household employees for carfare is to be counted in total wages paid. However, car tokens, passes and the value of meals are not included in wages.

Your Social Security

Q. In a few weeks I'll be changing my job and moving from Alaska to another State. Should I notify a social security office of my new address?

A. No, not unless you're getting social security checks. Social security doesn't keep an up-to-date record of your mailing address until you start getting benefits. Regardless of where you work or live, social security keeps one central record of your earnings in work covered by social security. You use the same social security number in any State, and your number and name are enough to credit your earnings to your record no matter where you are.

Q. I'm a widow with five young children. I expected my social security checks to stop when I went to work full time, but I still get the same amount every month. Why?

A. With five young children, your family is still entitled to a maximum family benefit amount based on your husband's earnings. Since your five children continue to collect social security, your family keeps getting the same monthly amount — the family maximum — whether you work or not. Stopping your check and increasing the monthly amount paid to each of your children could cause an interruption in your family's payments. For this reason, and to save administrative costs, the checks continue in your name.
