LOCAL AREA MAY BE TAXED TO SUPPORT DUMP

LOCAL GOP DISTRICT HOLDS ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING

EAGLE RIVER: An organizational meeting for the newly organized district for the Republican Party was held last Sunday at the local public library in Eagle River.

The following were elect-

CHUGIAK: A tax, levied against the residents of the local District of the Greater Anchorage Area Borough is being considered as one of the ways to keep the public dump at Eagle River in operation.

"Butch" West, Director of the Borough Department of Public Works has been holding a series of meetings recently with the Department of Environmental Quality and local Assemblyman Ed Willis in an effort to solve the problem of how to keep the dump in operation.

The Borough inherited the dump last month when the Chugiak Benefit Association, who for the past ten years had accepted the responsibility of operating the dump bowed out of the picture.

Bernard Stewart, of Eagle River, who had an agreement with CBA to manage River.

The following were elected as temporary officers to hold office until the District Convention in December.

Chairman, Robert Kallenberg, Secretary, Mary Witman and Treasurer Ken Frome.

At this time, committees for the coming convention were chosen. Chairmen of these committees are; Forrest Doores and Ken Bell.

The convention dates have been set for December 1 and 2, to run concurrent with the Anchorage District Convention. Five districts will all be holding conventions on these days, all at the Anchorage Westward Hotel.

This is so that they can meet jointly on matters of mutual interest.

The local convention will include on the agenda the election of permanent officers for the district and the selection of a name for the district.

Forest fire prevention means being careful!

EAGLE RIVER: A 23 year old Eagle River resident was the victim of a beating and robbery, it was reported last Wednesday, October 17 to the Alaska State Troopers.

Stanton Wilber, told the Troopers that the incident took place after he had accepted a ride from the Sportsman's Too, a nightclub on Muldoon Road.

Wilber said that he was beaten by an unknown number of persons in the car and robbed of $12.00 cash. He was then thrown from the car.

The incident took place at 6:00pm, according to the Alaska State Troopers.

LOCAL TAXIDERMISTRY SHOP IS ROBBED

EAGLE RIVER: The Boondock Taxidermy and sporting goods store was the victim of a break-in and robbery last Thursday, at 2:00am, according to the Alaska State Troopers.

Taken from the store were several firearms, including three rifles and one pistol.

Also taken were six rifle scopes, three hunting knives and three down parkas. Total value estimated at $1,600.

The manner in which the store was broken into was not disclosed pending investigation by the Alaska State Troopers.

CAMPBELL SOUP LABELS DEPOSITED IN THIS BOX AT THE CHUGIAK POST OFFICE WILL HELP GET A SLIDE PROJECTOR FOR THE CHUGIAK GRADE SCHOOL.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR NEW KNIK RIVER BRIDGE

JUNEAU: Governor William A. Egan said today that the State has awarded a $2.1 million contract for the construction of a new bridge which will span the Knik River on the old Glenn Highway near Palmer.

This bridge will replace the existing bridge which was constructed sometime during the 1930's, and which has been used with restrictions for the past several years because deterioration and damage has rendered it unsafe.

The project for the new bridge has been let to Vast Inc. of Anchorage.

Nine months has been allotted for completion of the project.

GRADE SCHOOL COLLECTS SOUP LABELS

OLD CHUGIAK: Save those Campbell Soup labels! The Chugiak Elementary School is in the midst of a special collection drive aimed at obtaining greatly needed audio-visual equipment.

The program, Labels for Education, is sponsored by Campbell Soup Company and offered to elementary schools, both private and public.

"Between now and December 8, we hope to collect enough Campbell's Soup labels to earn a Kocak Carousel Slide Projector", said Mrs. Fleming, Librarian. "Our students are saving their labels, and they would appreciate it if friends of the school would do the same."

Any Campbell's Soup can label counts in the drive. More than 70 audio visual equipment items are being offered. A participating school sends in the assigned number of labels for the particular items selected.

A drop box for the labels is located in the lobby of the Chugiak Post Office for the convenience of those who may wish to leave them at that location.

ment with CBA to manage the dump announced that he was no longer authorized to collect fees and keep the refuse buried; leaving the facility wide open and unattended.

The Greater Anchorage Area Borough is now attempting to come up with a temporary method of keeping the dump open until the Solid Waste Committee completes their study and a boroughwide plan for solid waste disposal can be formulated.

Assemblyman Willis said that he is reluctant to see a tax imposed on the local residents to support a dump which would be available to residents of other areas of the borough.

A number of years ago the local residents voted down a proposition to have the dump open to the public on free dump supported by the axes of this area for just the same reason.

West had explained that the tax could be imposed without a vote of the local residents under the authority of Title 29 of the Municipal Code.

Willis said that another way of obtaining funds to operate the dump would be through shared Federal Revenue.

At present, Stewart has agreed to resume maintenance of the dump pending an interim solution of the problem by the borough.

Unless the Borough is able to come up with a workable plan to keep the dump operating, the State threatens to close it completely.

BANNED SPRAY PRODUCTS ARE LISTED HERE

WASHINGTON D.C. Last month, the Consumer Product Safety Commission, established by the Congress to reduce risks of injury associated with consumer products, listed the names of thirteen banned spray adhesives.

According to the Commission, these spray-ons are dangerous. One of their ingredients has been linked with chromosomal damage which could lead to severe multiple birth defects.

All parents should be especially careful to avoid these products. They have been removed from the market, but if an old can from last year is found among this year's school supplies, it is advised that it should be either returned to the store or thrown away WITHOUT puncturing or incinerating the container. ARR TO INCREASE FAIRBANKS FARE

ANCHORAGE: Passenger fares on the Alaska Railroad are scheduled for an increase starting January 4th, 1974, it was learned today.

Alaska Railroad Manager Walker Johnston said the train has held the line against burgeoning costs, inflation and rising labor costs for almost half a century, "but, unfortunately, we are going to have to bow to the changing times and mounting costs."

Passenger fares from Anchorage to Fairbanks will increase from about six cents a mile — the present $21.20 ticket cost, to about nine cents a mile or a $28.50 ticket, effective Jan. 4.

The present fare was established in 1926 when miners and trappers were the passenger milieu of the fledgling train. In 1931 the railroad officials got a little brave and boosted the fare to $35.60. An onslaught of criticism was leveled at the

"As far as we can determine, the decrease was brought about by the depression. The railroad felt the price was too high for the existing conditions," he said.

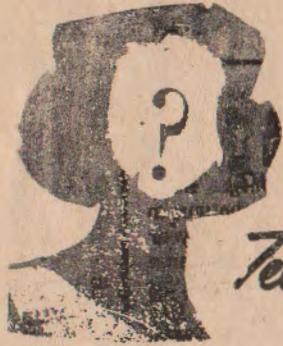

Asked if cries of rising inflation and protests about spiraling costs would make the railroad get cold feet again and reduce the price again, Johnston smiled, "No-capital N, O,-No."

Tell it to Martha

BY: MARTHA COUNCIL

Dear Martha,

My problem concerns my father-in-law. He is a very difficult man to buy anything for. He doesn't have any vices we can encourage such as drinking, smoking etc. he doesn't go in for sports, in fact the only thing he has we can call a hobby is reading.

We thought we solved the problem of gifts for him years ago by buying him gift subscriptions to magazines.

We have a special magazine for each occasion, Christmas, birthdays, fathers day etc. Each year we just renew his subscription when that occasion rolls around.

This has been going on for ten years, and we were of the opinion that it was a

Dad always mentions how much he enjoys receiving the magazines.

Last week my sister in law really shook my by saying, "It's too bad you can't use a little more imagination when you buy Dad anything. I realize that is a lot less trouble to just keep on renewing those subscriptions.

but don't you think he would appreciate something else for a change?"

Martha, do you think that we have been just taking the easy way out? If we don't send him magazines, I don't know what in the world to get him?

GIFT HORSE

Dear Gift Horse,

Your father in law isn't looking you in the mouth so why should your sister in law concern herself.

From what you tell me, you have hit on the ideal arrangement.

I fail to see why spending hours shopping for a useless nothing that the old gentleman will never use will show any more consideration that something which gives him the continued pleasure that the subscriptions give him.

Sincerely,
Martha Council

LOOK FOR NEW TYPE OF FLU THIS YEAR

ATLANTA GA: A new type of Hong Kong flu will strike this winter but a nationwide epidemic is not expected. Center of Disease Control says.

"A new type B influenza virus has been isolated, the Hong Kong 572," Dr. Robert Rubin, an epidemiologist, said Thursday.

There are two types of influenza virus - A and B. Hong Kong flu Type-A struck in the winter of 1968-69 and was blamed for killing 27,900 Americans and leaving hundreds of thousands memorably ill. The new Type B Hong Kong flu has been occurring in Japan, Australia and England, said Rubin.

"It's probable that this virus will become prevalent in the United States this winter," he said, adding the center cannot predict how widespread the new flu will be.

Rubin said London Flu is more likely to occur than the new strain of Hong Kong influenza. The London flu, Type A, occurred in this country last year.

There are two theories as to how a new strain appears. One is that it simply is a variation in an existing virus. The other is that it results from a recombination or genetic interchange between a human type of virus and one that affects animals or birds.

When a different flu virus comes along, previous vaccines usually do not work against it. Another CDC spokesman said there would may be two different vaccines this winter, one for the Hong Kong flu and another for the London flu.

Although flu vaccines are not completely effective, immunization is suggested for high-risk individuals.

The spokesman said most of the deaths in 1968-69 occurred among the elderly or chronically ill.

HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL IS PLANNED FOR CHUGIAK SCHOOL

There will be a nominal charge of 10¢ for each event.

Donations are being asked for cakes and individually wrapped bags of candy.

Candy may be left at the school on Tuesday, October 30th. Cakes will be accepted on Wednesday, October 31st.

SERVICES HELD FOR TED SCHMIDKE

PALMER: Funeral services were held on Monday at Green's Palmer Funeral Chapel for Theodore O. Schmidtke age 45, who was found dead last Thursday, the victim of an apparent drowning.

Rev. Walter R. Biel, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church here, will officiate. Burial will be in Morristown, Minn.

A public visitation is scheduled from 4 to 7 p.m. tomorrow at the chapel.

The family asked that in lieu of flowers, memorials be sent to St. John's Lutheran Church Palmer.

Schmidtke was publisher of The Frontiersman, a weekly newspaper in Palmer. The manager of the paper, Doug Haugom, said this morning the firm was closed Friday, but he presumed the paper would continue publication.

Haugom, who has been with the paper since 1964, said relatives arriving for the funeral this weekend would make a decision regarding the future of the newspaper. Those involved probably will include Schmidtke's former wife, Billie Jean DeJulio Schmidtke, who is now living in Winslow, Wash. They were divorced in August.

Haugom said he had planned to leave Palmer this weekend for Minnesota, where he has

NEW USES FOR PAPER TOLD BY ARMY

WASH., D.C.: As far as the Army is concerned, paper is more than something to write on or wrap with.

Paper can be eaten, used as oil cleaners and even manufactured as fireplace logs.

The Army's Natick Laboratory in Massachusetts is experimenting with paper and successfully converting it into sugar, animal food, alcohol and even clean-burning fuel.

Natick has discovered that paper can be used also to clean up oil spills amounting to 28 times its own weight.

Natick's pollution abatement program manager, Leo A. Spano, explains the procedure for producing sugar or animal food from paper. "The material is shredded into fibers, ball-milled to particle size, mixed with water, and inoculated with the enzyme cellulose."

Then, depending on variations in techniques, glucose (sugar), animal food, alcohol or other clean-burning fuels can be produced.

The process of making something useful out of discards can be used on paper, newsprint, cardboard, garbage and cotton cloth, Spano says.

Putting it another way, today's breakfast newspaper may be tomorrow's breakfast blown into the water, picked up with a regular oil skimmer, pumped with a common diaphragm pump into a tank.

The paper fibers are then pressed by a roller, extracting the oil and transforming the fibers into paper sheets that can be shredded and reused until all the oil is picked up.

When the cleanup is completed, the paper can be rolled into "logs" for use in fireplaces.

As far as other experiments to abate pollution and recycle pollutants, the Army's Natick Lab is into the environment protection business in a big way with plans for more experiments with other types of materials.

THE SPIRIT OF '76 in your own home!

Featured at right — is an artist's rendering of the entire Bicentennial Collection. These beautiful decorator plates come to you nestled in a regal blue velour liner, securely packaged in a handsome and sturdy gift box

The two alternate color selections — Antique Powder Blue and Early American Milk Glass

White provide the proud owner with an equally tasteful and attractive personal choice.

The exact concept and design of the individual plates has been irrevocably confirmed, and we assure you that the subsequent plates in this Commemorative Series will not be produced nor issued until their respective dates of release.

Featured below are the inscriptions appearing on the reverse side of the plates. In their entirety they tell in chronological order the stirring and dramatic story of the four major movements of the American Revolution.

"The Seeds are Sown"

PLATE NO. 1 — ISSUED JANUARY 1, 1973 — In 1775, the people of the American Colonies were becoming convinced that they could no longer be subjected to the dictates of a foreign power. Patrick Henry echoed their convictions, when he issued the ultimate challenge . . . "GIVE ME LIBERTY OR GIVE ME DEATH"

"Independence is Declared"

PLATE NO. 2 — ISSUED JANUARY 1, 1974 — On July 4th, 1776, fifty-six courageous men voted their approval of a Declaration of Independence. This document, the most profound statement of democratic principles ever written, formally announced the dramatic birth of a new nation . . . The United States of America.

"A Test of Courage"

PLATE NO. 3 — ISSUED JANUARY 1, 1975 — Once declared, Independence had yet to be won. At Valley Forge during the bitter cold winter of 1777 and 1778, General George Washington and his troops placed their trust in their Creator, then successfully pitted their courage against seemingly overwhelming odds.

"Liberty is Proclaimed"

PLATE NO. 4 — ISSUED JANUARY 1, 1976 — "Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof." Two centuries later this same proclamation still rings. The Liberty Bell with its simple inscription has become one of the most cherished and revered symbols of American freedom.

VETERANS TAKE OVER CEMETERY AT SITKA

SITKA: The United States Army has turned over jurisdiction of the Sitka National Cemetery to the Veterans Administration.

Members of an armed forces, as well as veterans organizations, attended the colorful change of command ceremonies held Thursday in conjunction with the annual Alaska Day celebration at Sitka.

Representing the Veterans Administration was David A. Andrus, director for Alaska. Maj. Gen. S. M. Marks, Commanding General, U.S. Army Alaska, represented the Army and placed a wreath at a grave of one of the unknown servicemen buried at the cemetery.

In accepting VA responsibility for the Branof Island site, Andrus said, "This is a beautiful cemetery. I've said to my wife on more than one occasion, 'I would like to be buried in Sitka National Cemetery.' It would be an honor. I think that speaks for itself."

Sitka National Cemetery is one of only two in the Pacific Northwest open to burial. The other is Willamette National Cemetery at Portland.

These two, and 81 others nationwide, were transferred from the Army to VA under a bill signed by President Nixon last June. They are part of

The case of the disappearing paycheck and what to do about it.

Some people learn the hard way. Paychecks disappear fast.

Day-to-day living expenses eat up a lot. And maybe part goes in the savings account for this year's vacation or another immediate goal.

A good chunk of that money seems to disappear by itself.

So it's no wonder that when it comes to long-term goals, or when an emergency comes up, there simply aren't funds to meet the need.

Unless there was a nest egg building up all that time.

A good way to build that nest egg is with U.S. Savings Bonds. The easy way to buy them is to sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work

Sitka National Cemetery was originally proposed by Gen. Jefferson C. Davis during the military occupation of the District of Alaska from 1860 to 1880. First internments were members of the occupation forces. During the years members of all the armed forces have been buried at Sitka, including John Green Brady who was governor of Alaska from 1897 to 1906.

Andrus said present projections indicate the cemetery will remain open to burial of veterans until 1993 at present rate of useage.
